4. The sole issue at the hearing shall be whether by a preponderance of the evidence the person was driving a vehicle pursuant to the circumstances set out in section 302.505. The burden of proof shall be on the state to adduce such evidence. If the department finds the affirmative of this issue, the suspension or revocation order shall be sustained. If the department finds the negative of the issue, the suspension or revocation order shall be rescinded.

5. The procedure at such hearing shall be conducted in accordance with chapter 536, with sections 302.500 to 302.540. A report certified under subsection 2 of section 302.510 shall be admissible in a like manner as a verified report as evidence of the facts stated therein and any provision of chapter 536 to the contrary shall not apply.

6. The department shall promptly notify the person of its decision including the reasons for that decision. Such notification shall include a notice advising the person that the department's decision shall be final within fifteen days from the date such notice was mailed unless the person challenges the department's decision within that time period by filing an appeal in the circuit court in the county where the arrest occurred.

7. Unless the person, within fifteen days after being notified of the department's decision, files an appeal for judicial review pursuant to section 302.535, the decision of the department shall be final.

8. The director may adopt any rules and regulations necessary to carry out the provisions of this section."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 13, Section 302.574, Line 143, by inserting after said section and line the following:

"557.520. 1. For purposes of this section, the following terms shall mean:

(1) "Failed start", any attempt to start a vehicle with a breath alcohol concentration exceeding twenty-five thousandths of one percent by weight of alcohol in a person's breath, unless a subsequent retest performed within ten minutes registers a breath alcohol concentration not exceeding twenty-five thousandths of one percent by weight of alcohol in such person's breath;

(2) "Running retest", failure to take a breath test performed by a driver upon a certified ignition interlock device at random intervals after an initial engine startup breath test and while the vehicle's motor is running or failure to take a breath retest with a breath alcohol concentration not exceeding twenty-five thousandths of one percent by weight of alcohol in such driver's breath;

(3) "Vehicle", any mechanical device on wheels, designed primarily for use, or used, on highways.

2. In any criminal case involving an intoxication-related traffic offense, the defendant may request to divert the criminal case to a driving while intoxicated (DWI) diversion program described in this section by submitting a request to the prosecuting or circuit attorney and sending a copy of such request to the department of revenue within fifteen days of his or her arrest. The prosecuting or circuit attorney may divert the criminal case to this DWI diversion program by filing a motion with the court to stay the criminal proceeding, if the defendant meets the following criteria for eligibility for entry into the DWI diversion program:

(1) The defendant has not previously pled guilty to or been convicted of an intoxication-related traffic offense in violation of section 577.010, 577.012, 577.013, 577.014, 577.015, or 577.016;

(2) The defendant is not currently enrolled in, and has not in the previous five years completed, a diversion program pursuant to this section;

(3) The defendant does not hold a commercial driver's license;

(4) The offense did not occur while operating a commercial vehicle;

(5) The offense did not result in the injury or death of another person; and

(6) The defendant did not refuse to submit to any test allowed pursuant to section 577.020.

3. Upon a motion filed by the prosecuting or circuit attorney, the court may continue a diverted case involving an intoxication-related traffic offense if the prosecuting or circuit attorney deems appropriate based on the specific situation of the defendant. The case shall be diverted for a period not to exceed twenty-four months and order the defendant to comply with terms, conditions, or requirements.

4. The DWI diversion plan shall be for a specified period and be in writing. The prosecuting or circuit attorney has the sole authority to develop diversionary program requirements, but shall require installation of an ignition interlock device for a period of not less than one year, require the defendant to participate in a victim impact panel sponsored by a nonprofit organization, and require other terms deemed necessary by the court.

5. If the court continues the criminal case to divert the defendant to this DWI diversion program, a copy of such order shall be sent to the department of revenue and, upon receipt, the department shall continue any proceeding to suspend or revoke a license pursuant to chapter 302 for a period not to exceed twenty-four months. After the defendant successfully completes the requirements of the DWI diversion program, the department shall dismiss any proceeding against the defendant.

6. The court shall notify the defendant that he or she is required to install a functioning, certified ignition interlock device on each vehicle that the defendant operates and the defendant is prohibited from operating a motor vehicle unless that vehicle is equipped with a functioning, certified ignition interlock device pursuant to this section. These requirements shall be in addition to any other provisions of this chapter or chapter 302 requiring installation and maintenance of an ignition interlock device. Any person required to use an ignition interlock device shall comply with such requirement subject to the penalties provided by section 577.599.

7. The department of revenue shall inform the defendant of the requirements of this section, including the term for which the defendant is required to have a certified ignition interlock device installed and shall notify the defendant that installation of a functioning, certified ignition interlock device on a vehicle does not allow the defendant to drive without a valid driver's license. The department shall record the mandatory use of the device for the term required and the time when the device is required to be installed pursuant to the court order. A defendant who is notified by the department shall do all of the following:

(1) Arrange for each vehicle operated by the defendant to be equipped with a functioning, certified ignition interlock device by a certified ignition interlock device provider as determined by the department of transportation; and

(2) Arrange for each vehicle with a functioning, certified ignition interlock device to be serviced by the installer at least once every thirty days for the installer to recalibrate and monitor the operation of the device.

8. The certified ignition interlock device provider shall notify the department:

(1) If the device is removed or indicates that the defendant has attempted to remove, bypass by a running retest, or tamper with the device;

(2) If the defendant fails three or more times to comply with any requirement for the maintenance or calibration of the ignition interlock device; or

(3) If the device registers a failed start.

If a defendant has any failed start that occurs within the last ninety days of the required period of installation of the ignition interlock device, the term may be extended for a period of up to ninety days.

9. After the completion of the DWI diversion program and if the defendant has complied with all the imposed terms and conditions, the court shall dismiss the criminal case against the defendant, record the dismissal, and transmit the record to the central repository upon dismissal. Any court automation system, including any pilot project, that provides public access to electronic record on the internet shall redact any personal identifying information of the defendant, including name, address, and year of birth. Such information shall be provided in a confidential filing sheet contemporaneously filed with the court or entered by the court, which shall not be subject to public inspection or availability.

10. In the event of noncompliance by the defendant with the terms and conditions of the DWI diversion program, the prosecuting or circuit attorney may file a motion to terminate the defendant from the diversion program and may recommend the prosecution of the underlying case. Upon the filing of such motion, after notice to the defendant, the court shall hold a hearing to determine by preponderance of the evidence whether the defendant has failed to comply with the terms and conditions of the diversion program. If the court finds that the defendant has not complied with the terms and conditions of the diversion program, the court may end the diversion program and set the case on the next available criminal docket.

11. Any defendant who is found guilty of any intoxication-related traffic offense and who has previously utilized the DWI diversion program pursuant to this section shall be considered a prior offender as defined in section 577.001, provided that the prior offense occurred within five years of the intoxication-related offense for which the person is charged, as provided in subsection 20 of section 577.001.

12. For the limited purpose of determining whether a defendant is a chronic, habitual, persistent, or prior offender under section 577.001, a criminal case diverted to a DWI diversion program and successfully completed by a defendant shall be counted as one intoxication-related traffic offense.

13. A certified ignition interlock device provider shall adopt a discounted fee schedule that provides for the payment of the costs of the certified ignition interlock device by offenders with an income at or below one hundred and fifty percent of the federal poverty level. A person with an income at or below one hundred and fifty percent of the federal poverty level who provides income verification shall be responsible for ten percent of the cost of the ignition interlock device. Any additional costs accrued by the person for noncompliance with program requirements are not subject to discounted rates and are the sole responsibility of the person. The certified ignition interlock provider shall verify the offender's income to determine the cost of the ignition interlock device by verifying from the offender the previous year's federal income tax return, the previous three months of weekly or monthly income statements, or a court order declaring the person with an income at or below one hundred and fifty percent of the federal poverty level.

14. Nothing in this section shall prohibit a prosecuting or circuit attorney from diverting a criminal case pursuant to section 557.014 in any criminal case involving an intoxication-related traffic offense."; and

2. The board shall submit to the administrative hearing commission supporting affidavits and certified court records, together with a complaint alleging the facts in support of the board's request for an emergency suspension or restriction of a license, and shall supply the administrative hearing commission with the last home or business addresses on file with the board for the licensee. (3) If the administrative hearing commission finds cause for discipline following an evidentiary hearing, the commission shall issue findings of fact and conclusions of law and order the emergency suspension or restriction to remain in full force and effect pending a disciplinary hearing before the board. The board shall hold a hearing following the certification of the record by the administrative hearing commission and may impose discipline otherwise authorized by state law.

5. Any action under this section shall be in addition to and not in lieu of any discipline otherwise in the board's power to impose and may be brought concurrently with other actions.

The committee may require an applicant to take and pass an examination specific to the laws of this state; or

(b) Within thirty days of receiving an application described in subdivision (1) of this subsection from a nonresident military spouse or a resident military spouse, waive any examination, educational, or experience requirements for licensure in this state for the applicant and issue such applicant a license under this subsection if such applicant otherwise meets the requirements of this subsection.

(3) (a) The committee shall not waive any examination, educational, or experience requirements for any applicant who has had his or her license revoked by an oversight body outside the state; who is currently under investigation, who has a complaint pending, or who is currently under disciplinary action, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subdivision, with an oversight body outside the state; who does not hold a license in good standing with an oversight body outside the state; who has a criminal record that would disqualify him or her for licensure in Missouri; or who does not hold a valid current license in the other jurisdiction on the date the committee receives his or her application under this subsection ~~[and section]~~.

(b) If another jurisdiction has taken disciplinary action against an applicant, the committee shall determine if the cause for the action was corrected and the matter resolved. If the matter has not been resolved by that jurisdiction, the committee may deny a license until the matter is resolved.

(4) Nothing in this subsection shall prohibit the committee from denying a license to an applicant under this subsection for any reason described in section 337.630.

(5) Any person who is licensed under the provisions of this subsection shall be subject to the committee's jurisdiction and all rules and regulations pertaining to the practice as a licensed clinical social worker in this state.

(6) This subsection shall not be construed to waive any requirement for an applicant to pay any fees.

4. The committee shall issue a license to each person who files an application and fee as required by the provisions of sections 337.600 to 337.689 and who furnishes evidence satisfactory to the committee that the applicant has complied with the provisions of subdivisions (1) to (4) of subsection 2 of this section.

337.627. 1. The committee shall promulgate rules and regulations pertaining to:

(1) The form and content of license applications required by the provisions of sections 337.600 to 337.689 and section 324.009 and the procedures for filing an application for an initial or renewal license in this state;

(2) Fees required by the provisions of sections 337.600 to 337.689 and section 324.009;

(3) The characteristics of supervised clinical experience, supervised master experience, supervised advanced macro experience, and supervised baccalaureate experience;

(6) Development of an appeal procedure for the review of decisions and rules of administrative agencies existing pursuant to the constitution or laws of this state;

(7) Establishment of a policy and procedure for reciprocity with states which do not have clinical, master, advanced macro, or baccalaureate social worker licensing laws and states whose licensing laws are not substantially similar to those of this state; ~~and~~

(8) Establishment of a policy and procedure for reviewing social work degree programs offering a master's degree in social work that have achieved candidacy or precandidacy status in the accreditation process established by the Council on Social Work Education to determine whether to recognize and approve such programs for licensure purposes; and

(9) Any other policies or procedures necessary to the fulfillment of the requirements of sections 337.600 to 337.689.

2. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2007, shall be invalid and void.

337.628. A social work degree program offering a master's degree in social work that has achieved candidacy or precandidacy status in the accreditation process established by the Council on Social Work Education shall not receive automatic recognition and approval by the committee due to that status under the rules adopted under section 337.627. Only such programs may apply to the committee for recognition and approval, and the committee shall review each application on an individualized basis to determine whether the program qualifies for recognition and approval.

(b) If another jurisdiction has taken disciplinary action against an applicant, the committee shall determine if the cause for the action was corrected and the matter resolved. If the matter has not been resolved by that jurisdiction, the committee may deny a license until the matter is resolved.

(4) Nothing in this subsection shall prohibit the committee from denying a license to an applicant under this subsection for any reason described in section 337.630.

(5) Any person who is licensed under the provisions of this subsection shall be subject to the committee's jurisdiction and all rules and regulations pertaining to the practice as a licensed master social worker in this state.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

THIRTY-NINTH DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 13, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Cathy Jo Loy.

Father God,

We come before You today with humble hearts, seeking Your guidance and wisdom as we begin this new day. We ask for Your presence to fill this chamber, and for Your Spirit to lead and inspire each of us as we work together for the good of the people of Missouri.

Grant us the clarity of thought, discernment, and the courage to make decisions that reflect justice, fairness, and compassion. May we always remember that our actions affect the lives of many, and may we approach our work with integrity, honor, and a deep sense of responsibility.

Lord, help us to respect one another, recognizing the diversity of backgrounds, experiences, and perspectives we each bring to this chamber. May we honor where each person comes from and listen with open hearts, knowing that unity is born from understanding and mutual respect.

Guide us to set aside personal agendas and work toward the common good. May we communicate with kindness, unity, and remember that our shared goal is to serve the people with fairness and grace. In all things, may Your will guide us, and may our work reflect Your love for all.

Bless the people of Missouri, Lord, that they may experience peace, prosperity, and hope through the work done in this session. We ask all of this in Your holy name.

Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirty-eighth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

CAUCUS APPROVALS

The following caucus was approved by the Chairman of the Standing Committee on Administration and Accounts:

Peggy McGaugh, Chairwoman
Administration and Accounts Committee
Missouri House of Representatives
201 W Capitol Ave.
Jefferson City, 65101

To Whom It May Concern,

My colleagues and I are writing to request official recognition and all associated perks of a House-designated Labor Caucus. The purpose of the caucus would be to enable members to more easily identify and collaborate on labor-related issues and other similar issues within the common sphere of public interests. The caucus would be bipartisan, and all the members of the proposed caucus would need to meet the following requirements:

- Be a current Representative of the Missouri State Legislature
- Be a supporter of the organized labor

Once approved, the caucus would convene and elect caucus leadership amongst its current members and other interested individuals who meet the approved membership requirement; the caucus would also adopt a set of operational procedures and bylaws at said meeting. Thank you in advance for your help with this matter as we work to advance the goals of the 103rd General Assembly of the Show-Me State.

Sincerely, the below signatories from the 103rd general assembly,

/s/ Rep. Adrian Plank, D-Chair
/s/ Rep. Mark Boyko, D-Vice Chair

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 4, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Blessed is the man where strength is in thee. (Psalm 84:5)

O God, may the spirit of wisdom and compassion move our hearts and our minds on this Mardi Gras. Day after day we pray and night after night we lift our hearts to You, knowing that often our words are without wings and that at times we say what we do not mean, yet in the midst of the pressure of troubles and problems may we feel the touch of Your healing hand, receive the guidance of Your wise providence, and become one with You in the adventure of making Missouri a better place in which to live and work.

Purge our minds of injustice, cleanse our hearts of all cynicism, remove far from us all bad moods, and make us builders of the bridges of understanding and vision which span the differences between all citizens.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Bri Ziler and Mike Ziler.

The Journal of the thirty-second day was approved as printed by the following vote:

Further amend said bill, Page 10, Section 115.240, Lines 1-7, by deleting said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"115.240. Political subdivisions or special districts shall label ballot measures relating to taxation that are submitted by such political subdivision or special district to a vote of the people numerically or alphabetically only. No such ballot measure shall be labeled in a descriptive manner aside from its numerical or alphabetical designation.

137.016. 1. As used in Section 4(b) of Article X of the Missouri Constitution, the following terms mean:

(1) "Residential property", all real property improved by a structure which is used or intended to be used for residential living by human occupants, vacant land in connection with an airport, land used as a golf course, manufactured home parks, bed and breakfast inns in which the owner resides and uses as a primary residence with six or fewer rooms for rent, and time-share units as defined in section 407.600, except to the extent such units are actually rented and subject to sales tax under subdivision (6) of subsection 1 of section 144.020, but residential property shall not include other similar facilities used primarily for transient housing. A single family home leased for a term of less than thirty consecutive days, in whole or in part, subject to sales tax under subdivision (6) of subsection 1 of section 144.020 shall be classified only as residential property. For the purposes of this section, "transient housing" means all rooms available for rent or lease for which the receipts from the rent or lease of such rooms are subject to state sales tax pursuant to subdivision (6) of subsection 1 of section 144.020; the leasing of a single family home, in whole or in part, for a term of less than thirty consecutive days does not, in itself, constitute "transient housing";

(2) "Agricultural and horticultural property", all real property used for agricultural purposes and devoted primarily to the raising and harvesting of crops; to the feeding, breeding and management of livestock which shall include breeding, showing, and boarding of horses; to dairying, or to any other combination thereof; and buildings and structures customarily associated with farming, agricultural, and horticultural uses. Agricultural and horticultural property shall also include land devoted to and qualifying for payments or other compensation under a soil conservation or agricultural assistance program under an agreement with an agency of the federal government. Agricultural and horticultural property shall further include any reliever airport. Real property classified as forest croplands shall not be agricultural or horticultural property so long as it is classified as forest croplands and shall be taxed in accordance with the laws enacted to implement Section 7 of Article X of the Missouri Constitution. Agricultural and horticultural property shall also include any sawmill or planing mill defined in the U.S. Department of Labor's Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual under Industry Group 242 with the SIC number 2421. Agricultural and horticultural property shall also include urban and community gardens. For the purposes of this section, "urban and community gardens" shall include real property cultivated by residents of a neighborhood or community for the purposes of providing agricultural products, as defined in section 262.900, for the use of residents of the neighborhood or community, and shall not include a garden intended for individual or personal use;

(3) "Utility, industrial, commercial, railroad and other real property", all real property used directly or indirectly for any commercial, mining, industrial, manufacturing, trade, professional, business, or similar purpose, including all property centrally assessed by the state tax commission but shall not include floating docks, portions of which are separately owned and the remainder of which is designated for common ownership and in which no one person or business entity owns more than five individual units. All other real property not included in the property listed in subclasses (1) and (2) of Section 4(b) of Article X of the Missouri Constitution, as such property is defined in this section, shall be deemed to be included in the term "utility, industrial, commercial, railroad and other real property".

2. Pursuant to Article X of the state Constitution, any taxing district may adjust its operating levy to recoup any loss of property tax revenue, except revenues from the surtax imposed pursuant to Article X, Subsection 2 of Section 6 of the Constitution, as the result of changing the classification of structures intended to be used for residential living by human occupants which contain five or more dwelling units if such adjustment of the levy does not exceed the highest tax rate in effect subsequent to the 1980 tax year. For purposes of this section, loss in revenue shall include the difference between the revenue that would have been collected on such property under its classification prior to enactment of this section and the amount to be collected under its classification under this section. The county assessor of each county or city not within a county shall provide information to each taxing district within its boundaries regarding the difference in assessed valuation of such property as the result of such change in classification.

3. All reclassification of property as the result of changing the classification of structures intended to be used for residential living by human occupants which contain five or more dwelling units shall apply to assessments made after December 31, 1994.

4. Where real property is used or held for use for more than one purpose and such uses result in different classifications, the county assessor shall allocate to each classification the percentage of the true value in money of the property devoted to each use; except that, where agricultural and horticultural property, as defined in this section, also contains a dwelling unit or units, the farm dwelling, appurtenant residential-related structures and up to five acres immediately surrounding such farm dwelling shall be residential property, as defined in this section, provided that the portion of property used or held for use as an urban and community garden shall not be residential property. This subsection shall not apply to any reliever airport.

5. All real property which is vacant, unused, or held for future use; which is used for a private club, a not-for-profit or other nonexempt lodge, club, business, trade, service organization, or similar entity; or for which a determination as to its classification cannot be made under the definitions set out in subsection 1 of this section, shall be classified according to its immediate most suitable economic use, which use shall be determined after consideration of:

- (1) Immediate prior use, if any, of such property;
- (2) Location of such property;
- (3) Zoning classification of such property; except that, such zoning classification shall not be considered conclusive if, upon consideration of all factors, it is determined that such zoning classification does not reflect the immediate most suitable economic use of the property;
- (4) Other legal restrictions on the use of such property;
- (5) Availability of water, electricity, gas, sewers, street lighting, and other public services for such property;
- (6) Size of such property;
- (7) Access of such property to public thoroughfares; and
- (8) Any other factors relevant to a determination of the immediate most suitable economic use of such property.

6. All lands classified as forest croplands shall not, for taxation purposes, be classified as subclass (1), subclass (2), or subclass (3) real property, as such classes are prescribed in Section 4(b) of Article X of the Missouri Constitution and defined in this section, but shall be taxed in accordance with the laws enacted to implement Section 7 of Article X of the Missouri Constitution."; and

Further amend said bill, Pages 11-20, Section 137.073, Lines 1-357, by deleting all of said section and lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"137.073. 1. As used in this section, the following terms mean:

- (1) "General reassessment", changes in value, entered in the assessor's books, of a substantial portion of the parcels of real property within a county resulting wholly or partly from reappraisal of value or other actions of the assessor or county equalization body or ordered by the state tax commission or any court;
- (2) "Tax rate", "rate", or "rate of levy", singular or plural, includes the tax rate for each purpose of taxation of property a taxing authority is authorized to levy without a vote and any tax rate authorized by election, including bond interest and sinking fund;
- (3) "Tax rate ceiling", a tax rate as revised by the taxing authority to comply with the provisions of this section or when a court has determined the tax rate; except that, other provisions of law to the contrary notwithstanding, a school district may levy the operating levy for school purposes required for the current year pursuant to subsection 2 of section 163.021, less all adjustments required pursuant to Article X, Section 22 of the Missouri Constitution, if such tax rate does not exceed the highest tax rate in effect subsequent to the 1980 tax year. This is the maximum tax rate that may be levied, unless a higher tax rate ceiling is approved by voters of the political subdivision as provided in this section;
- (4) "Tax revenue", when referring to the previous year, means the actual receipts from ad valorem levies on all classes of property, including state-assessed property, in the immediately preceding fiscal year of the political subdivision, plus an allowance for taxes billed but not collected in the fiscal year and plus an additional allowance for the revenue which would have been collected from property which was annexed by such political subdivision but which was not previously used in determining tax revenue pursuant to this section. The term "tax revenue" shall not include any receipts from ad valorem levies on any property of a railroad corporation or a public utility, as these terms are defined in section 386.020, which were assessed by the assessor of a county or city in the previous year but are assessed by the state tax commission in the current year. All school districts and those counties levying sales taxes pursuant to chapter 67 shall include in the calculation of tax revenue an amount equivalent to that by which they reduced property tax levies as a result of sales tax pursuant to section 67.505 and section 164.013 ~~for as excess home dock city or county fees as provided in subsection 4 of section 313.820~~ in the immediately preceding fiscal year but not including any amount calculated to adjust for prior years. For purposes of political subdivisions which were authorized to levy a tax in the prior year but which did not levy such tax or levied a reduced rate, the term "tax revenue", as used in relation to the revision of tax levies mandated by law, shall mean the revenues equal to the amount that would have been available if the voluntary rate reduction had not been made.

2. Whenever changes in assessed valuation are entered in the assessor's books for any personal property, in the aggregate, or for any subclass of real property as such subclasses are established in Section 4(b) of Article X of the Missouri Constitution and defined in section 137.016, the county clerk in all counties and the assessor of St. Louis City shall notify each political subdivision wholly or partially within the county or St. Louis City of the change in valuation of each subclass of real property, individually, and personal property, in the aggregate, exclusive of new construction and improvements. All political subdivisions shall immediately revise the applicable rates of levy for each purpose for each subclass of real property, individually, and personal property, in the aggregate, for which taxes are levied to the extent necessary to produce from all taxable property, exclusive of new construction and improvements, substantially the same amount of tax revenue as was produced in the previous year for each subclass of real property, individually, and personal property, in the aggregate, except that the rate shall not exceed the greater of the most recent voter-approved rate or the most recent voter-approved rate as adjusted under subdivision (2) of subsection 5 of this section. Any political subdivision that has received approval from voters for a tax increase after August 27, 2008, may levy a rate to collect substantially the same amount of tax revenue as the amount of revenue that would have been derived by applying the voter-approved increased tax rate ceiling to the total assessed valuation of the political subdivision as most recently certified by the city or county clerk on or before the date of the election in which such increase is approved, increased by the percentage increase in the consumer price index, as provided by law, except that the rate shall not exceed the greater of the most recent voter-approved rate or the most recent voter-approved rate as adjusted under subdivision (2) of subsection 5 of this section. Such tax revenue shall not include any receipts from ad valorem levies on any real property which was assessed by the assessor of a county or city in such previous year but is assessed by the assessor of a county or city in the current year in a different subclass of real property. Where the taxing authority is a school district for the purposes of revising the applicable rates of levy for each subclass of real property, the tax revenues from state-assessed railroad and utility property shall be apportioned and attributed to each subclass of real property based on the percentage of the total assessed valuation of the county that each subclass of real property represents in the current taxable year. As provided in Section 22 of Article X of the constitution, a political subdivision may also revise each levy to allow for inflationary assessment growth occurring within the political subdivision. The inflationary growth factor for any such subclass of real property or personal property shall be limited to the actual assessment growth in such subclass or class, exclusive of new construction and improvements, and exclusive of the assessed value on any real property which was assessed by the assessor of a county or city in the current year in a different subclass of real property, but not to exceed the consumer price index or five percent, whichever is lower. Should the tax revenue of a political subdivision from the various tax rates determined in this subsection be different than the tax revenue that would have been determined from a single tax rate as calculated pursuant to the method of calculation in this subsection prior to January 1, 2003, then the political subdivision shall revise the tax rates of those subclasses of real property, individually, and/or personal property, in the aggregate, in which there is a tax rate reduction, pursuant to the provisions of this subsection. Such revision shall yield an amount equal to such difference and shall be apportioned among such subclasses of real property, individually, and/or personal property, in the aggregate, based on the relative assessed valuation of the class or subclasses of property experiencing a tax rate reduction. Such revision in the tax rates of each class or subclass shall be made by computing the percentage of current year adjusted assessed valuation of each class or subclass with a tax rate reduction to the total current year adjusted assessed valuation of the class or subclasses with a tax rate reduction, multiplying the resulting percentages by the revenue difference between the single rate calculation and the calculations pursuant to this subsection and dividing by the respective adjusted current year assessed valuation of each class or subclass to determine the adjustment to the rate to be levied upon each class or subclass of property. The adjustment computed herein shall be multiplied by one hundred, rounded to four decimals in the manner provided in this subsection, and added to the initial rate computed for each class or subclass of property. For school districts that levy separate tax rates on each subclass of real property and personal property in the aggregate, if voters approved a ballot before January 1, 2011, that presented separate stated tax rates to be applied to the different subclasses of real property and personal property in the aggregate, or increases the separate rates that may be levied on the different subclasses of real property and personal property in the aggregate by different amounts, the tax rate that shall be used for the single tax rate calculation shall be a blended rate, calculated in the manner provided under subdivision (1) of subsection 6 of this section. Notwithstanding any provision of this subsection to the contrary, no revision to the rate of levy for personal property shall cause such levy to increase over the levy for personal property from the prior year.

3. (1) Where the taxing authority is a school district, it shall be required to revise the rates of levy to the extent necessary to produce from all taxable property, including state-assessed railroad and utility property, which shall be separately estimated in addition to other data required in complying with section 164.011, substantially the amount of tax revenue permitted in this section. In the year following tax rate reduction, the tax rate ceiling may be adjusted to offset such district's reduction in the apportionment of state school moneys due to its reduced tax rate. However, in the event any school district, in calculating a tax rate ceiling pursuant to this section, requiring the estimating of effects of state-assessed railroad and utility valuation or loss of state aid, discovers that the estimates used result in receipt of excess revenues, which would have required a lower rate if the actual information had been known, the school district shall reduce the tax rate ceiling in the following year to compensate for the excess receipts, and the recalculated rate shall become the tax rate ceiling for purposes of this section.

(2) For any political subdivision which experiences a reduction in the amount of assessed valuation relating to a prior year, due to decisions of the state tax commission or a court pursuant to sections 138.430 to 138.433, or due to clerical errors or corrections in the calculation or recordation of any assessed valuation:

(a) Such political subdivision may revise the tax rate ceiling for each purpose it levies taxes to compensate for the reduction in assessed value occurring after the political subdivision calculated the tax rate ceiling for the particular subclass of real property or for personal property, in the aggregate, in a prior year. Such revision by the political subdivision shall be made at the time of the next calculation of the tax rate for the particular subclass of real property or for personal property, in the aggregate, after the reduction in assessed valuation has been determined and shall be calculated in a manner that results in the revised tax rate ceiling being the same as it would have been had the corrected or finalized assessment been available at the time of the prior calculation;

(b) In addition, for up to three years following the determination of the reduction in assessed valuation as a result of circumstances defined in this subdivision, such political subdivision may levy a tax rate for each purpose it levies taxes above the revised tax rate ceiling provided in paragraph (a) of this subdivision to recoup any revenues it was entitled to receive had the corrected or finalized assessment been available at the time of the prior calculation.

4. (1) In order to implement the provisions of this section and Section 22 of Article X of the Constitution of Missouri, the term improvements shall apply to both real and personal property. In order to determine the value of new construction and improvements, each county assessor shall maintain a record of real property valuations in such a manner as to identify each year the increase in valuation for each political subdivision in the county as a result of new construction and improvements. The value of new construction and improvements shall include the additional assessed value of all improvements or additions to real property which were begun after and were not part of the prior year's assessment, except that the additional assessed value of all improvements or additions to real property which had been totally or partially exempt from ad valorem taxes pursuant to sections 99.800 to 99.865, sections 135.200 to 135.255, and section 353.110 shall be included in the value of new construction and improvements when the property becomes totally or partially subject to assessment and payment of all ad valorem taxes. The aggregate increase in valuation of personal property for the current year over that of the previous year is the equivalent of the new construction and improvements factor for personal property. Notwithstanding any opt-out implemented pursuant to subsection 14 of section 137.115, the assessor shall certify the amount of new construction and improvements and the amount of assessed value on any real property which was assessed by the assessor of a county or city in such previous year but is assessed by the assessor of a county or city in the current year in a different subclass of real property separately for each of the three subclasses of real property for each political subdivision to the county clerk in order that political subdivisions shall have this information for the purpose of calculating tax rates pursuant to this section and Section 22, Article X, Constitution of Missouri. In addition, the state tax commission shall certify each year to each county clerk the increase in the general price level as measured by the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers for the United States, or its successor publications, as defined and officially reported by the United States Department of Labor, or its successor agency. The state tax commission shall certify the increase in such index on the latest twelve-month basis available on February first of each year over the immediately preceding prior twelve-month period in order that political subdivisions shall have this information available in setting their tax rates according to law and Section 22 of Article X of the Constitution of Missouri. For purposes of implementing the provisions of this section and Section 22 of Article X of the Missouri Constitution, the term "property" means all taxable property, including state-assessed property.

(2) Each political subdivision required to revise rates of levy pursuant to this section or Section 22 of Article X of the Constitution of Missouri shall calculate each tax rate it is authorized to levy and, in establishing each tax rate, shall consider each provision for tax rate revision provided in this section and Section 22 of Article X of the Constitution of Missouri, separately and without regard to annual tax rate reductions provided in section 67.505 and section 164.013. Each political subdivision shall set each tax rate it is authorized to levy using the calculation that produces the lowest tax rate ceiling. It is further the intent of the general assembly, pursuant to the authority of Section 10(c) of Article X of the Constitution of Missouri, that the provisions of such section be applicable to tax rate revisions mandated pursuant to Section 22 of Article X of the Constitution of Missouri as to reestablishing tax rates as revised in subsequent years, enforcement provisions, and other provisions not in conflict with Section 22 of Article X of the Constitution of Missouri. Annual tax rate reductions provided in section 67.505 and section 164.013 shall be applied to the tax rate as established pursuant to this section and Section 22 of Article X of the Constitution of Missouri, unless otherwise provided by law.

5. (1) In all political subdivisions, the tax rate ceiling established pursuant to this section shall not be increased unless approved by a vote of the people. Approval of the higher tax rate shall be by at least a majority of votes cast. When a proposed higher tax rate requires approval by more than a simple majority pursuant to any provision of law or the constitution, the tax rate increase must receive approval by at least the majority required.

(2) When voters approve an increase in the tax rate, the amount of the increase shall be added to the tax rate ceiling as calculated pursuant to this section to the extent the total rate does not exceed any maximum rate prescribed by law. If a ballot question presents a stated tax rate for approval rather than describing the amount of increase in the question, the stated tax rate approved shall be adjusted as provided in this section and, so adjusted, shall be the current tax rate ceiling. The increased tax rate ceiling as approved shall be adjusted such that when applied to the current total assessed valuation of the political subdivision, excluding new construction and improvements since the date of the election approving such increase, the revenue derived from the adjusted tax rate ceiling is equal to the sum of: the amount of revenue which would have been derived by applying the voter-approved increased tax rate ceiling to total assessed valuation of the political subdivision, as most recently certified by the city or county clerk on or before the date of the election in which such increase is approved, increased by the percentage increase in the consumer price index, as provided by law. Such adjusted tax rate ceiling may be applied to the total assessed valuation of the political subdivision at the setting of the next tax rate. If a ballot question presents a phased-in tax rate increase, upon voter approval, each tax rate increase shall be adjusted in the manner prescribed in this section to yield the sum of: the amount of revenue that would be derived by applying such voter-approved increased rate to the total assessed valuation, as most recently certified by the city or county clerk on or before the date of the election in which such increase was approved, increased by the percentage increase in the consumer price index, as provided by law, from the date of the election to the time of such increase and, so adjusted, shall be the current tax rate ceiling.

(3) The provisions of subdivision (2) of this subsection notwithstanding, if prior to the expiration of a temporary levy increase, voters approve a subsequent levy increase, the new tax rate ceiling shall remain in effect only until such time as the temporary levy expires under the terms originally approved by a vote of the people, at which time the tax rate ceiling shall be decreased by the amount of the temporary levy increase. If, prior to the expiration of a temporary levy increase, voters of a political subdivision are asked to approve an additional, permanent increase to the political subdivision's tax rate ceiling, voters shall be submitted ballot language that clearly indicates that if the permanent levy increase is approved, the temporary levy shall be made permanent.

(4) The governing body of any political subdivision may levy a tax rate lower than its tax rate ceiling ~~and~~. Such reduction to the tax rate ceiling in a nonreassessment year shall be applied in the immediately following year of general reassessment. The governing body of any political subdivision may, in a nonreassessment year, increase that previously lowered tax rate to a level not exceeding the tax rate ceiling without voter approval in the manner provided under subdivision [(4)] (5) of this subsection. Such increase to the tax rate ceiling in a nonreassessment year shall be applied in the immediately following year of general reassessment. Nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting a political subdivision from voluntarily levying a tax rate lower than that which is required under the provisions of this section or from seeking voter approval of a reduction to such political subdivision's tax rate ceiling.

~~[(4)]~~ (5) In a year of general reassessment, a governing body whose tax rate is lower than its tax rate ceiling shall revise its tax rate pursuant to the provisions of subsection 4 of this section as if its tax rate was at the tax rate ceiling. In a year following general reassessment, if such governing body intends to increase its tax rate, the governing body shall conduct a public hearing, and in a public meeting it shall adopt an ordinance, resolution, or policy statement justifying its action prior to setting and certifying its tax rate. The provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to any political subdivision which levies a tax rate lower than its tax rate ceiling solely due to a reduction required by law resulting from sales tax collections. The provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to any political subdivision which has received voter approval for an increase to its tax rate ceiling subsequent to setting its most recent tax rate.

(6) (a) As used in this subdivision, the following terms mean:

a. "Current tax rate ceiling", the tax rate ceiling in effect before the voters approve a higher tax rate;

b. "Increased tax rate ceiling", the new tax rate ceiling in effect after the voters approve a higher tax rate.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, when the required majority of voters in a political subdivision passes an increase in the political subdivision's tax rate, the political subdivision shall use the current tax rate ceiling and the increase approved by the voters in establishing the rates of levy for the tax year immediately following the election.

(c) If the assessed valuation of real property in such political subdivision is reduced in such tax year immediately following the election, such political subdivision may raise its rates of levy so that the revenue received from its local real property tax rates equals the amount the political subdivision would have received from the increased rates of levy had there been no reduction in the assessed valuation of real property in the political subdivision.

(d) Using the increased tax rate ceiling shall be revenue neutral as required in Article X, Section 22 of the Constitution of Missouri.

6. (1) For the purposes of calculating state aid for public schools pursuant to section 163.031, each taxing authority which is a school district shall determine its proposed tax rate as a blended rate of the classes or subclasses of property. Such blended rate shall be calculated by first determining the total tax revenue of the property within the jurisdiction of the taxing authority, which amount shall be equal to the sum of the products of multiplying the assessed valuation of each class and subclass of property by the corresponding tax rate for such class or subclass, then dividing the total tax revenue by the total assessed valuation of the same jurisdiction, and then multiplying the resulting quotient by a factor of one hundred. Where the taxing authority is a school district, such blended rate shall also be used by such school district for calculating revenue from state-assessed railroad and utility property as defined in chapter 151 and for apportioning the tax rate by purpose.

(2) Each taxing authority proposing to levy a tax rate in any year shall notify the clerk of the county commission in the county or counties where the tax rate applies of its tax rate ceiling and its proposed tax rate. Each taxing authority shall express its proposed tax rate in a fraction equal to the nearest one-tenth of a cent, unless its proposed tax rate is in excess of one dollar, then one/one-hundredth of a cent. If a taxing authority shall round to one/one-hundredth of a cent, it shall round up a fraction greater than or equal to five/one-thousandth of one cent to the next higher one/one-hundredth of a cent; if a taxing authority shall round to one-tenth of a cent, it shall round up a fraction greater than or equal to five/one-hundredths of a cent to the next higher one-tenth of a cent. Any taxing authority levying a property tax rate shall provide data, in such form as shall be prescribed by the state auditor by rule, substantiating such tax rate complies with Missouri law. All forms for the calculation of rates pursuant to this section shall be promulgated as a rule and shall not be incorporated by reference. The state auditor shall promulgate rules for any and all forms for the calculation of rates pursuant to this section which do not currently exist in rule form or that have been incorporated by reference. In addition, each taxing authority proposing to levy a tax rate for debt service shall provide data, in such form as shall be prescribed by the state auditor by rule, substantiating the tax rate for debt service complies with Missouri law. A tax rate proposed for annual debt service requirements will be prima facie valid if, after making the payment for which the tax was levied, bonds remain outstanding and the debt fund reserves do not exceed the following year's payments. The county clerk shall keep on file and available for public inspection all such information for a period of three years. The clerk shall, within three days of receipt, forward a copy of the notice of a taxing authority's tax rate ceiling and proposed tax rate and any substantiating data to the state auditor. The state auditor shall, within fifteen days of the date of receipt, examine such information and return to the county clerk his or her findings as to compliance of the tax rate ceiling with this section and as to compliance of any proposed tax rate for debt service with Missouri law. If the state auditor believes that a taxing authority's proposed tax rate does not comply with Missouri law, then the state auditor's findings shall include a recalculated tax rate, and the state auditor may request a taxing authority to submit documentation supporting such taxing authority's proposed tax rate. The county clerk shall immediately forward a copy of the auditor's findings to the taxing authority and shall file a copy of the findings with the information received from the taxing authority. The taxing authority shall have fifteen days from the date of receipt from the county clerk of the state auditor's findings and any request for supporting documentation to accept or reject in writing the rate change certified by the state auditor and to submit all requested information to the state auditor. A copy of the taxing authority's acceptance or rejection and any information submitted to the state auditor shall also be mailed to the county clerk. If a taxing authority rejects a rate change certified by the state auditor and the state auditor does not receive supporting information which justifies the taxing authority's original or any subsequent proposed tax rate, then the state auditor shall refer the perceived violations of such taxing authority to the attorney general's office and the attorney general is authorized to obtain injunctive relief to prevent the taxing authority from levying a violative tax rate.

(3) In the event that the taxing authority incorrectly completes the forms created and promulgated under subdivision (2) of this subsection, or makes a clerical error, the taxing authority may submit amended forms with an explanation for the needed changes. If such amended forms are filed under regulations prescribed by the state auditor, the state auditor shall take into consideration such amended forms for the purposes of this subsection.

7. No tax rate shall be extended on the tax rolls by the county clerk unless the political subdivision has complied with the foregoing provisions of this section.

8. Whenever a taxpayer has cause to believe that a taxing authority has not complied with the provisions of this section, the taxpayer may make a formal complaint with the prosecuting attorney of the county. Where the prosecuting attorney fails to bring an action within ten days of the filing of the complaint, the taxpayer may bring a civil action pursuant to this section and institute an action as representative of a class of all taxpayers within a taxing authority if the class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable, if there are questions of law or fact common to the class, if the claims or defenses of the representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the class, and if the representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class. In any class action maintained pursuant to this section, the court may direct to the members of the class a notice to be published at least once each week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the civil action is commenced and in other counties within the jurisdiction of a taxing authority. The notice shall advise each member that the court will exclude him or her from the class if he or she so requests by a specified date, that the judgment, whether favorable or not, will include all members who do not request exclusion, and that any member who does not request exclusion may, if he or she desires, enter an appearance. In any class action brought pursuant to this section, the court, in addition to the relief requested, shall assess against the taxing authority found to be in violation of this section the reasonable costs of bringing the action, including reasonable attorney's fees, provided no attorney's fees shall be awarded any attorney or association of attorneys who receive public funds from any source for their services. Any action brought pursuant to this section shall be set for hearing as soon as practicable after the cause is at issue.

9. If in any action, including a class action, the court issues an order requiring a taxing authority to revise the tax rates as provided in this section or enjoins a taxing authority from the collection of a tax because of its failure to revise the rate of levy as provided in this section, any taxpayer paying his or her taxes when an improper rate is applied has erroneously paid his or her taxes in part, whether or not the taxes are paid under protest as provided in section 139.031 or otherwise contested. The part of the taxes paid erroneously is the difference in the amount produced by the original levy and the amount produced by the revised levy. The township or county collector of taxes or the collector of taxes in any city shall refund the amount of the tax erroneously paid. The taxing authority refusing to revise the rate of levy as provided in this section shall make available to the collector all funds necessary to make refunds pursuant to this subsection. No taxpayer shall receive any interest on any money erroneously paid by him or her pursuant to this subsection. Effective in the 1994 tax year, nothing in this section shall be construed to require a taxing authority to refund any tax erroneously paid prior to or during the third tax year preceding the current tax year.

10. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2004, shall be invalid and void.

137.115. 1. All other laws to the contrary notwithstanding, the assessor or the assessor's deputies in all counties of this state including the City of St. Louis shall annually make a list of all real and tangible personal property taxable in the assessor's city, county, town or district. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 of this section and section 137.078, the assessor shall annually assess all personal property at thirty-three and one-third percent of its true value in money as of January first of each calendar year. The assessor shall annually assess all real property, including any new construction and improvements to real property, and possessory interests in real property at the percent of its true value in money set in subsection 5 of this section. The true value in money of any possessory interest in real property in subclass (3), where such real property is on or lies within the ultimate airport boundary as shown by a federal airport layout plan, as defined by 14 CFR 151.5, of a commercial airport having a FAR Part 139 certification and owned by a political subdivision, shall be the otherwise applicable true value in money of any such possessory interest in real property, less the total dollar amount of costs paid by a party, other than the political subdivision, towards any new construction or improvements on such real property completed after January 1, 2008, and which are included in the above-mentioned possessory interest, regardless of the year in which such costs were incurred or whether such costs were considered in any prior year. The assessor shall annually assess all real property in the following manner: new assessed values shall be determined as of January first of each odd-numbered year and shall be entered in the assessor's books; those same assessed values shall apply in the following even-numbered year, except for new construction and property improvements which shall be valued as though they had been completed as of January first of the preceding odd-numbered year. The assessor may call at the office, place of doing business, or residence of each person required by this chapter to list property, and require the person to make a correct statement of all taxable tangible personal property owned by the person or under his or her care, charge or management, taxable in the county. On or before January first of each even-numbered year, the assessor shall prepare and submit a two-year assessment maintenance plan to the county governing body and the state tax commission for their respective approval or modification. The county governing body shall approve and forward such plan or its alternative to the plan to the state tax commission by February first. If the county governing body fails to forward the plan or its alternative to the plan to the state tax commission by February first, the assessor's plan shall be considered approved by the county governing body. If the state tax commission fails to approve a plan and if the state tax commission and the assessor and the governing body of the county involved are unable to resolve the differences, in order to receive state cost-share funds outlined in section 137.750, the county or the assessor shall petition the administrative hearing commission, by May first, to decide all matters in dispute regarding the assessment maintenance plan. Upon agreement of the parties, the matter may be stayed while the parties proceed with mediation or arbitration upon terms agreed to by the parties. The final decision of the administrative hearing commission shall be subject to judicial review in the circuit court of the county involved. In the event a valuation of subclass (1) real property within any county with a charter form of government, or within a city not within a county, is made by a computer, computer-assisted method or a computer program, the burden of proof, supported by clear, convincing and cogent evidence to sustain such valuation, shall be on the assessor at any hearing or appeal. In any such county, unless the assessor proves otherwise, there shall be a presumption that the assessment was made by a computer, computer-assisted method or a computer program. Such evidence shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(1) The findings of the assessor based on an appraisal of the property by generally accepted appraisal techniques; and

(2) The purchase prices from sales of at least three comparable properties and the address or location thereof. As used in this subdivision, the word "comparable" means that:

(a) Such sale was closed at a date relevant to the property valuation; and

(b) Such properties are not more than one mile from the site of the disputed property, except where no similar properties exist within one mile of the disputed property, the nearest comparable property shall be used. Such property shall be within five hundred square feet in size of the disputed property, and resemble the disputed property in age, floor plan, number of rooms, and other relevant characteristics.

2. Assessors in each county of this state and the City of St. Louis may send personal property assessment forms through the mail.

3. The following items of personal property shall each constitute separate subclasses of tangible personal property and shall be assessed and valued for the purposes of taxation at the following percentages of their true value in money:

(1) Grain and other agricultural crops in an unmanufactured condition, one-half of one percent;

(2) Livestock, twelve percent;

(3) Farm machinery, twelve percent;

(4) Motor vehicles which are eligible for registration as and are registered as historic motor vehicles pursuant to section 301.131 and aircraft which are at least twenty-five years old and which are used solely for noncommercial purposes and are operated less than two hundred hours per year or aircraft that are home built from a kit, five percent;

(5) Poultry, twelve percent; and

(6) Tools and equipment used for pollution control and tools and equipment used in retooling for the purpose of introducing new product lines or used for making improvements to existing products by any company which is located in a state enterprise zone and which is identified by any standard industrial classification number cited in subdivision (7) of section 135.200, twenty-five percent.

4. The person listing the property shall enter a true and correct statement of the property, in a printed blank prepared for that purpose. The statement, after being filled out, shall be signed and either affirmed or sworn to as provided in section 137.155. The list shall then be delivered to the assessor.

5. (1) All subclasses of real property, as such subclasses are established in Section 4(b) of Article X of the Missouri Constitution and defined in section 137.016, shall be assessed at the following percentages of true value:

(a) For real property in subclass (1), nineteen percent;

(b) For real property in subclass (2), twelve percent; and

(c) For real property in subclass (3), thirty-two percent.

(2) A taxpayer may apply to the county assessor, or, if not located within a county, then the assessor of such city, for the reclassification of such taxpayer's real property if the use or purpose of such real property is changed after such property is assessed under the provisions of this chapter. If the assessor determines that such property shall be reclassified, he or she shall determine the assessment under this subsection based on the percentage of the tax year that such property was classified in each subclassification.

6. Manufactured homes, as defined in section 700.010, which are actually used as dwelling units shall be assessed at the same percentage of true value as residential real property for the purpose of taxation. The percentage of assessment of true value for such manufactured homes shall be the same as for residential real property. If the county collector cannot identify or find the manufactured home when attempting to attach the manufactured home for payment of taxes owed by the manufactured home owner, the county collector may request the county commission to have the manufactured home removed from the tax books, and such request shall be granted within thirty days after the request is made; however, the removal from the tax books does not remove the tax lien on the manufactured home if it is later identified or found. For purposes of this section, a manufactured home located in a manufactured home rental park, rental community or on real estate not owned by the manufactured home owner shall be considered personal property. For purposes of this section, a manufactured home located on real estate owned by the manufactured home owner may be considered real property.

7. Each manufactured home assessed shall be considered a parcel for the purpose of reimbursement pursuant to section 137.750, unless the manufactured home is deemed to be real estate as defined in subsection 7 of section 442.015 and assessed as a realty improvement to the existing real estate parcel.

8. Any amount of tax due and owing based on the assessment of a manufactured home shall be included on the personal property tax statement of the manufactured home owner unless the manufactured home is deemed to be real estate as defined in subsection 7 of section 442.015, in which case the amount of tax due and owing on the assessment of the manufactured home as a realty improvement to the existing real estate parcel shall be included on the real property tax statement of the real estate owner.

9. The assessor of each county and each city not within a county shall use ~~the trade-in value published in the October issue of~~ a nationally recognized automotive trade publication such as the National Automobile Dealers' Association Official Used Car Guide, [or its successor publication,] Kelley Blue Book, Edmunds, or other similar publication as the recommended guide of information for determining the true value of motor vehicles described in such publication. The state tax commission shall select, secure, and make available to all assessors which publication shall be used. The assessor of each county and each city not within a county shall use the trade-in value published in the current October issue of the publication selected by the state tax commission. The assessor shall not use a value that is greater than the average trade-in value in determining the true value of the motor vehicle without performing a physical inspection of the motor vehicle. For vehicles two years old or newer from a vehicle's model year, the assessor may use a value other than average without performing a physical inspection of the motor vehicle. In the absence of a listing for a particular motor vehicle in such publication, the assessor shall use such information or publications ~~which~~ that, in the assessor's judgment, will fairly estimate the true value in money of the motor vehicle. The assessor shall not assess a motor vehicle for an amount greater than such motor vehicle was assessed in the previous year, provided that such motor vehicle was properly assessed in the previous year.

10. Before the assessor may increase the assessed valuation of any parcel of subclass (1) real property by more than fifteen percent since the last assessment, excluding increases due to new construction or improvements, the assessor shall conduct a physical inspection of such property.

11. If a physical inspection is required, pursuant to subsection 10 of this section, the assessor shall notify the property owner of that fact in writing and shall provide the owner clear written notice of the owner's rights relating to the physical inspection. If a physical inspection is required, the property owner may request that an interior inspection be performed during the physical inspection. The owner shall have no less than thirty days to notify the assessor of a request for an interior physical inspection.

12. A physical inspection, as required by subsection 10 of this section, shall include, but not be limited to, an on-site personal observation and review of all exterior portions of the land and any buildings and improvements to which the inspector has or may reasonably and lawfully gain external access, and shall include an observation and review of the interior of any buildings or improvements on the property upon the timely request of the owner pursuant to subsection 11 of this section. Mere observation of the property via a drive-by inspection or the like shall not be considered sufficient to constitute a physical inspection as required by this section.

13. A county or city collector may accept credit cards as proper form of payment of outstanding property tax or license due. No county or city collector may charge surcharge for payment by credit card which exceeds the fee or surcharge charged by the credit card bank, processor, or issuer for its service. A county or city collector may accept payment by electronic transfers of funds in payment of any tax or license and charge the person making such payment a fee equal to the fee charged the county by the bank, processor, or issuer of such electronic payment.

14. Any county or city not within a county in this state may, by an affirmative vote of the governing body of such county, opt out of the provisions of this section and sections 137.073, 138.060, and 138.100 as enacted by house bill no. 1150 of the ninety-first general assembly, second regular session and section 137.073 as modified by house committee substitute for senate substitute for senate committee substitute for senate bill no. 960, ninety-second general assembly, second regular session, for the next year of the general reassessment, prior to January first of any year. No county or city not within a county shall exercise this opt-out provision after implementing the provisions of this section and sections 137.073, 138.060, and 138.100 as enacted by house bill no. 1150 of the ninety-first general assembly, second regular session and section 137.073 as modified by house committee substitute for senate substitute for senate committee substitute for senate bill no. 960, ninety-second general assembly, second regular session, in a year of general reassessment. For the purposes of applying the provisions of this subsection, a political subdivision contained within two or more counties where at least one of such counties has opted out and at least one of such counties has not opted out shall calculate a single tax rate as in effect prior to the enactment of house bill no. 1150 of the ninety-first general assembly, second regular session. A governing body of a city not within a county or a county that has opted out under the provisions of this subsection may choose to implement the provisions of this section and sections 137.073, 138.060, and 138.100 as enacted by house bill no. 1150 of the ninety-first general assembly, second regular session, and section 137.073 as modified by house committee substitute for senate substitute for senate committee substitute for senate bill no. 960, ninety-second general assembly, second regular session, for the next year of general reassessment, by an affirmative vote of the governing body prior to December thirty-first of any year.

15. The governing body of any city of the third classification with more than twenty-six thousand three hundred but fewer than twenty-six thousand seven hundred inhabitants located in any county that has exercised its authority to opt out under subsection 14 of this section may levy separate and differing tax rates for real and personal property only if such city bills and collects its own property taxes or satisfies the entire cost of the billing and collection of such separate and differing tax rates. Such separate and differing rates shall not exceed such city's tax rate ceiling.

16. Any portion of real property that is available as reserve for strip, surface, or coal mining for minerals for purposes of excavation for future use or sale to others that has not been bonded and permitted under chapter 444 shall be assessed based upon how the real property is currently being used. Any information provided to a county assessor, state tax commission, state agency, or political subdivision responsible for the administration of tax policies shall, in the performance of its duties, make available all books, records, and information requested, except such books, records, and information as are by law declared confidential in nature, including individually identifiable information regarding a specific taxpayer or taxpayer's mine property. For purposes of this subsection, "mine property" shall mean all real property that is in use or readily available as a reserve for strip, surface, or coal mining for minerals for purposes of excavation for current or future use or sale to others that has been bonded and permitted under chapter 444.

138.425. 1. Any order issued by the commission requiring a county to modify or equalize assessed valuations that would result in a reduction of the county's final valuations to comply with state law shall allow a county a maximum of sixty days for compliance with such order. The order shall state the deadline for compliance in the order, but the commission may extend the deadline one time for an additional period of thirty days in a separate order upon its approval of a county's request for an extension. The total time allowed for compliance with such order shall not exceed ninety days.

2. If the county fails to comply after the lapse of the time period allotted under subsection 1 of this section, the commission may direct the director of the department of revenue to withhold up to one hundred percent of the moneys the county would otherwise be entitled to from local sales tax as defined under section 32.085 and local use tax until a determination is made by the commission that the noncompliant county has come into compliance with the commission's order.

3. The commission shall issue a notice to the county of the withholding due to failure to comply with the order within the prescribed time period and shall include information for the county to cure the noncompliance in order to release the withheld moneys.

4. If the noncompliant county thereafter becomes compliant in accordance with the original order issued, as determined by the commission after the county remits notice of its compliance and any additional documentation or information required for review and verification by the commission, the commission shall notify the department of revenue to release and remit the previously withheld local sales and use tax proceeds to the county. A county is not entitled to interest on the withheld funds released under the provisions of this subsection.

5. A county failing to comply within the prescribed time period resulting in the withholding of local sales and use tax proceeds under this section may seek judicial review of the determination of failure to comply made by the commission under Article V, Section 18 of the Constitution of Missouri within thirty days of receipt of the notice.

6. In addition to other available remedies, if the court determines that the commission's determination as to the amount of local sales and use tax proceeds withheld or failure to comply is in error, the court shall return the amount in error to the county and the judgment, when entered, shall include interest on the amounts wrongfully withheld. A county is not entitled to interest on the amounts withheld if a court upholds the commission's determination. Any such interest awarded shall be paid from the state legal expense fund as provided under section 105.711.

7. Local sales and use taxes withheld by the director of the department of revenue as provided under this section shall be deposited in a special trust fund, which is hereby created, to be known as the "County Assessment Noncompliance Trust Fund". The moneys in the county assessment noncompliance trust fund shall not be deemed to be state funds and shall not be commingled with any funds of the state. The director of revenue shall keep accurate records of the amount of money in the trust fund withheld from any county under this section, and the records shall be open to the inspection of officers of the county and the public.

8. The commission may promulgate all necessary rules and regulations for the administration of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2025, shall be invalid and void.

139.035. 1. As used in this section, the following terms mean:

- (1) "Motor vehicle", the same meaning as such term is defined under section 301.010;
- (2) "Taxing entity", any county, city not within a county, or other political subdivision within this state that levies and collects personal property taxes on motor vehicles;
- (3) "Taxpayer", an individual or a business entity subject to personal property tax on the totaled motor vehicle;
- (4) "Totaled motor vehicle", a motor vehicle considered to be a total loss due to damage that is so severe that it cannot be repaired safely, the total cost of repair or salvage equals or exceeds the vehicle's actual cash value, or a finding by an insurance company declaring the motor vehicle to be total loss. The term "totaled motor vehicle" includes motorcycles owned by individual taxpayers and motor vehicles primarily for business use, as such term is defined under section 301.010, owned by a business taxpayer;
- (5) "Totaled motor vehicle personal property tax proration program", a program established under the provisions of this section.

2. Any taxing entity may establish a totaled motor vehicle personal property tax proration program in accordance with this section that allows a taxpayer qualifying under the provisions of this section and any additional requirements established by the taxing entity to receive a prorated property tax credit during the tax year to reduce the total personal property tax owed on a totaled motor vehicle and to be claimed against the amount of personal property tax due and owing at the end of the same tax year by such taxpayer.

3. The prorated property tax credit amount shall apply to the total of all personal property taxes due and owing on the totaled motor vehicle, and shall reduce all taxes by an equally distributed pro rata amount.

4. The prorated property tax credit, which shall be prorated on a monthly basis, is to be determined by a ratio, the numerator of which shall be the number of full months from the date of disposition of the totaled motor vehicle continuing through the close of the tax year, and the denominator of which shall be twelve. The prorated property tax credit is nonrefundable but may reduce a taxpayer's liability down to zero.

5. A taxpayer may apply for such program if:

(1) Such taxpayer's totaled motor vehicle was owned, registered, and titled under the taxpayer's name, or in the case of a business taxpayer, the name of the business, authorized agent, or other verifiable entity associated with the business taxpayer, as of January first of the tax year in which the motor vehicle was totaled and at the time of the incident that totaled the taxpayer's motor vehicle in the same tax year;

(2) The totaled motor vehicle was included on the local taxing entity's tax roll for the tax year in which the motor vehicle was totaled and such taxpayer is liable for the payment of personal property taxes on the totaled motor vehicle for such tax year;

(3) Such taxpayer was, as of the date of application, up-to-date on all state and local taxes and fees owed on such totaled motor vehicle; and

(4) As of the date of application for participation in the program, the title on the totaled motor vehicle has been transferred to the insurance company or other entity due to the totaled nature of the vehicle and is no longer titled or registered to the taxpayer nor in the taxpayer's possession.

6. If a taxpayer participating in a program established under this section purchases a replacement vehicle during the same tax year that the taxpayer's motor vehicle was totaled and he or she received a prorated property tax credit for such totaled motor vehicle, such replacement vehicle shall not be included in the tax rolls for that tax year to offset the property tax liability. Taxation of such replacement vehicle shall follow the statutory assessment standards as provided by general law and the applicable taxing entity if such replacement vehicle is owned by such taxpayer as of January first of the following tax year.

7. A totaled motor vehicle personal property tax proration program shall be created upon the adoption of an ordinance by the governing body of such taxing entity. Such ordinance shall be in accordance with the provisions of this section and shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(1) Procedures and deadlines for application and participation in such program and any required documentation to sufficiently prove eligibility necessary for such program, such as documents ascertaining proof of the totaled motor vehicle's total loss value, copies of valuation reports, insurance total loss documentation or total loss letter, verification of the transfer of title of the totaled motor vehicle, signed copy of title, certified letter of transfer, or other such documentation necessary to substantiate the taxpayer's eligibility;

(2) Procedures for verification and record keeping of the prorated property tax credit amount and the total amount by which the personal property tax owed has been modified for each taxpayer participating in the program;

(3) Creation of a form for taxpayers participating in the program that may be submitted in person, by mail, or electronically on a taxing entity's website;

(4) Procedures for the crediting of the amount of a taxpayer's prorated property tax credit toward such taxpayer's personal property taxes; and

(5) Any other provisions that such taxing entity deems reasonable and necessary for the implementation and operation of such program.

8. A taxing entity may by ordinance promulgate rules, establish procedures, and provide additional standards of eligibility for a program adopted under this section.

9. Any taxing entity that establishes a totaled motor vehicle personal property tax proration program under the provisions of this section shall make information regarding such program available to the taxpayers of the taxing entity.

10. Participation in this program and proration of personal property taxes received under such program by any qualified taxpayer as a prorated property tax credit toward any portion of such taxpayer's personal property taxes shall not affect the taxpayer's right to protest the amount of such tax payments under applicable provisions of law."; and

Further amend said bill, Pages 21-22, Section 238.230, Lines 1-40, by deleting all of said section and lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

5. A district may establish different classes or subclasses of real property within the district for purposes of levying differing rates of special assessments. The amount added pursuant to this subdivision shall not include any amount of a federal income tax refund attributable to a tax credit reducing a taxpayer's federal tax liability pursuant to Public Law 116-136 or 116-260, enacted by the 116th United States Congress, for the tax year beginning on or after January 1, 2020, and ending on or before December 31, 2020, and deducted from Missouri adjusted gross income pursuant to section 143.171. For all tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2021, but ending on or before December 31, 2025, a taxpayer shall be allowed to claim a tax credit against the taxpayer's state tax liability in an amount equal to seventy percent of the amount such taxpayer contributed to a pregnancy resource center. For all tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2026, a taxpayer shall be allowed to claim a tax credit against the taxpayer's state tax liability in an amount equal to one hundred percent of the amount such taxpayer contributed to a pregnancy resource center.
3. The amount of the tax credit claimed shall not exceed the amount of the taxpayer's state tax liability for the tax year for which the credit is claimed, and such taxpayer shall not be allowed to claim a tax credit in excess of fifty thousand dollars per tax year. However, any tax credit that cannot be claimed in the tax year the contribution was made may be carried over only to the next succeeding tax year. No tax credit issued under this section shall be assigned, transferred, or sold.
 4. Except for any excess credit which is carried over pursuant to subsection 3 of this section, a taxpayer shall not be allowed to claim a tax credit unless the total amount of such taxpayer's contribution or contributions to a pregnancy resource center or centers in such taxpayer's tax year has a value of at least one hundred dollars.
 5. The director shall determine, at least annually, which facilities in this state may be classified as pregnancy resource centers. The director may require of a facility seeking to be classified as a pregnancy resource center whatever information which is reasonably necessary to make such a determination. The director shall classify a facility as a pregnancy resource center if such facility meets the definition set forth in subsection 1 of this section.
 6. The director shall establish a procedure by which a taxpayer can determine if a facility has been classified as a pregnancy resource center. Pregnancy resource centers shall be permitted to decline a contribution from a taxpayer. The cumulative amount of tax credits which may be claimed by all the taxpayers contributing to pregnancy resource centers in any one fiscal year shall not exceed two million dollars for all fiscal years ending on or before June 30, 2014, and two million five hundred thousand dollars for all fiscal years beginning on or after July

1, 2014, and ending on or before June 30, 2019, and three million five hundred thousand dollars for all fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 2019, and ending on or before June 30, 2021. For all fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 2021, there shall be no limit imposed on the cumulative amount of tax credits that may be claimed by all taxpayers contributing to pregnancy resource centers under the provisions of this section. Tax credits shall be issued in the order contributions are received. If the amount of tax credits redeemed in a fiscal year is less than the cumulative amount authorized under this subsection, the difference shall be carried over to a subsequent fiscal year or years and shall be added to the cumulative amount of tax credits that may be authorized in that fiscal year or years.

7. For all fiscal years ending on or before June 30, 2021, the director shall establish a procedure by which, from the beginning of the fiscal year until some point in time later in the fiscal year to be determined by the director, the cumulative amount of tax credits are equally apportioned among all facilities classified as pregnancy resource centers. If a pregnancy resource center fails to use all, or some percentage to be determined by the director, of its apportioned tax credits during this predetermined period of time, the director may reapportion these unused tax credits to those pregnancy resource centers that have used all, or some percentage to be determined by the director, of their apportioned tax credits during this predetermined period of time. The director may establish more than one period of time and reapportion more than once during each fiscal year. To the maximum extent possible, the director shall establish the procedure described in this subsection in such a manner as to ensure that taxpayers can claim all the tax credits possible up to the cumulative amount of tax credits available for the fiscal year.

8. Each pregnancy resource center shall provide information to the director concerning the identity of each taxpayer making a contribution to the pregnancy resource center who is claiming a tax credit pursuant to this section and the amount of the contribution. The director shall provide the information to the director of revenue. The director shall be subject to the confidentiality and penalty provisions of section 32.057 relating to the disclosure of tax information.

9. The provisions of section 23.253 shall not apply to this section."; and

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Trust ye in the Lord forever; for in the Lord God is everlasting strength. (Isaiah 26:4)

O God who has given us this very cold Ash Wednesday, we humbly ask You that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Your favor and glad to do Your will. Bless this state, our citizens, and our leaders, that under the guidance of Your wise and good power we may not grow weary in working together.

Save us from fear and confusion and from every evil. Unite us in purpose and spirit, faithful to You and fruitful in all good works as we seek the welfare of all. Endow with wisdom and charity these leaders of our state, that there may be justice at home, at work and in these walls!

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lucy Dear.

The Journal of the thirty-third day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

THIRTY-FIFTH DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Perkins in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Blessed is the man where strength is in thee. (Psalm 84:5)

O God, grant to us the spirit of understanding as we live in the glory of a new day to be waiting upon You in this moment of sacred prayer. We would be silent in Your presence and receive the strength which sustains us, the wisdom which makes us wise, and the peace which holds us steady through troubled times.

As this week ends, forgive our impatience revealed in discouragements, our bursts of temper and hasty words we so often regret. Forgive our impetuosity made known in worried attitudes, careless conversation, and hurried actions for which we are so repeatedly sorry. Strengthen us to do our best in these hours, to think constructively, to speak courageously, and to act confidently in truth and charity.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Thomas Orr.

The Journal of the thirty-fourth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 2025

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Brian Seitz.

Father, we thank You for Your great mercies towards us, and Your choice of us to serve You here, at this time in history. Help us to be mindful of our dependence on You as we serve the people. Let nothing be done in vainglory, but with a selfless attitude of mind, as we seek to govern the state as its elected representatives. We ask these things in Jesus's name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-sixth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. (Romans 12:21)

Open to us the gates of the morning and reveal to us the glory of a new day as we pause a minute for prayer. We are facing difficult votes and living through a new era. For this we need and want courage and strength and an inner stability of spirit. Grant to us now the grace of a quiet mind, a steady faith, and a strong voice which will make us more than a match for the mood of this moving moment.

Help us to stand up for the eternal truths, for obedience to the laws of our land, and for the principles of good government, believing that Your spirit will guide us, Your power will strengthen us, and Your presence will bless us as we do what we firmly believe to be right and just for Missouri.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Michael Chambers, Caressa Chambers, Micayah Chambers, Dennis Chambers and Sherry Padgett.

The Journal of the twenty-seventh day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

TWENTY-NINTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Therefore I tell you, whatever you ask in prayer, believe that you receive it, and you will. (Mark 11:24)

We briefly pause in Your presence, God, this moment, praying that Your awesome power may come anew into our hearts and into the hearts of all our people. May we not only hear the cry of humanity for justice and freedom, but may we heed it. May violence cease; may understanding between politicians and citizens increase; may intelligent thought prevail; may the needs of the poor be met, that there be no cause for bitterness, hatred or division.

We pray that everyone in Missouri may have the chance to grow and to work and to live, that our state may be, in deed and in truth, the home of the brave, the land of the free, with liberty and justice for all.

Finally, bless our courts and our judges with a spirit of prudence and truth. Open our hearts to the message of our Supreme Court today.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-eighth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

VACANCIES: 001

The Sergeant-at-Arms announced the approach of the Honorable Mary R. Russell, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Missouri. Chief Justice Russell was duly escorted to the House Chamber and to the Speaker's dais, where she delivered the following message to the Assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY
ADDRESS BY
CHIEF JUSTICE MARY R. RUSSELL

Lieutenant Governor Wasinger, Speaker Patterson, President Pro Tem O’Laughlin, statewide office holders, members of the General Assembly, judicial colleagues, and my fellow Missourians: It is an honor and privilege to serve as Missouri’s chief justice and to share with you this 51st state of the judiciary.

First off, I want to say I appreciate the sacrifices you and your families make so you can be here. My late husband Jim spent many years working in this incredible building, including four terms representing northwest Missouri in this very chamber. But he used to tell me, if I ever ran for office, he’d run for the state line!

Our families are important to all of us. So I’d like to introduce you to the members of my family here today – there’s quite a list, so give me a minute! We’ll start with my favorites – my grandchildren and my great-grandchildren, Nick, Alex, Avery, Evan, Isabelle, Claire, Harper, Miles and Dawson – plus their families, Kim, Allen, Heather, Tom, Laura and Allison. I love you all; please stand and be recognized!

When I first gave this speech, one of my young grandkids – in an otherwise quiet moment – blurted out “Mimi sure does talk a lot!” I hope my little ones keep their comments to themselves today!

Last year marked my 20th anniversary on the Court, but it feels just like yesterday when I first put on my robe across the street. It’s something this northeast Missouri farm girl never thought possible, even in her wildest dreams.

Through the years I’ve learned: as important as the work we do here in Jefferson City is, it is equally important to understand the impact of our work on people throughout our state. So, during this term as chief justice, my goal has been to visit all 46 judicial circuits. I’ve been to 36 so far, with just 10 to go!

Many of you have joined me to tour your local courthouses to hear from all your constituents who work there. By showing our gratitude to our “frontline court heroes” for their dedicated service to the people of our state, together, we have learned a lot.

We are the Show-Me State, and these tours have shown us that investing in our courts is an investment in our local citizens. Every day, more than 3,400 judges, court clerks, bailiffs and other court employees perform critical functions on behalf of – and for the benefit of – all Missourians. Day in and day out, these local court staff diligently work to provide vital services to the people we all serve.

This morning, I don't want to talk to you about the work we do that makes headlines. Our courts are about so much more than the handful of litigants, issues or cases that might attract your attention. Today, I want to tell you "the rest of the story" – how the daily activities of our courts matter in the lives of everyday people in all our communities, large and small.

In every county, work begins before the courts open. Staff show up early, unlocking doors, turning up the heat and – quite a few times so far this year – shoveling snow.

In the 8 o'clock hour, courthouses across Missouri are opening for business, from Rock Port to Kahoka, Caruthersville to Neosho, and all points in between. Court clerks are firing up their computers to start processing overnight filings. Last year, there were more than 6.4 million filings. Case.net averaged more than 5 million hits per day – some of those might have been from you! And people made more than 250,000 payments online totaling more than $32 million.

Thanks to your ongoing support for court technology, information that was once on paper is now electronic. This saves counties, municipalities and people millions of dollars in postage, supplies and storage. Your support allows us to continue providing the high level of online services Missourians expect and deserve.

Last summer, an electrical event dramatically impacted our servers. But our amazing staff had all our courts back up and running within days. Although we continue serving the day-to-day technology needs of our courts and your constituents, more is required to bring us back to full functionality. Please consider funding to restore our data systems to capacity and help protect them against future problems.

By 9 a.m., court staff are greeting potential jurors gathering in anticipation of jury trials, most of which are in criminal cases. Right now, there may be trials involving a burglary in Bethany, forgery in Fulton, or stealing in Salem.

During my travels to your local courthouses, staff express concern about the low compensation for jurors, who are missing a paycheck or time with their families to perform this important civic duty. Last year, you considered changing jurors' compensation, in part by tying their mileage rate to that of state employees. Currently, the statute provides jurors just 7 cents a mile. This year, please send these changes to the governor's desk. Doing so will demonstrate respect for our jurors.

But the day is only just beginning. In the 10 o'clock hour, in our associate divisions, judges may be hearing cases ranging from contract disputes in Columbia to landlord-tenant actions in Liberty to small claims in Ste. Genevieve. By 11 a.m., they are handling arraignments for charges such as trespass in Trenton, vandalism in Versailles, or possession in Potosi.

There is plenty of work outside the courtrooms too. All morning, clerks are helping Missourians in a number of ways. Someone in Fredricktown needs to file a court form. Another person in Grant City wants to establish a garnishment. In Hermann, the circuit clerk – who also is the recorder of deeds – is helping a couple locate a property title.

Things don't stop over the lunch hour, when our municipal divisions may be the busiest, as clerks from Ava to Butler to Lancaster help people understand how to pay their traffic tickets.

Juvenile detention centers across the state are busy as well. Staff in St. Charles and St. Louis city are preparing to help students with afternoon school lessons so they don't fall behind, while employees down in Bloomfield are dishing up lunch for the teenagers detained there. These facilities operate 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year. Their staff are always at work, through snow days and holidays alike. Their focus is steadfast on serving the youth.

Let me introduce you to Demetrius Evans, whose passion for juvenile justice stems from hard-learned lessons. He was in and out of our St. Louis County juvenile system starting at age 7. As an adult, he reached out to staff and mentors whom he had met while in juvenile detention. He was determined to share his story with at-risk youth. He wanted to help them avoid the same mistakes he had made, to change the course of their lives.

Now he works as a deputy juvenile detention officer in Clayton. His boss says Demetrius has faced things in life that would break most people, but he has found a way to thrive and now channels his energies into improving his community “one kid at a time.” Everyone, please join me in thanking Demetrius for investing this second chapter of his life in serving our youth. Demetrius, would you please stand to be recognized?

The increasing number of children in our juvenile detention centers continues to be a challenge. We have too few staff serving too many youth ... with too few beds available statewide. For example, it may be the middle of the night when a juvenile officer in Bowling Green gets a call to immediately find a bed in detention for a young person accused of a serious crime. After reaching out to several facilities, it turns out the closest bed may be several hours away, which puts a burden on the family and is not a very effective use of taxpayer dollars.

We are grateful for the opportunity to work with you this year to increase bed capacity in two central Missouri detention centers, while increasing our security and mental health services and maintaining juvenile detention staff throughout our state.

During the 1 o'clock hour, courthouse proceedings are starting up again. In the circuit division, a judge in Ava is getting ready to handle his favorite kind of case – an adoption. Meanwhile, a person is seeking a divorce in Doniphan, while another is hoping to modify child custody in Charleston. There may be an abandoned infant in need of court intervention in Independence, while children in Chillicothe may need protection from abuse or neglect. And in Tuscumbia, there is a hearing involving a preteen who has been truant.

Many of these cases involve juvenile officers. One such “frontline hero” is Jenn Willis, whose boss calls her “a phenomenal asset” to the team serving the counties around Macon and Shelbyville. She mentors others; attends home visits with children and their families; hosts birthday lunches for kids on her case load; and often drives long distances to visit local youth who are in residential facilities far from home. Jenn is here with us today; please give her a well-earned round of applause!

A lot of work is also happening in our probate divisions, from Palmyra to Pineville. For example, at 2 p.m., parents in Galena are seeking letters of guardianship over their child, who is turning 18 and has serious intellectual disabilities. In Gallatin, a brother and sister are seeking to become guardians of their grandmother, who is suffering from dementia. And in Camdenton, the probate clerk is helping a man file an annual report in his elderly uncle's conservatorship.

By 3 p.m., judges from Edina to Eminence are finalizing probate estates for families who have lost loved ones. In Warsaw and West Plains, individuals are presenting evidence in disputes over wills. Meanwhile, from Marshall to Mount Vernon, courts are holding emergency hearings to determine whether individuals having a mental health crisis need to be hospitalized or can be treated as outpatients.

During my travels, your constituents express concern about mental health issues impacting people in nearly every type of case, from juvenile to criminal to civil. To continue addressing these issues, we want to expand our treatment court divisions to include mental health courts and grow our pretrial services programs. Over three decades, our treatment courts have built a track record of success, helping people stay out of our criminal justice system and find new beginnings as both loving members of their families and productive community citizens.

Last year, you approved funding to expand pretrial services from two pilot sites to programs now in more than nine circuits. Not all defendants charged with a crime need to be detained before trial. We should reserve our county jails for those who are assessed as dangerous or a flight risk. But pretrial services involve more than just assessment and supervision. They also connect nonviolent defendants with community resources to help them find housing, jobs or transportation, or to stay free of substance abuse.

Connecting all of these resources with defendants saves counties money while ensuring public safety. But it also makes it more likely that defendants will actually show up in court and helps close their revolving door into our criminal justice system. Pretrial services are a promising tool to achieve positive results. Together, we can expand these programs to more circuits next year.

While the working day is drawing to a close, much activity continues. At 4 p.m., court clerks from Osceola to Plattsburg are helping women apply for orders of protection. In Springfield, the comfort dog, Derby, is taking a last lap around the courthouse, offering sniffs and snuggles to some children whose parents are getting divorced. Up in Unionville, a judge is performing a wedding for a local couple while the bailiff serves as a witness.

Meanwhile, things remain busy in Kansas City, where one municipal judge is working through an afternoon housing docket online. Another is hosting a walk-in docket in the courtroom for those who signed up to have their cases heard. A third municipal judge is preparing for virtual arraignments. In an effort to accommodate people's lives, these judges and staff have utilized a variety of scheduling options to make court appearances more convenient, so litigants don't have to miss work or family obligations.

By 5 p.m., most local courthouses are closing, but the day is far from done. Judges all over the state continue to electronically sign warrants at all hours of the night or review case files for the next day's proceedings. Here in Jefferson City, our information technology staff are implementing a scheduled update with local IT professionals.

These examples reflect a typical "day in the life" in courthouses throughout Missouri. I hope they show you how vital our courts are to your constituents. Most of the work does not generate headlines or go viral on social media, but ordinary duties create extraordinary results for citizens across our state.

From the frontlines, our local court staff experience first-hand how their everyday work impacts the people in their communities. They see the worry on the faces of their neighbors who come to court, seeking resolution of a legal problem. They hear the anxiety in the voices of people who call with questions. They can't help but internalize some of the traumatic stories shared in the courtroom. They understand how important every case is ... to the individuals involved.

Perhaps you'll find it corny, but I consider our 3,400-plus employees across the state to be one large court family ... a family brought together by a common purpose – to serve people in all corners of the state, to ensure the fair and effective administration of justice for all. I am grateful my judicial career has allowed me to get to know so many incredible members of our court family who make a difference every day.

Our courts are woven into the fabric of our daily lives. There is a reason our courthouses were built in the heart of every county seat in Missouri. If you haven't recently, please go watch a court proceeding, experience it first-hand, and thank the court staff for all they do, day in and day out, to serve everyone in your community. Don't take my word for it! Let our "frontline heroes" show you how strong and vibrant the state of Missouri's judiciary is.

As you tackle important issues this session, remember we stand with you, ready to assist, as your constitutional partners. Together, we can strengthen community safety, enhance the efficiency of our courts, and serve our citizens well. Together, we can leave a strong legacy for Missourians for years to come.

My very best wishes to you all, as you continue this legislative session. God bless you, and this great state!

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Luetkemeyer.

Speaker Patterson resumed the Chair.

On motion of Representative Riley, the House recessed until 2:00 p.m.

 - (d) Uses portable oxygen; or
 - (e) Has a cardiac condition to the extent that the person's functional limitations are classified in severity as class III or class IV according to standards set by the American Heart Association; or
 - (f) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (3) of subsection 16 of this section, a person's age, in and of itself, shall not be a factor in determining whether such person is physically disabled or is otherwise entitled to disabled license plates and/or disabled windshield hanging placards within the meaning of sections 301.141 to 301.143;
- (5) "Physician", a person licensed to practice medicine pursuant to chapter 334;
- (6) "Physician's statement", a statement personally signed by a duly authorized person which certifies that a person is disabled as defined in this section;
- (7) "Temporarily disabled person", a disabled person as defined in this section whose disability or incapacity is expected to last no more than one hundred eighty days;
- (8) "Temporary windshield placard", a placard to be issued to persons who are temporarily disabled persons as defined in this section, certification of which shall be indicated on the physician's statement;
- (9) "Windshield placard", a placard to be issued to persons who are physically disabled as defined in this section, certification of which shall be indicated on the physician's statement.

2. Other authorized health care practitioners may furnish to a disabled or temporarily disabled person a physician's statement for only those physical health care conditions for which such health care practitioner is legally authorized to diagnose and treat.

3. A physician's statement shall:

- (1) Be on a form prescribed by the director of revenue;
- (2) Set forth the specific diagnosis and medical condition which renders the person physically disabled or temporarily disabled as defined in this section;
- (3) Include the physician's or other authorized health care practitioner's license number; and
- (4) Be personally signed by the issuing physician or other authorized health care practitioner.

4. If it is the professional opinion of the physician or other authorized health care practitioner issuing the statement that the physical disability of the applicant, user, or member of the applicant's household is permanent, it shall be noted on the statement. Otherwise, the physician or other authorized health care practitioner shall note on the statement the anticipated length of the disability, which shall determine the expiration date for the temporary windshield placard, and which period shall not exceed one hundred eighty days. If the physician or health care practitioner fails to record an expiration date on the physician's statement, the director shall issue a temporary windshield placard for a period of thirty days.

5. A physician or other authorized health care practitioner who issues or signs a physician's statement so that disabled plates or a disabled windshield placard may be obtained shall maintain in such disabled person's medical chart documentation that such a certificate has been issued, the date the statement was signed, the diagnosis or condition which existed that qualified the person as disabled pursuant to this section and shall contain sufficient documentation so as to objectively confirm that such condition exists.

6. The medical or other records of the physician or other authorized health care practitioner who issued a physician's statement shall be open to inspection and review by such practitioner's licensing board, in order to verify compliance with this section. Information contained within such records shall be confidential unless required for prosecution, disciplinary purposes, or otherwise required to be disclosed by law.

7. Owners of motor vehicles who are residents of the state of Missouri, and who are physically disabled, owners of motor vehicles operated at least fifty percent of the time by a physically disabled person, or owners of motor vehicles used to primarily transport physically disabled members of the owner's household may obtain disabled person license plates. Such owners, upon application to the director accompanied by the documents and fees provided for in this section, a current physician's statement which has been issued within ninety days preceding the date the application is made, and proof of compliance with the state motor vehicle laws relating to registration and licensing of motor vehicles, shall be issued motor vehicle license plates for vehicles, other than commercial vehicles with a gross weight in excess of twenty-four thousand pounds, upon which shall be inscribed the international wheelchair accessibility symbol and the word "DISABLED" in addition to a combination of letters and numbers. Such license plates shall be made with fully reflective material with a common color scheme and design, shall be clearly visible at night, and shall be aesthetically attractive, as prescribed by section 301.130. If at any time an individual who obtained disabled license plates issued under this subsection no longer occupies a residence with a physically disabled person, or no longer owns a vehicle that is operated at least fifty percent of the time by a physically disabled person, such individual shall surrender the disabled license plates to the department within thirty days of becoming ineligible for their use.

8. The director shall further issue, upon request, to such applicant one, and for good cause shown, as the director may define by rule and regulations, not more than two, removable disabled windshield hanging placards for use when the disabled person is occupying a vehicle or when a vehicle not bearing the permanent handicap plate is being used to pick up, deliver, or collect the physically disabled person issued the disabled motor vehicle license plate or disabled windshield hanging placard.

9. No additional fee shall be paid to the director for the issuance of the special license plates provided in this section, except for special personalized license plates and other license plates described in this subsection. Priority for any specific set of special license plates shall be given to the applicant who received the number in the immediately preceding license period subject to the applicant's compliance with the provisions of this section and any applicable rules or regulations issued by the director. If determined feasible by the advisory committee established in section 301.129, any special license plate issued pursuant to this section may be adapted to also include the international wheelchair accessibility symbol and the word "DISABLED" as prescribed in this section and such plate may be issued to any applicant who meets the requirements of this section and the other appropriate provision of this chapter, subject to the requirements and fees of the appropriate provision of this chapter.

10. Any physically disabled person, or the parent or guardian of any such person, or any not-for-profit group, organization, or other entity which transports more than one physically disabled person, may apply to the director of revenue for a removable windshield placard. The placard may be used in motor vehicles which do not bear the permanent handicap symbol on the license plate. Such placards must be hung from the front, middle rearview mirror of a parked motor vehicle and may not be hung from the mirror during operation. These placards may only be used during the period of time when the vehicle is being used by a disabled person, or when the vehicle is being used to pick up, deliver, or collect a disabled person, and shall be surrendered to the department, within thirty days, if a group, organization, or entity that obtained the removable windshield placard due to the transportation of more than one physically disabled person no longer transports more than one disabled person. When there is no rearview mirror, the placard shall be displayed on the dashboard on the driver's side.

11. The removable windshield placard shall conform to the specifications, in respect to size, color, and content, as set forth in federal regulations published by the Department of Transportation. The removable windshield placard shall be renewed every four years. The director may stagger the expiration dates to equalize workload. Only one removable placard may be issued to an applicant who has been issued disabled person license plates. Upon request, one additional windshield placard may be issued to an applicant who has not been issued disabled person license plates.

12. A temporary windshield placard shall be issued to any physically disabled person, or the parent or guardian of any such person who otherwise qualifies except that the physical disability, in the opinion of the physician, is not expected to exceed a period of one hundred eighty days. The temporary windshield placard shall conform to the specifications, in respect to size, color, and content, as set forth in federal regulations published by the Department of Transportation. The fee for the temporary windshield placard shall be two dollars. Upon request, and for good cause shown, one additional temporary windshield placard may be issued to an applicant. Temporary windshield placards shall be issued upon presentation of the physician's statement provided by this section and shall be displayed in the same manner as removable windshield placards. A person or entity shall be qualified to possess and display a temporary removable windshield placard for six months and the placard may be renewed once for an additional six months if a physician's statement pursuant to this section is supplied to the director of revenue at the time of renewal.

13. A windshield placard shall be renewable only by the person or entity to which the placard was originally issued. Any placard issued pursuant to this section shall only be used when the physically disabled occupant for whom the disabled plate or placard was issued is in the motor vehicle at the time of parking or when a physically disabled person is being delivered or collected. A disabled license plate and/or a removable windshield hanging placard are not transferable and may not be used by any other person whether disabled or not.

14. At the time the disabled plates or windshield hanging placards are issued, the director shall issue a registration certificate which shall include the applicant's name, address, and other identifying information as prescribed by the director, or if issued to an agency, such agency's name and address. This certificate shall further contain the disabled license plate number or, for windshield hanging placards, the registration or identifying number stamped on the placard. The validated registration receipt given to the applicant shall serve as the registration certificate.

15. The director shall, upon issuing any disabled registration certificate for license plates and/or windshield hanging placards, provide information which explains that such plates or windshield hanging placards are nontransferable, and the restrictions explaining who and when a person or vehicle which bears or has the disabled plates or windshield hanging placards may be used or be parked in a disabled reserved parking space, and the penalties prescribed for violations of the provisions of this act.

16. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, every applicant for issuance of a disabled license plate or placard shall be required to present a new physician's statement dated no more than ninety days prior to such application, and for renewal applications a physician's statement dated no more than ninety days prior to such application shall be required every eighth year.

(2) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, if the applicant has presented proof of disability in the form of a statement from the United States Department of Veterans Affairs verifying that the person is permanently disabled, the applicant shall not be required to provide a physician's statement for the purpose of issuance or renewal of disabled person license plates or windshield placards.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (f) of subdivision (4) of subsection 1 of this section, any person seventy-five years of age or older who provided a physician's statement with the original application shall not be required to provide a physician's statement for the purpose of renewal of disabled person license plates or windshield placards.

17. The director of revenue upon receiving a physician's statement pursuant to this subsection shall check with the state board of registration for the healing arts created in section 334.120, or the Missouri state board of nursing established in section 335.021, with respect to physician's statements signed by advanced practice registered nurses, or the Missouri state board of chiropractic examiners established in section 331.090, with respect to physician's statements signed by licensed chiropractors, or ~~with~~ the board of optometry established in section 336.130, with respect to physician's statements signed by licensed optometrists, or the state board of podiatric medicine created in section 330.100, with respect to physician's statements signed by physicians of the foot or podiatrists, or the Missouri board of occupational therapy established in section 324.063, with respect to physician's statements signed by licensed occupational therapists, to determine whether the physician is duly licensed and registered pursuant to law.

18. The boards shall cooperate with the director and shall supply information requested pursuant to this subsection. The director shall, in cooperation with the boards which shall assist the director, establish a list of all Missouri physicians and other authorized health care practitioners and of any other information necessary to administer this section.

19. Where the owner's application is based on the fact that the vehicle is used at least fifty percent of the time by a physically disabled person, the applicant shall submit a statement stating this fact, in addition to the physician's statement. The statement shall be signed by both the owner of the vehicle and the physically disabled person. The applicant shall be required to submit this statement with each application for license plates. No person shall willingly or knowingly submit a false statement and any such false statement shall be considered perjury and may be punishable pursuant to section 301.420.

20. The director of revenue shall retain all physicians' statements and all other documents received in connection with a person's application for disabled license plates and/or disabled windshield placards.

21. The director of revenue shall enter into reciprocity agreements with other states or the federal government for the purpose of recognizing disabled person license plates or windshield placards issued to physically disabled persons.

22. When a person to whom disabled person license plates or a removable or temporary windshield placard or both have been issued dies, the personal representative of the decedent or such other person who may come into or otherwise take possession of the disabled license plates or disabled windshield placard shall return the same to the director of revenue under penalty of law. Failure to return such plates or placards shall constitute a class B misdemeanor.

23. The director of revenue may order any person issued disabled person license plates or windshield placards to submit to an examination by a chiropractor, osteopath, or physician, or to such other investigation as will determine whether such person qualifies for the special plates or placards.

24. If such person refuses to submit or is found to no longer qualify for special plates or placards provided for in this section, the director of revenue shall collect the special plates or placards, and shall furnish license plates to replace the ones collected as provided by this chapter.

25. In the event a removable or temporary windshield placard is lost, stolen, or mutilated, the lawful holder thereof shall, within five days, file with the director of revenue an application and an affidavit stating such fact, in order to purchase a new placard. The fee for the replacement windshield placard shall be four dollars.

26. Fraudulent application, renewal, issuance, procurement or use of disabled person license plates or windshield placards shall be a class A misdemeanor. It is a class B misdemeanor for a physician, chiropractor, podiatrist [or], optometrist, or occupational therapist to certify that an individual or family member is qualified for a license plate or windshield placard based on a disability, the diagnosis of which is outside their scope of practice or if there is no basis for the diagnosis."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 40, Section 338.010, Line 121, by inserting after all of said section and line the following:

"338.710. 1. There is hereby created in the Missouri board of pharmacy the "RX Cares for Missouri Program". The goal of the program shall be to promote medication safety and to prevent prescription drug abuse, misuse, and diversion in Missouri.

2. The board, in consultation with the department, shall be authorized to expend, allocate, or award funds appropriated to the board to private or public entities to develop or provide programs or education to promote medication safety or to suppress or prevent prescription drug abuse, misuse, and diversion in the state of Missouri. In no case shall the authorization include, nor the funds be expended for, any state prescription drug monitoring program including, but not limited to, such as are defined in 38 CFR 1.515. Funds disbursed to a state agency under this section may enhance, but shall not supplant, funds otherwise appropriated to such state agency.

3. The board shall be the administrative agency responsible for implementing the program in consultation with the department. The board and the department may enter into interagency agreements between themselves to allow the department to assist in the management or operation of the program. The board may award funds directly to the department to implement, manage, develop, or provide programs or education pursuant to the program.

4. After a full year of program operation, the board shall prepare and submit an evaluation report to the governor and the general assembly describing the operation of the program and the funds allocated. [~~Unless otherwise authorized by the general assembly, the program shall expire on August 28, 2026.~~]" ; and

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

THIRTIETH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Brian Seitz.

Father, we come to You in faith, asking for wisdom as we navigate the legislation that You've put before us today.

Help us to represent You, as we represent the people, in thought, word and deed.

Give us a spirit of discernment as we make decisions, and help us to remember that we are here to serve others, not self.

In Jesus's name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-ninth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

REPORT OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES COMMITTEE ON ELECTIONS
HOUSE ELECTION CONTEST NO. 1

February 24, 2025

Jon Patterson, Speaker
Missouri House of Representatives
State Capitol Building Room 308
Jefferson City, MO 65101

Mr. Speaker,

Your Committee on Elections has taken up and considered House Election Contest No. 1. The committee found that the notice required in statute was neither timely nor sufficient. The below listed members are pleased to submit the attached report:

/s/ Chair, Rodger Reedy	/s/Vice Chair, Representative Ken Waller
/s/ Ranking Minority Member, Representative Eric Woods	/s/ Representative Brad Banderman
/s/ Representative Donna Barnes	/s/ Representative LaKeySha Bosley
Representative Tricia Byrnes	/s/ Representative Mazzie Christensen
/s/ Representative Jeff Coleman	/s/ Representative Peggy McGaugh
/s/ Representative John Simmons	/s/ Representative David Tyson Smith

On January 3, 2025, contestant Stephanos Freeman submitted a verified petition to the Speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives. Petitioner Freeman received verification of receipt of the petition by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

Contestant Freeman, candidate for Missouri House District 132, alleged that the winner of the election for Missouri House District 132, contestee Jeremy Dean, failed to meet the residency requirements set forth in Article III, Section 4 of the Missouri Constitution, and sought an order disqualifying Representative Dean from serving in the Missouri House of Representatives.

This petition was referred to the Committee on Elections on January 30, 2025, as House Election Contest No. 1.

RELEVANT PROVISIONS OF LAW

A review of relevant constitutional provisions, statutes, and House rules found the following:

- Per Article III Section 18 of the Missouri Constitution, each house of the General Assembly shall be sole judge of the qualifications, election and returns of its own members, and may determine the rules of its own proceedings.
- Per section 115.563, RSMo, all contested elections for the office of State Representative shall be heard and determined by the House of Representatives.
- Per section 115.573, RSMo, the determination made by the House of Representatives on a contested election shall be final and not subject to court review.
- Per section 115.565, RSMo, in the case of contests based on the qualifications of a candidate for an office, not later than 30 days after the results of the general election have been certified by the Secretary of State, any candidate who wishes to contest the qualifications of another candidate shall file a verified petition with the Speaker of the House. The petition shall set forth the points on which the contestant wishes to contest the election. The House shall have exclusive jurisdiction over all matters relating to the contest.

- Per section 115.567, RSMo, at the time of filing, the contestee shall be served with a copy of the petition by the contestant or his representative. If the contestee is not found within two days after the petition is filed, the copy of the petition and notice shall be left at the residence address shown on the contestee's declaration of candidacy and by posting the petition in a conspicuous place in the office of the Chief Clerk of the House.
- Per House Rule 36, whenever there shall be filed with the Speaker a notice of contest of the election of a member of the House, he or she shall refer the same, without discussion, either to the regular standing Committee on Elections or a special standing committee appointed to hear the matter. Such committee shall examine the timeliness and sufficiency of the notice and report to the House its recommendations.

ACTIVITY OF THE COMMITTEE AND RECOMMENDATION

On February 20, 2025, the Committee on Elections noticed up House Election Contest No. 1 for public hearing and executive session.

Chair Reedy invited contestant Freeman to address the committee. The committee sought to verify the timeliness and sufficiency of the notice required by sections 115.565 and 115.567, RSMo. Contestant Freeman produced the verification of receipt of the petition by the Chief Clerk as evidence of sufficiency of notice required by 115.565, RSMo. When asked whether he served the contestee with a copy of the petition at the time of filing or left a copy of the petition at the residence address shown on the contestee's declaration of candidacy, contestant Freeman would not answer in the affirmative, and could produce no evidence that he served or attempted to serve the contestee. Considering the evidence presented, the Committee on Elections concluded that contestant Freeman did not serve contestee Dean with a copy of the petition as required by section 115.567, RSMo; thus the notice was neither timely nor sufficient.

By motion of Chair Reedy, the committee entered executive session and took up House Election Contest No. 1. Representative Simmons moved that the committee dismiss House Election Contest No. 1, which motion passed by a vote of 12-0.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

TWENTY-THIRD DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Darin Chappell.

Our God and Father in Heaven,

We thank You for this day, and the opportunity to come here for the good of the People, and for Your glory.

Let us have open hearts and open minds, as we consider the weighty concepts presented before us. Let us pause for clear, and critical, thought before we determine how it is that we may respond. Let us also remember that each of us represents the Citizenry, which expects us to work for their benefit, and put individual aspirations behind the duty with which we've been entrusted to perform.

In Jesus's name...Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-second day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Danny Busick.

Our most precious Heavenly Father, hear our prayer today. Humble each one of us today. Give us the heart of a servant. Help us to want to serve those who elect us. Help us to want to serve each other in this place. We are all here in this House today not because of what we have done but because of what You have done. So please, Lord, grant us wisdom as we make choices that will affect those whom we serve. We pray these things in the name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. And the House said, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-fourth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

The owner shall make an application for a new certificate of ownership, pay the required title fee, and obtain the vehicle examination certificate required pursuant to subsection 9 of section 301.190. If an insurance company pays a claim on a salvage vehicle as defined in section 301.010 and the owner retains the vehicle, as prior salvage, the vehicle shall only be required to meet the examination requirements under subsection 10 of section 301.190. Notarized bills of sale along with a copy of the front and back of the certificate of ownership for all major component parts installed on the vehicle and invoices for all essential parts which are not defined as major component parts shall accompany the application for a new certificate of ownership. 5. The insurance company shall within thirty days of the payment of such claims report to the director of revenue the name and address of such owner, the year, make, model, vehicle identification number, and license plate number of the vehicle, and the date of loss and payment.

6. Anyone who fails to comply with the requirements of this section shall be guilty of a class B misdemeanor.

7. An applicant for registration may make a donation of one dollar to promote a blindness education, screening and treatment program. The director of revenue shall collect the donations and deposit all such donations in the state treasury to the credit of the blindness education, screening and treatment program fund established in section 209.015. Moneys in the blindness education, screening and treatment program fund shall be used solely for the purposes established in section 209.015; except that the department of revenue shall retain no more than one percent for its administrative costs. The donation prescribed in this subsection is voluntary and may be refused by the applicant for registration at the time of issuance or renewal. The director shall inquire of each applicant at the time the applicant presents the completed application to the director whether the applicant is interested in making the one dollar donation prescribed in this subsection.

8. An applicant for registration may make a donation of an amount not less than one dollar to promote an organ donor program. Further amend said bill, Page 6, Section 301.147, and Line 44, by inserting after all of said section and line the following:

"301.190. 1. No certificate of registration of any motor vehicle or trailer, or number plate therefor, shall be issued by the director of revenue unless the applicant therefor shall make application for and be granted a certificate of ownership of such motor vehicle or trailer, or shall present satisfactory evidence that such certificate has been previously issued to the applicant for such motor vehicle or trailer. Application shall be made within thirty days after the applicant acquires the motor vehicle or trailer, unless the motor vehicle was acquired under section 301.213 or subsection 5 of section 301.210 in which case the applicant shall make application within thirty days after receiving title from the dealer, upon a blank form furnished by the director of revenue and shall contain the applicant's identification number, a full description of the motor vehicle or trailer, the vehicle identification number, and the mileage registered on the odometer at the time of transfer of ownership, as required by section 407.536, together with a statement of the applicant's source of title and of any liens or encumbrances on the motor vehicle or trailer, provided that for good cause shown the director of revenue may extend the period of time for making such application. When an owner wants to add or delete a name or names on an application for certificate of ownership of a motor vehicle or trailer that would cause it to be inconsistent with the name or names listed on the notice of lien, the owner shall provide the director with documentation evidencing the lienholder's authorization to add or delete a name or names on an application for certificate of ownership.

2. The director of revenue shall use reasonable diligence in ascertaining whether the facts stated in such application are true and shall, to the extent possible without substantially delaying processing of the application, review any odometer information pertaining to such motor vehicle that is accessible to the director of revenue. If satisfied that the applicant is the lawful owner of such motor vehicle or trailer, or otherwise entitled to have the same registered in his name, the director shall thereupon issue an appropriate certificate over his signature and sealed with the seal of his office, procured and used for such purpose. The certificate shall contain on its face a complete description, vehicle identification number, and other evidence of identification of the motor vehicle or trailer, as the director of revenue may deem necessary, together with the odometer information required to be put on the face of the certificate pursuant to section 407.536, a statement of any liens or encumbrances which the application may show to be thereon, and, if ownership of the vehicle has been transferred, the name of the state issuing the transferor's title and whether the transferor's odometer mileage statement executed pursuant to section 407.536 indicated that the true mileage is materially different from the number of miles shown on the odometer, or is unknown.

3. The director of revenue shall appropriately designate on the current and all subsequent issues of the certificate the words "Reconstructed Motor Vehicle", "Motor Change Vehicle", "Specially Constructed Motor Vehicle", or "Non-USA-Std Motor Vehicle", as defined in section 301.010. Effective July 1, 1990, on all original and all subsequent issues of the certificate for motor vehicles as referenced in subsections 2 and 3 of section 301.020, the director shall print on the face thereof the following designation: "Annual odometer updates may be available from the department of revenue.". On any duplicate certificate, the director of revenue shall reprint on the face thereof the most recent of either:

- (1) The mileage information included on the face of the immediately prior certificate and the date of purchase or issuance of the immediately prior certificate; or
- (2) Any other mileage information provided to the director of revenue, and the date the director obtained or recorded that information.

4. The certificate of ownership issued by the director of revenue shall be manufactured in a manner to prohibit as nearly as possible the ability to alter, counterfeit, duplicate, or forge such certificate without ready detection. In order to carry out the requirements of this subsection, the director of revenue may contract with a nonprofit scientific or educational institution specializing in the analysis of secure documents to determine the most effective methods of rendering Missouri certificates of ownership nonalterable or noncounterfeitable.

5. The fee for each original certificate so issued shall be eight dollars and fifty cents, in addition to the fee for registration of such motor vehicle or trailer. If application for the certificate is not made within thirty days after the vehicle is acquired by the applicant, or where the motor vehicle was acquired under section 301.213 or subsection 5 of section 301.210 and the applicant fails to make application within thirty days after receiving title from the dealer, a delinquency penalty fee of twenty-five dollars for the first thirty days of delinquency and twenty-five dollars for each thirty days of delinquency thereafter, not to exceed a total of two hundred dollars, but such penalty may be waived by the director for a good cause shown. If the director of revenue learns that any person has failed to obtain a certificate within thirty days after acquiring a motor vehicle or trailer, or where the motor vehicle was acquired under section 301.213 or subsection 5 of section 301.210 and the applicant fails to make application within thirty days after receiving title from the dealer, or has sold a vehicle without obtaining a certificate, he shall cancel the registration of all vehicles registered in the name of the person, either as sole owner or as a co-owner, and shall notify the person that the cancellation will remain in force until the person pays the delinquency penalty fee provided in this section, together with all fees, charges and payments which the person should have paid in connection with the certificate of ownership and registration of the vehicle. The certificate shall be good for the life of the motor vehicle or trailer so long as the same is owned or held by the original holder of the certificate and shall not have to be renewed annually.

6. Any applicant for a certificate of ownership requesting the department of revenue to process an application for a certificate of ownership in an expeditious manner requiring special handling shall pay a fee of five dollars in addition to the regular certificate of ownership fee.

7. It is unlawful for any person to operate in this state a motor vehicle or trailer required to be registered under the provisions of the law unless a certificate of ownership has been applied for as provided in this section.

8. Before an original Missouri certificate of ownership is issued, an inspection of the vehicle and a verification of vehicle identification numbers shall be made by the Missouri state highway patrol on vehicles for which there is a current title issued by another state if a Missouri salvage certificate of title has been issued for the same vehicle but no prior inspection and verification has been made in this state, except that if such vehicle has been inspected in another state by a law enforcement officer in a manner comparable to the inspection process in this state and the vehicle identification numbers have been so verified, the applicant shall not be liable for the twenty-five dollar inspection fee if such applicant submits proof of inspection and vehicle identification number verification to the director of revenue at the time of the application. The applicant, who has such a title for a vehicle on which no prior inspection and verification have been made, shall pay a fee of twenty-five dollars for such verification and inspection, payable to the director of revenue at the time of the request for the application, which shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the state highways and transportation department fund.

9. Each application for an original Missouri certificate of ownership for a vehicle which is classified as a reconstructed motor vehicle, specially constructed motor vehicle, kit vehicle, motor change vehicle, non-USA-std motor vehicle, or other vehicle as required by the director of revenue shall be accompanied by a vehicle examination certificate issued by the Missouri state highway patrol, or other law enforcement agency as authorized by the director of revenue. The vehicle examination shall include a verification of vehicle identification numbers and a determination of the classification of the vehicle. The owner of a vehicle which requires a vehicle examination certificate shall present the vehicle for examination and obtain a completed vehicle examination certificate prior to submitting an application for a certificate of ownership to the director of revenue. Notwithstanding any provision of the law to the contrary, an owner presenting a motor vehicle which has been issued a salvage title and which is ten years of age or older to a vehicle examination described in this subsection in order to obtain a certificate of ownership with the designation prior salvage motor vehicle shall not be required to repair or restore the vehicle to its original appearance in order to pass or complete the vehicle examination. The fee for the vehicle examination application shall be twenty-five dollars and shall be collected by the director of revenue at the time of the request for the application and shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the state highways and transportation department fund. If the vehicle is also to be registered in Missouri, the safety inspection required in chapter 307 and the emissions inspection required under chapter 643 shall be completed and the fees required by section 307.365 and section 643.315 shall be charged to the owner.

10. When an application is made for an original Missouri certificate of ownership for a motor vehicle previously registered or titled in a state other than Missouri or as required by section 301.020, it shall be accompanied by a current inspection form certified by a duly authorized official inspection station as described in chapter 307, except that such inspection may be completed by an employee of a licensed new or used motor vehicle dealer for a motor vehicle sold to a person who lives outside of this state and intends to register the vehicle outside of this state or for a motor vehicle having less than thirty thousand miles for the three-year period following the model year of manufacture. The completed form shall certify that the manufacturer's identification number for the vehicle has been inspected, that it is correctly displayed on the vehicle and shall certify the reading shown on the odometer at the time of inspection. The inspection station or, in the case of a motor vehicle sold to a person who lives outside of this state and intends to register the vehicle outside of this state or a motor vehicle having less than thirty thousand miles for the three-year period following the model year of manufacture, the licensed new or used motor vehicle dealer shall collect the same fee as authorized in section 307.365 for making the inspection, and the fee shall be deposited in the same manner as provided in section 307.365. If the vehicle is also to be registered in Missouri, the safety inspection required in chapter 307 and the emissions inspection required under chapter 643 shall be completed and only the fees required by section 307.365 and section 643.315 shall be charged to the owner. This section shall not apply to vehicles being transferred on a manufacturer's statement of origin. A licensed new or used motor vehicle dealer completing the inspection under this section shall be subject to disciplinary action up to and including suspension or revocation of their dealer's license for knowingly completing such inspection with incorrect information. Such disciplinary action shall take place in accordance with department of revenue regular procedures for disciplinary action.

11. Motor vehicles brought into this state in a wrecked or damaged condition or after being towed as an abandoned vehicle pursuant to another state's abandoned motor vehicle procedures shall, in lieu of the inspection required by subsection 10 of this section, be inspected by the Missouri state highway patrol in accordance with subsection 9 of this section. If the inspection reveals the vehicle to be in a salvage or junk condition, the director shall so indicate on any Missouri certificate of ownership issued for such vehicle. Any salvage designation shall be carried forward on all subsequently issued certificates of title for the motor vehicle.

12. When an application is made for an original Missouri certificate of ownership for a motor vehicle previously registered or titled in a state other than Missouri, and the certificate of ownership has been appropriately designated by the issuing state as a reconstructed motor vehicle, motor change vehicle, specially constructed motor vehicle, or prior salvage vehicle, the director of revenue shall appropriately designate on the current Missouri and all subsequent issues of the certificate of ownership the name of the issuing state and such prior designation. The absence of any prior designation shall not relieve a transferor of the duty to exercise due diligence with regard to such certificate of ownership prior to the transfer of a certificate. If a transferor exercises any due diligence with regard to a certificate of ownership, the legal transfer of a certificate of ownership without any designation that is subsequently discovered to have or should have had a designation shall be a transfer free and clear of any liabilities of the transferor associated with the missing designation.

13. When an application is made for an original Missouri certificate of ownership for a motor vehicle previously registered or titled in a state other than Missouri, and the certificate of ownership has been appropriately designated by the issuing state as non-USA-std motor vehicle, the director of revenue shall appropriately designate on the current Missouri and all subsequent issues of the certificate of ownership the words "Non-USA-Std Motor Vehicle".

14. The director of revenue and the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol shall make and enforce rules for the administration of the inspections required by this section.

15. Each application for an original Missouri certificate of ownership for a vehicle which is classified as a reconstructed motor vehicle, manufactured forty or more years prior to the current model year, and which has a value of three thousand dollars or less shall be accompanied by:

- (1) A proper affidavit submitted by the owner explaining how the motor vehicle or trailer was acquired and, if applicable, the reasons a valid certificate of ownership cannot be furnished;
- (2) Photocopies of receipts, bills of sale establishing ownership, or titles, and the source of all major component parts used to rebuild the vehicle;
- (3) A fee of one hundred fifty dollars in addition to the fees described in subsection 5 of this section. Such fee shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the state highways and transportation department fund;
- (4) An inspection certificate, other than a motor vehicle examination certificate required under subsection 9 of this section, completed and issued by the Missouri state highway patrol, or other law enforcement agency as authorized by the director of revenue. The inspection performed by the highway patrol or other authorized local law enforcement agency shall include a check for stolen vehicles.

The department of revenue shall issue the owner a certificate of ownership designated with the words "Reconstructed Motor Vehicle" and deliver such certificate of ownership in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. Notwithstanding subsection 9 of this section, no owner of a reconstructed motor vehicle described in this subsection shall be required to obtain a vehicle examination certificate issued by the Missouri state highway patrol.

301.448. Any person who has served and was honorably discharged or currently serves in ~~[any branch of the United States Armed Forces]~~ the United States Army, Marine Corps, Navy, Air Force, Space Force, Coast Guard, or National Guard, or in the reserves for any such branch, ~~[the United States Coast Guard or reserve,]~~ the United States Merchant Marines or reserve, or the Missouri National Guard, or any subdivision of any of such services or a member of the United States Marine Corps League may apply for special motor vehicle license plates, either solely or jointly, for issuance either to passenger motor vehicles subject to the registration fees provided in section 301.055, or to nonlocal property-carrying commercial motor vehicles licensed for a gross weight of six thousand pounds up through and including twenty-four thousand pounds as provided in section 301.057. Any such person shall make application for the special license plates on a form provided by the director of revenue and furnish such proof that such person is a member or former member of any such branch of service as the director may require. Upon presentation of the proof of eligibility and annual payment of the fee required for personalized license plates in section 301.144, and other fees and documents which may be required by law, the department shall issue personalized license plates which shall bear the seal, logo or emblem, along with a word or words designating the branch or subdivision of such service for which the person applies. All seals, logos, emblems or special symbols shall become an integral part of the license plate; however, no plate shall contain more than one seal, logo, emblem or special symbol and the design of such plates shall be approved by the advisory committee established in section 301.129 and by the branch or subdivision of such service or the Marine Corps League prior to issuing such plates. The plates shall have a white background with a blue and red configuration at the discretion of the advisory committee established in section 301.129. The plates shall be clearly visible at night and shall be aesthetically attractive, as prescribed by section 301.130. The bidding process used to select a vendor for the material to manufacture the license plates authorized by this section shall consider the aesthetic appearance of the plate. The director of revenue shall make necessary rules and regulations for the enforcement of this section, and shall design all necessary forms. All license plates issued under this provision must be renewed in accordance with law. License plates issued under the provisions of this section shall not be transferable to any other person, except that any registered co-owner of the motor vehicle shall be entitled to operate the motor vehicle for the duration of the year licensed, in the event of the death of the qualified applicant.

307.350. 1. The owner of every motor vehicle as defined in section 301.010 which is required to be registered in this state, except:

(1) Motor vehicles having less than one hundred fifty thousand miles ~~[, for the ten-year period following their model year of manufacture]~~ and of model year 2012 or newer, excluding prior salvage vehicles immediately following a rebuilding process and vehicles subject to the provisions of section 307.380;

(2) Those motor vehicles which are engaged in interstate commerce and are proportionately registered in this state with the Missouri highway reciprocity commission, although the owner may request that such vehicle be inspected by an official inspection station, and a peace officer may stop and inspect such vehicles to determine whether the mechanical condition is in compliance with the safety regulations established by the United States Department of Transportation; and

(3) Historic motor vehicles registered pursuant to section 301.131;

(4) Vehicles registered in excess of twenty-four thousand pounds for a period of less than twelve months;

shall submit such vehicles to a biennial inspection of their mechanism and equipment in accordance with the provisions of sections 307.350 to 307.390 and obtain a certificate of inspection and approval and a sticker, seal, or other device from a duly authorized official inspection station. The inspection, except the inspection of school buses which shall be made at the time provided in section 307.375, shall be made at the time prescribed in the rules and regulations issued by the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol; but the inspection of a vehicle shall not be made more than sixty days prior to the date of application for registration or within sixty days of when a vehicle's registration is transferred; however, if a vehicle was purchased from a motor vehicle dealer and a valid inspection had been made within sixty days of the purchase date, the new owner shall be able to utilize an inspection performed within ninety days prior to the application for registration or transfer. Any vehicle manufactured as an even-numbered model year vehicle shall be inspected and approved pursuant to the safety inspection program established pursuant to sections 307.350 to 307.390 in each even-numbered calendar year and any such vehicle manufactured as an odd-numbered model year vehicle shall be inspected and approved pursuant to sections 307.350 to 307.390 in each odd-numbered year. The certificate of inspection and approval shall be a sticker, seal, or other device or combination thereof, as the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol prescribes by regulation and shall be displayed upon the motor vehicle or trailer as prescribed by the regulations established by him. The replacement of certificates of inspection and approval which are lost or destroyed shall be made by the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol under regulations prescribed by him.

2. For the purpose of obtaining an inspection only, it shall be lawful to operate a vehicle over the most direct route between the owner's usual place of residence and an inspection station of such owner's choice, notwithstanding the fact that the vehicle does not have a current state registration license. It shall also be lawful to operate such a vehicle from an inspection station to another place where repairs may be made and to return the vehicle to the inspection station notwithstanding the absence of a current state registration license.

3. No person whose motor vehicle was duly inspected and approved as provided in this section shall be required to have the same motor vehicle again inspected and approved for the sole reason that such person wishes to obtain a set of any special personalized license plates available pursuant to section 301.144 or a set of any license plates available pursuant to section 301.142, prior to the expiration date of such motor vehicle's current registration.

4. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 307.390, violation of this section shall be deemed an infraction.

307.380. 1. Every vehicle of the type required to be inspected upon having been involved in an accident and when so directed by a police officer must be inspected and an official certificate of inspection and approval, sticker, seal or other device be obtained for such vehicle before it is again operated on the highways of this state.

2. At the seller's expense every used motor vehicle of the type required to be inspected by section 307.350 shall immediately prior to sale be fully inspected regardless of any current certificate of inspection and approval, and an appropriate new certificate of inspection and approval, sticker, seal or other device shall be obtained no more than sixty days prior to the date of sale, except that such inspection shall not be required for a motor vehicle sold to a person who lives outside of this state and intends to register the vehicle outside of this state or for a motor vehicle having less than thirty thousand miles for the three-year period following the model year of manufacture when:

(1) Sold by a private seller; or

(2) Sold by a licensed new or used motor vehicle dealer, provided that such dealer has sold at least two hundred motor vehicles in the previous calendar year.

The seller of a motor vehicle required to be inspected under this subsection shall present the certificate of inspection and approval to the buyer at the point of sale and the buyer shall be required to submit the certificate of inspection when applying for registration of the vehicle.

~~[2-]~~ 3. Nothing contained in the provisions of this section shall be construed to prohibit a dealer or any other person from selling a vehicle without a certificate of inspection and approval if the vehicle is sold for junk, salvage, or for rebuilding, or for vehicles sold at public auction or from dealer to dealer. The purchaser of any vehicle which is purchased for junk, salvage, or for rebuilding shall give to the seller an affidavit, on a form prescribed by the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol, stating that the vehicle is being purchased for one of the reasons stated herein. No vehicle of the type required to be inspected by section 307.350 which is purchased as junk, salvage, or for rebuilding shall again be registered in this state until the owner has submitted the vehicle for inspection and obtained an official certificate of inspection and approval, sticker, seal or other device for such vehicle.

2. 3. JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Prove all things; hold fast that which is good. (Thessalonians 5:21)

Eternal God, our refuge in ages past, our strength for the present hour and our hope for future days, we come to You conscious of our own failures and faults but with faith and fortitude because our trust is in You here in the People's House.

Grant that in the adventure of building a better local community, we may be saturated with a joyful spirit and we may be confident that light will always triumph over darkness, right will win over wrong and love will perpetually outlast hatred. To this end keep us devoted to the light, to the right, and to love, plus protection from the intense cold!

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Preston Harlmon.

The Journal of the twenty-fifth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

TWENTIETH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Let love be genuine; hate what is evil, hold fast to what is good. (Romans 12:9)

Eternal Guide of our spirits, we pray that in this sacred minute of prayer we may receive guidance for the day, wisdom for each hour, and goodwill for every moment. Help us to think more and talk less, to pray more and procrastinate less, to live more by high principles and less by low prejudices. Make us so dissatisfied with ourselves that we may turn away from loud professions to quiet practices, from friendly looks to friendly lives, and from excellent words to excellent deeds.

So we pray this Missouri morning that You will renew a right spirit within us and send us out into this day with gracious thoughts, good words, and a great spirit, and protection from the winter blast!

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the nineteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

TWENTY-SECOND DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

I sought the Lord, and He heard me and delivered me from all my fears. (Psalm 34:4)

Eternal God of us all, whose creative spirit summons us to walk in the way of justice, peace, and love, in all reverence of mind and heart we bow before You in this historic chamber.

In the tense wilderness of our human relationships, reveal to us Your will. In the dense darkness of our day, let Your light shine upon our path. In the confusion of conflicting counsel, give us wisdom to see clearly the signs of the times and the courage to walk worthily in the way of Your word.

This day may we depart from selfishness and do good; may we seek peace and pursue it; may we do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with you in our show me state. And don't forget Saint Valentine!

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twentieth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the day, to serve without compensation: Judah Ray Dunigans.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

SIXTEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Behold, the Lord our God has shown us His glory and His greatness, and we have heard His voice out of the midst of the fire; we have seen this day that God does talk with man and that He lives. (Deuteronomy 5:24)

O God, we thank You for the gift of a new day fresh from Your hand. Help us to use these hours to live cleanly, to labor industriously, to love wisely, and to keep our spirits elevated to positive levels of thought. May we have the strength to overcome our difficulties and the courage to carry our responsibilities with honor and with uplifted hearts and minds.

Sustain us in every effort to make a better Missouri and to bring good will to all people. In the midst of this day's work, assure us of Your presence and let the light of Your wisdom fall upon our pathways always and forever.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

SEVENTEENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

In Thee, O Lord, do I put my trust: let me never be put to confusion. (Psalm 71:1)

Lord of our lives, we know of no finer way to begin this day than by pausing before You in prayer and in praying renew our faith, restore our spirits, and rededicate our lives to You and to the welfare of our great state. In these days that call for wisdom, understanding, and good will, may we possess Your spirit, or better still, may Your spirit possess us, that we may plan with faith, work with courage, and live with love in our hearts.

Finally, grant to all Missourians the graces to be super, to be agile like a Reid in the wind, to be Swift, to be accurate like an Arrowhead, to be sure-footed, and to be able to drink from the bowl of victory not once, not twice but three times! Let Eagles not distract us; may we not have penalties; and may God protect your home, their homes, and Mahomes. May God bless America and the Super Bowl from sea to shining Kelce.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

EIGHTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Travis Wilson.

Lord Jesus, we come before You today again with grateful hearts, and we thank You, Lord, for the blessings You have bestowed upon us in this week. We pray, Lord, as the coming week may give us changes regarding the weather, that You would give us safe travels home and back, that You would bless all those across our state who are helping to keep us safe.

We also pray, Lord, that You would help each one of us individually as we serve the people. And even though there may be times that, as written in the Book of Job, where we look before us and behind us and we do not see You, and we look to the right or left and we do not feel You there, we remember that You know the way we take. I pray that You will help us and guide us.

In Jesus's name.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the seventeenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 27, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Brian Seitz.

Father, we thank You for Your grace towards us, that we might see that Your will is done in the statehouse and for the people that we serve.

I ask that You guide our thoughts and actions, that we treat one another with kindness and deference and that in disagreement we can still find commonality.

We ask these things in the name of Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the tenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

The Committee may issue and enforce subpoenas as allowed by law.

E. The recommendation shall also be published in the House Journal and automatically placed on the House Resolutions Calendar without further referral. If the respondent objects in writing to the recommendation within the time set forth by the Committee, the Committee shall proceed to a formal hearing, which shall take place no later than ninety days after the receipt of such objection or as scheduled or extended by a majority vote of the Committee.

RULE 9. Formal Hearings

A. If the respondent objects in writing to the Committee's recommendation pursuant to Rule 8, a formal hearing shall be held on the record to receive evidence upon which to base findings, conclusions, and recommendations, if any, to the House; except that, such hearing may be closed at the discretion of the Committee. The Committee may require, by subpoena or otherwise, or by subpoena duces tecum, the attendance and testimony of such witnesses and the production of such books, records, correspondence, memorandums, papers, electronic communications, and documents as it deems necessary. The Committee may issue and enforce subpoenas as allowed by law.

B. Prior to setting a hearing date and issuing subpoenas for witnesses, the Committee shall resolve the scope and purpose of the hearings. A copy of this statement of scope and purpose shall be furnished to all witnesses. During the course of the hearings the Committee may expand or contract the scope in light of evidence received.

C. The order of the formal hearing shall be as follows:

(1) The Chair shall open the hearing by stating the Committee's authority to conduct the investigation, the purpose of the investigation and its scope.

(2) The complainant and the respondent or counsel for the complainant and respondent shall be permitted to make opening statements. Such opening statements shall not exceed fifteen minutes each.

(3) Testimony from witnesses and other evidence pertinent to the matter under investigation shall be received in the following order:

- (a) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the complainant;

- (d) Rebuttal witnesses.

(4) ~~[The Chair, or his or her designee, and the Committee members may question any witness.]~~ Only the Committee members, or special counsel for the Committee, may question a witness at the formal hearing.

D. Testimony of all witnesses shall be taken under oath. The form of the oath shall be: "Do you solemnly swear (or affirm) that the testimony you will give before this Committee in the matter now under consideration will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth (so help you God)?" The oath shall be administered by the Chair or Committee member designated by the Chair to administer oaths.

RULE 10. Admissibility of Evidence

A. The object of the hearings shall be to ascertain the truth. Any evidence that is relevant and probative shall be admissible, unless privileged or unless the Constitution otherwise requires its exclusion. Objections going only to the weight that should be given to evidence will not justify its exclusion.

B. The Chair or other member presiding shall rule upon any question of admissibility of testimony or evidence presented to the Committee. The Chair or other member presiding may limit the presentation of repetitious evidence. Rulings shall be final unless reversed or modified by a majority vote of the Committee members present.

C. At a formal hearing, the burden of proof is on the complainant with respect to each count to establish the facts alleged therein clearly and convincingly by the evidence that he or she introduces.

RULE 11. Witnesses

A. A subpoena to a witness shall be served sufficiently in advance of his or her scheduled appearance to allow the witness a reasonable period of time, as determined by the Committee, to prepare for the hearing and to employ counsel should he or she so desire.

B. Except as otherwise specifically authorized by the Chair, no member of the Committee or staff shall make public the name of any witness subpoenaed by the Committee before his or her scheduled appearance.

C. Witnesses at formal hearings may be accompanied by their counsel for the purpose of advising them concerning their constitutional rights and to raise objections to procedures or to the admissibility of testimony and evidence.

D. The Chair may limit such testimony when, in his or her discretion, he or she finds the testimony is repetitious, cumulative, or irrelevant.

E. Each witness subpoenaed by the Committee shall be reimbursed for those reasonable expenses approved by the Committee.

F. Each witness shall be furnished a printed copy of the Rules of Procedure and the pertinent provisions of the Rules of the House applicable to the rights of witnesses.

G. Within ten calendar days before the scheduled formal hearing, each party shall notify the Committee and all other parties to the complaint, in writing, of the witnesses that are to appear at the formal hearing. Within five calendar days before the scheduled formal hearing, each party shall notify the Committee and all other parties to the complaint, in writing, of any proposed rebuttal witnesses that are to appear on his or her behalf. The Chair may exercise discretion in allowing any party's good faith request for additional witnesses that are proposed after the expiration of these time limits, or in denying any witness request made by a party if such request is not made in good faith.

RULE 12. Findings, Conclusions and Recommendations

A. At the completion of the primary hearing or formal hearings, the Committee, by a majority vote of its members, shall, within forty-five (45) days, adopt a report stating its findings and conclusions on the complaint. The report shall be filed with the Chief Clerk of the House, with a copy delivered to the office of the Speaker, office of the Majority Floor Leader, and office of the Minority Floor Leader, and shall be printed in the House Journal. In the event the Committee finds that the complaint is not well-founded, the report shall so state, and shall include a copy of a Letter of Reprimand if the Committee authorized such sanction. In the event the Committee finds that the complaint is well-founded, the report shall state the Committee's recommendation in a resolution appended thereto.

B. The resolution shall state the Committee's findings and conclusions on each allegation in the complaint with the recommendation that the House take one of the following actions:

- (1) Letter of reprimand;
- (2) Reprimand;
- (3) Censure; or
- (4) Expulsion.

C. The chair or counsel for the Committee shall redact from its findings, conclusions, and recommendations, the name or names and any identifying information of any person or persons alleged to be a victim of sexual harassment or sexual misconduct by a member. An alleged victim may consent to the release of his or her name or other identifying information by providing a written request to the chair of the Committee.

D. The Committee's recommendation may also require payment of restitution and costs incurred in the investigation, or impose any other sanction that the Committee deems just and proper under the circumstances, but the amount of restitution and costs shall not exceed the costs incurred by the House related to the complaint. Any assessment of fines or restitution and costs shall be paid in full by the member no later than thirty days after the adoption of a recommendation by the House of Representatives. If the member fails to pay in full by the expiration of the thirty-day time period, then the Chief Clerk may deduct from the member's salary an appropriate monthly sum to repay the full amount due by the conclusion of the member's current term of office.

RULE 13. Matters Not Covered in These Rules of Procedure

The Rules of Procedure of the United States House of Representatives Committee on Ethics of the 118th Congress shall be taken as guidelines in deciding questions, issues, and other matters not otherwise provided for in these Rules of Procedure, except that the Rules of the Missouri House of Representatives governing the party representation on committees shall apply to this Committee.

RULE 14. Depositions

The Chair of the Committee, upon consultation with the Vice Chair, may order the taking of depositions, under the authority of Section 21.380, RSMo, by a member or counsel of the Committee. Witnesses may be accompanied at a deposition by counsel to advise the witnesses of their rights. Only members of the Committee, Committee staff designated by the Chair or Vice Chair, an official reporter, the witness, and the witness's counsel are permitted to attend. Depositions may be taken at any stage of the proceedings and may be used as evidence submitted by the Committee on Ethics.

RULE 15. Limitations on Scope and Authority

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 28, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Del Taylor.

As we prepare to receive our governor's state of the state address, I crafted this prayer based on words of wisdom from the former Governor of Georgia who went on to become the 39th president of the United States: Former President Jimmy Carter.

Please bow your heads in prayer:

GOD, Thank You for our lives and the opportunity to make them count for something... Please give us the faith to do whatever we can, wherever we are, whenever we can, for as long as we can, with whatever we have, to try to make a difference.

GOD, we know You are not our personal valet to fulfill our personal desires or guarantee our personal successes. But through this prayer, GOD, we ask You for comfort, reassurance, satisfaction, courage, hope, peace and the strength to live our lives as though Christ were coming this afternoon.

And together the House says, Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the eleventh day was approved as printed by the following vote:

The Sergeant-at-Arms announced the approach of the Honorable Mike Kehoe, Governor of the State of Missouri. The Governor was duly escorted to the House Chamber and the Speaker's dais, where he delivered the following message to the Assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE STATE
GOVERNOR MIKE KEHOE

Thank you, Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Speaker, statewide officials, Judges of the Missouri Supreme Court, members of the General Assembly, esteemed guests, and my fellow Missourians.

I am proud to be welcomed to the dais for the first time as the Governor of the State of Missouri, joined by someone who has been by my side for 35 years—my wife and the First Lady of Missouri, Claudia Kehoe.

Today, I stand before you with hope for the future of our state, determined to meet the challenges ahead.

Just over two weeks ago, I was humbled to be sworn in as the 58th Governor of Missouri.

My story is truly one of the American Dream. I am the son of a single mother, raised on hard work and faith—who, as a child, never knew if he would own his own bicycle, let alone serve as your governor.

And the historic makeup of this 103rd General Assembly reflects on the opportunities offered by this great state and nation. For the first time in history, a woman holds the title of Senate President Pro Tem: Senator Cindy O’Laughlin. And Speaker Jon Patterson is not only the first Kansas City-area legislator elected as Missouri House Speaker since before the Civil War, but he is also the first Asian American to lead in this Chamber. Since the Speaker is from Kansas City, as Coach Reid would say... How ‘bout those Chiefs!

I am told that I am the first Governor to serve our great state who was born and raised in the city of St. Louis by a single mother.

And all of us got here today based on merit and hard work.

One of the last things my mentor, Dave Sinclair, told me was to “never forget my roots.”

He used to write notes at the dealership on paper plates. As I learned from him, I took up this practice—and I still do to this day, nearly 40 years later.

I share this because, throughout my years in this building, I have worked to follow Mr. Sinclair’s advice—to always remember my roots and stay humble.

The relationships we build here and the way we treat people are far more important than any praise, headline, or viral social media moment. Missourians didn’t send us here to work ourselves; we’re here to serve them.

I said earlier that I will never forget my roots. Well, I’ve sat where you sit. I understand the pressures you face. And I want to work with you—not against you—because I believe we can only secure Missouri’s future if we work together.

Any efforts we make to improve the lives of Missourians—whether it’s expanding education opportunities, cutting taxes, or expanding child care—none of it matters if Missourians aren’t safe. Securing Missouri’s future begins with public safety.

Achieving safety and security is not just a goal—it is the foundations of opportunity, stability, and progress. My administration committed to equipping law enforcement with the tools, training, and resources they need to succeed.

By focusing on both enforcement and prevention, Missouri will empower the brave men and women in uniform, enabling every Missourian to live, work, and simply walk through their neighborhoods without fear.

Before taking office, I promised Missourians I would take action on crime as soon as my hand left the Bible on Inauguration Day—and we did just that. We signed six executive orders developed based on input from law enforcement to launch our Safer Missouri initiative.

From organizing regional efforts to arrest dangerous fugitives to charging our state troopers to work with the Trump Administration and our federal partners in an effort to crack down on illegal immigration and establishing a statewide program that encourages communities to support law enforcement, these executive orders were our first step in a comprehensive, multi-phase plan.

But our work on day one was just the start. As I have said before, in the coming weeks, months, and years, our administration will be relentless in our pursuit to make Missouri a place where it's easier to be a cop than a criminal.

This includes supporting law enforcement recruitment and retention efforts.

In our budget, we are recommending funding to bolster the existing Missouri Blue Scholarship Program for law enforcement basic training. We're also recommending $10 million in funding to assist local communities who prioritize public safety with equipment and training needs through our Blue Shield Program.

We're also supporting legislation to create a new scholarship for law enforcement to access postsecondary education outside of basic training, to assist with recruitment and retention efforts.

When we support law enforcement officers, we must also support their families. I urge the General Assembly to pass legislation from Representative Stinnett and Senator Ben Brown extending professional licensing reciprocity for spouses of law enforcement that move to Missouri from another state.

And, we're adding $2.5 million to the budget to support the sheriff's retirement system for another year.

Our budget also supports funding for a new crime lab in Cape Girardeau, serving the Missouri State Highway Patrol Troop E region.

These steps are critical to making Missouri the best state in the nation to be a law enforcement officer.

Today, there is a lack of hope in many areas of our state, especially in our large metropolitan areas. Many of you know my story. I grew up in North St. Louis City. My old neighborhood was never perfect, but in my younger years, I could still safely walk the streets.

Young people in my old neighborhood—and across our state—now feel like they must turn to violence and gangs to survive. I have walked the streets of my childhood homes in Walnut Park and Baden and spoken to these young people. They simply believe there is no other option. They don't know what opportunities exist outside of the violence and crime that plagues their communities.

This lack of hope and pattern of behavior has taken too many lives and livelihoods of Missourians. It's unacceptable – and we're taking action.

As part of our Safer Missouri crime plan, I am urging the General Assembly to pass a comprehensive crime bill sponsored by Senators Fitzwater and Schroer, and Representative Christ.

We're going to increase penalties for crimes like violent rioting and fleeing in a vehicle and we're going to crack down on criminals who participate in reckless stunt driving and street racing, which have damaged property and taken lives for far too long.

This legislation also includes increasing oversight and accountability of the St. Louis Metropolitan Police Department.

The current status quo in St. Louis is unacceptable. As the economic powerhouse of our state, we cannot continue to let crime kill growth in the region and drive businesses and families to move outside of our state's borders.

In St. Louis, we have one of the nation's top police chiefs in Chief Robert Tracy, and a tough on crime prosecutor in St. Louis Circuit Attorney Gabe Gore. They could do even more if we give them the tools they need to continue their success.

Our major cities—St. Louis, Kansas City, Columbia, and Springfield—can only survive with business investment and we have to be honest where we stand on crime.

The days of political and subjective statistics are done under my administration. The polling data I care about is whether or not a business feels safe enough to invest in our cities. That's the barometer. Period.

It's one thing for elected officials to say they support law enforcement and strengthening public safety, but I hope you will join me in showing support for law enforcement and the businesses creating jobs in our state with real action.

A shocking statistic that isn't talked about enough, is that fentanyl is the leading cause of death for Americans between the ages of 18 and 45. It has destroyed far too many lives and families. We will tackle the fentanyl crisis in Missouri.

Today, we're joined by Lizzy and Hal Schott from Wildwood, Missouri. Over the summer, I had the privilege of meeting Lizzy, and hearing how this crisis has impacted her family. In tears, she shared that her son, Keenan, tragically passed away at the young age of 30 on July 19, 2021.

Keenan passed from fentanyl toxicity.

Keenan was loved by many. A graduate from Truman State University with honors, he worked and owned his own home. Like many young people today, he struggled with mental health issues and was introduced to fentanyl in an effort to self-medicate and feel better.

Since Keenan's passing, Lizzy has dedicated her time and efforts to educating others on the deadly consequences of fentanyl.

Please join me in recognizing Lizzy Schott for all she does to spread awareness and honor her son's memory.

If a drug dealer sells fentanyl that kills a Missourian, they should be charged with first degree murder. Period.

I urge the legislature to take action on this and support Senator Schroer and Representative Keathley's efforts, in honor of all those lost to this tragic epidemic.

In an effort to identify areas of high fentanyl use in schools across the state, we are including $4 million in investment for fentanyl testing in wastewater systems at schools. This is a $2 million increase since last year.

Sadly, much of this crisis is coming from our nation's southern border. Last year, I had the privilege of going to the border twice to see the work of our Missouri National Guard and Missouri State Highway Patrol in Texas. Every state is truly a border state.

Missouri will work with President Trump to crack down on illegal immigration and the deadly drugs and criminals that have flooded through our borders.

Crime, illegal immigration, and drugs—these are the things that threaten the success of Missourians. But we have fantastic partners who are committed to working to get these priorities accomplished.

In the upper gallery, the team who helped craft our Safer Missouri initiative are with us today. These individuals represent every sector of law enforcement, from police officers and state troopers to police chiefs and sheriffs. This group worked with my team, Attorney General Andrew Bailey, and members of the General Assembly to put our vision into tangible action.

Would our Safer Missouri crime plan group please stand to be recognized?

I also want to recognize all members of law enforcement and first responders, past and present with us here today... Would you please stand to be recognized?

Thank you for your service and sacrifice to our state. My administration will always have your backs.

While public safety is priority number one for Missourians to prosper, we must also have a robust economy and aggressive economic development efforts.

We're going to work hard to retain and recruit businesses here in Missouri. From manufacturers, to retailers, to Missouri's sports teams, these businesses, who provide jobs and opportunities to Missourians, are an important part of our state's economic success.

As a small businessman and entrepreneur who has created hundreds of jobs, I'm excited to get to work securing investment and growth in our state.

That's why we support legislation to extend the Deal Closing Fund, sponsored by Senator Bernskoetter and Representative Knight, as a continued tool for our economic development teams.

Infrastructure and economic development go hand in hand. While there has been significant investment in infrastructure in recent years, including the expansion of I-70 and multiple bridge projects, we are including a reappropriation of last year's $100 million for rural road improvements in this year's budget to ensure all those funds are invested in rural infrastructure.

In order to compete with other states, we must focus on reducing taxes and cutting regulations, so families keep more of their own money, and so job creators look at our state to expand and hire more hard-working Missourians.

It won't be easy. It will take time, but I have directed the Missouri Department of Revenue to work with my staff on a sustainable and comprehensive plan to eliminate the individual income tax once and for all.

We are committed to this goal. While we task our best and brightest with developing a responsible plan to eliminate the income tax, the legislature must continue with the success we've seen from cutting taxes so far.

So, I ask you to work with us on this effort and add additional Senate Bill 509 style income tax cut triggers this session.

Missourians can spend their money a whole lot better than government, and I hope you will work with me to help Missouri families secure a better future for themselves...a future with no income taxes.

In addition to tax cuts, I hope the legislature will send substantial tort reform to my desk this session. Under this administration, we will not let frivolous lawsuits and litigation crush economic growth.

As many of you have heard me say before, a strong early childhood system is necessary for a prosperous economy. We know that when investing in our children, we are not only preparing them to be ready for school and to be successful later in life; we are also helping the workforce today.

When parents have a safe and reliable place to take their children and know that they are taken care of, they are able to focus on their work and make our communities and economy even stronger.

This is personal to me. My mother worked hard to support my siblings and me. When one of us got sick, she had to make a choice: either leave us at home alone or go to work to pay for our groceries that week. No parent, especially a single mother, should ever have to make that decision.

The biggest challenge to the child care crisis is getting more teachers in early childhood classrooms and addressing the current regulatory environment.

To be successful, we need commitments from the local and state levels, from public and private partners working together, to find ways to expand access to quality child care in every community across the state.

Thanks to the work of advocates like Wendy Doyle at United WE, we know the administrative burden and complexities involved in licensing a child care program. Missouri must do better.

While there are certainly a number of requirements needed to keep kids safe, we can do a better job of making regulations easier to understand, implement, and comply with.

Today, I will be issuing an executive order charging the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education-Office of Childhood with a complete re-write of the child care regulations to make them easier to understand and navigate.

They will also find ways to cut the existing regulations substantially, and I mean substantially... all while keeping kids safe. I expect a plan for this to be completed in months, not years.

While the state can't carry the entire burden of this issue, we can be a partner alongside families, employers, and child care providers. We must provide a viable path for businesses who want to offer child care as a fringe benefit to their employees.

We are also including $10 million in this year's budget to offer grant funding opportunities to support partnerships between employers, community partners, and the child care industry to make more child care slots available for Missouri families.

We have seen partnerships supported by these grants in recent history have great success.

Today, in the upper gallery, we are joined by Alena Malone with Lovely Child Development Center located in the City of Ferguson. Alena also serves as the Director of Saving our Children North County Resource Center, located in Bellefontaine Neighbors. She is joined by Assistant Director Theresa Hester.

Alena utilized the Innovation Grant to start up a child care facility that serves 56 children in North St. Louis County. She is a passionate advocate for improving Missouri's child care system, and her work exemplifies the power of collaboration between employers and community partners.

Please join me in recognizing Alena for providing care and services to children in the city of Ferguson and Bellefontaine Neighbors and for her work to improve Missouri's child care industry.

My administration is committed to timely payments for the child care providers who partner with the state to provide care. We know delays in payments from the state have made it difficult for providers to even stay open.

So, starting in fiscal year 2026, providers will receive payments from the state at the beginning of the month and we will pay on enrollment – just like private pay. We will not allow late payments, or technology issues to put these small businesses at risk of not being able to provide for families in need of child care.

Together, we will secure a better environment for providers to thrive, and Missouri's children to be set up for success.

When those kids get older, they will have access to quality education, including career and technical education opportunities that prepare them for the workforce.

In Missouri, we get a lot right when it comes to career and technical education, but gaps remain, and we can do more to increase technical education to skill up our current and future workforce.

We're proposing $15 million in new funding to address equipment, space, and operational needs of career and technical centers across the state, as well as $5 million more on an annual basis to support increased operational costs.

Every student in Missouri should be able to talk to school counselors about their future career path, whether that includes college or not.

That's why we are proposing an increase of $1 million in funding to expand career counseling to more high schools across the state.

But it's not all about funding, either. I will use this office, and call on the legislature to use their voices, to drive conversation and emphasize the importance of these programs.

I am announcing today that we have issued an additional executive order establishing the Governor's Workforce of the Future Challenge, instructing DESE to put a plan in place for better coordination among key stakeholders, including K-12 schools, local business and industry, and higher education to improve the state's career and technical education programs and infrastructure. Again, I expect this work to happen at business-speed, in months...not years.

By addressing critical needs of tax cuts for families, rural roads, child care access, and career technical training, our budget priorities foster innovation, strengthen communities, and ensure that Missouri remains a competitive and thriving state for all.

Our hard-working agriculture families and their efforts are critical to Missouri's economic success. From multi-generational farmers and ranchers to first-generation farmers like Claudia and me, we must get government out of the way and let our farmers and ranchers do what they do best: work hard and continue to produce results.

Securing the future of agriculture also means investing in the next generation.

At the urging of Senator Black, our budget includes $800,000 in permanent funding for Missouri FFA.

Seated in the upper gallery is Ms. Adeline Thessen. Addie grew up on her family's fifth-generation cattle and row crop farm in Taos.

Since a young age, she has always had a passion for agriculture. I know this because I bought several of her steers during her 16-plus years of involvement in FFA and 4-H.

She is a 2024 graduate of the University of Missouri's College of Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources, where she found a passion for agronomy.

Today, Addie works in precision farming, specializing in product support for spray drones and precision equipment. Now, she is an operator and partial owner with her parents on their family farm. Addie also judges county and state livestock shows and helps local youth and their 4-H livestock projects.

She is a prime example of the future of agriculture.

Please join me in recognizing Addie and the Thessen family, even though I may have paid a little too much for those steers...

The Missouri State Fair is a tradition like no other in our state, and Claudia and I have been proud to support the Fair for many years now. It is the best display of agriculture and the future of our state's leading industry.

We're proposing a substantial investment in new bonding to support the construction of a 40,000 square foot covered multi-use livestock barn and 80,000 square foot stalling barn to house equine and other livestock at the Fair's new arena, which was previously supported by the legislature and is now under construction.

As a businessman, I believe a return on investment is critical to any deal and thanks to the cooperation of the Missouri State Fair Commission, we expect their help to retire the bonds for this project with the revenues from this facility. Once fully operational, we expect these investments to pay for themselves by attracting more national and regional events and shows, bringing increased economic activity to Sedalia.

While Missouri agriculture has a $93.7 billion economic impact in our state, there is still room to grow. As lieutenant governor, I was proud to work with education and agriculture stakeholders on the Missouri Food, Beverage and Forest Products Manufacturing Task Force, where we identified areas for future growth through value-added practices.

Our budget also includes funding to expand Missouri's meat and poultry inspection and production capacity, which will aid in minimizing delays for producers.

Under this administration, our ag industry will continue to grow and thrive because it is not only the backbone of our economy, but our producers feed and clothe the world.

Missouri farmers give back, too. Claudia and I are proud to participate in the Drive to Feed Kids each year at the Fair, held by Missouri Farmers Care. Since 2017, this event has provided over 13 million meals to Missouri children and families.

In partnership with the Missouri Department of Agriculture, Missouri Farmers Care is bringing this meal packing event to the State Capitol this session. I hope to see legislators join us in this effort to fight hunger in our state.

Would any elected official or guest here today who is in the production agriculture business please stand to be recognized?

We know that securing Missouri's future is only possible with a quality education for our children. Strengthening public education, expanding school choice, and empowering parents is critical to ensuring that every single student has the opportunity to get a world class education.

To expand school choice, I urge the General Assembly to pass voluntary open enrollment in public schools, sponsored by Senator Trent and Representative Pollitt.

We've also included $50 million in general revenue funding to bolster the ESA program.

By adding state funding to the tax credit program we will be able to serve substantially more children than the program has in the past year.

We are proposing additional funding for charter schools to address capital improvement needs.

This year, we are recommending a $200 million increase for the Foundation Formula, the largest increase since the current Formula was created. And, over $370 million to fully fund the state's commitment for school transportation needs to support our hardworking teachers. Our budget includes $33 million to fund teacher salaries. We've also included $30 million for Small School Grants to support the continued success of our small rural school districts, the heartbeat of their communities.

You're going to hear it in the media, so you'll hear it from me first. While it's clear our support for K-12 education is a record investment and the largest we have ever seen, we are not fully funding the Foundation Formula.

While we are committed to making good on the funding commitments passed by the legislature last year, this budget does not include the additional $300 million liability that was imposed by an administrative body.

I want to be clear that I am a proud supporter of education in all its forms—public schools, private schools, charter schools—as long as Missouri's children are getting a quality education. Throwing more money at the problem is not the solution. We have invested over $4 billion in K-12 education and we still aren't seeing acceptable results across the state.

The Foundation Formula in its current form has gotten out of control. With funding requirements this body has implemented as well as changing educational needs across the state, we no longer feel the formula, as currently written, appropriately allocates funding for public education. We must find a solution that does a better job of incentivizing performance and managing unrealistic annual adjustments.

The current formula was written twenty years ago.

Since its inception, funding for the Foundation Formula has increased by nearly $2 billion while enrollment has declined by nearly 30,000 students.

That is why today we are announcing that we have issued an additional executive order establishing the School Funding Modernization Task Force to recommend changes to better serve students and families.

We know that rewriting the Formula is a monumental task. It's about looking decades ahead, and not just the current needs of school districts. I urge those involved to keep that in mind so we can solve this problem for future generations of children.

We must modernize the way we fund education, while recognizing high performing schools and ensuring lower performing schools have a plan to do better.

We are also committed to ensuring we have the best qualified people in place to lead Missouri public and charter education. Former Missouri State Senator and current Commissioner Karla Eslinger is a fantastic start and I have committed to meeting regularly with the Commissioner and legislative leadership to move our vision of increased accountability for school performance and student outcomes forward.

But I want to be clear, this administration will not retain or appoint members of the State Board of Education who do not align with our vision.

As I've said before, we must commit to teaching our kids how to think not what to think. Because in Missouri, we educate, we do not indoctrinate.

In the classroom, common sense discipline is a must. Disrespect towards a teacher or other students is unacceptable. If we are teaching kids to be prepared to succeed in the workforce, respect and discipline are a basic component.

We all agree that kids deserve to feel safe at school.

I am asking the General Assembly to pass legislation requiring applicable agencies to meet regularly to discuss school safety concerns, planning, and prevention efforts, sponsored by Senator Burger and Representative Chris Brown as well as legislation sponsored by Senator Henderson and Representative Allen that requires schools to report school safety incidents and threats to DESE so we can have better data on trends and occurrences.

These investments in public safety, economic development, education, and agriculture are made possible, in part by the work of dedicated public servants across the state...

As we built out our Cabinet, we chose leaders who will strive to work at business-speed, keeping efficiency and effective practices at top of mind in everything we do—a Cabinet that works for you.

In an effort to build on our vision for state government, I have directed these leaders to spend dedicated time each month reviewing regulations, their necessity, and ways to reduce their regulatory burden. I look forward to working with these men and women, and the nearly 49,000 hardworking state team members in the years ahead.

Would the members of the Cabinet please stand to be recognized for all you do on behalf of the people of Missouri?

We have made much progress on supporting our state workforce in recent years, but more is needed.

As any businessperson will understand, we must keep up with the market to retain and recruit a talented workforce. Right now, it's extremely difficult for our agencies to operate efficiently with an average turnover rate of 20 percent in our state workforce. That's why we are proposing a statewide retention pay plan increase for state employees for every two years of service to the state with a cap of twenty years of service. State employees working in 24/7 facilities that already have this time of service pay plan will receive a cost-of-living adjustment.

Finally, I will say this... this administration will be built on merit, and we will not support DEI programs in state government. I will be taking action on this in the coming weeks...

As we are seeing a national movement to reduce the size of government and focus on efficient practices, I hope to see the same in Missouri.

You won't find this in the budget currently, as it's a work in progress, but I am working with House and Senate leadership to ensure Missouri has its own version of a DOGE government efficiency initiative very soon—a Show-Me DOGE, if you will...

Our Missouri DOGE will have an immediate return on investment, as we will ask industry experts from around the state to donate their time to assist our state agencies in the areas of their expertise. For every dollar we invest in this, we will ask that they invest the same in their time and efforts.

We cannot secure a brighter future for our state without a functioning and efficient state government that serves Missouri families well.

Because this is why we are all here—to be a voice for families, children, and those who can't speak for themselves. That includes the unborn.

In our state, we value a culture of life. We treasure our families.

Regardless of how you voted on Amendment 3, Missouri has so much more to offer women. In Missouri, there are better, safer choices than abortion, and we are committed to helping pregnant women know these exist, including the incredible Pregnancy Resource Centers across the state.

We're asking the General Assembly to support alternatives to abortion with 4 million dollars in additional funding to benefit expecting and new mothers. That's a more than 50% increase to existing services.

Let's work together to support Missouri women so abortion doesn't even have to be considered an option.

Working together...It's what we must do to accomplish these goals and a better Missouri.

It won't be easy. The politics of today's world tells us that we can't work together, and that consensus is just not possible. But I have built a life and a career on doing just that, without sacrificing my core, Christian, conservative beliefs.

Because it's not just about us. Our work in this building is only possible because of those who came before us: the sacrifices of our brave service men and women.

That is why we are proposing an additional $10 million of general revenue funding to our Missouri Veterans Homes. Under the Kehoe Administration, no veterans home will close due to a lack of state funding.

In the Chamber with us today, we are honored to have the Commanding Officer of the USS Missouri, Commander Andrews, and crew members Senior Chief Weaver and Petty Officer Schmidt – who is from Nixa, Missouri.

Missourians thank you for all you do to keep our country safe and honor Missouri's namesake Naval ship. Would you please stand to be recognized?

Now, would any other US military veterans or active duty members please stand to be recognized? Please join me in thanking these men and women for their service.

So, to the members of the General Assembly, I look forward to working with you in this first session that I have the privilege of serving as your Governor.

I promise I will never "forget my roots" and I will work with you, just as I have in this building for years.

My friend and United States Senator Roy Blunt often told a story of a statue, that stood in our Nation's Capitol for over 100 years, who no one knew the name of. He told this story because it's not about your name or who you are when you are a public servant.

Senator Blunt said, "What we do here is more important than who we are."

I try to live by that today, and I hope the members in this chamber will as well.

Because I believe the budget and legislative priorities we outlined today will be a first step in securing an even safer, stronger, and more prosperous Missouri!

May God bless you. May God bless the United States of America. And may God continue to bless the great State of Missouri!

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Luetkemeyer.

Speaker Patterson resumed the Chair.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

We seek Your guidance. We ask for Your favor. We long for a sense of Your presence, as we make decisions that affect the people of this great state.

We thank You for that Grace, as in You we live, breathe and have our very being. We thank You, Father, in the name of Christ Jesus. Amen

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

RULE 9. Formal Hearings

A. If the respondent objects in writing to the Committee's recommendation pursuant to Rule 8, a formal hearing shall be held on the record to receive evidence upon which to base findings, conclusions, and recommendations, if any, to the House; except that, such hearing may be closed at the discretion of the Committee. The Committee may require, by subpoena or otherwise, or by subpoena duces tecum, the attendance and testimony of such witnesses and the production of such books, records, correspondence, memorandums, papers, electronic communications, and documents as it deems necessary. RULE 10. Admissibility of Evidence

A. The object of the hearings shall be to ascertain the truth. Any evidence that is relevant and probative shall be admissible, unless privileged or unless the Constitution otherwise requires its exclusion. Objections going only to the weight that should be given to evidence will not justify its exclusion.

B. The Chair or other member presiding shall rule upon any question of admissibility of testimony or evidence presented to the Committee. The Chair or other member presiding may limit the presentation of repetitious evidence. Rulings shall be final unless reversed or modified by a majority vote of the Committee members present.

C. Witnesses at formal hearings may be accompanied by their counsel for the purpose of advising them concerning their constitutional rights and to raise objections to procedures or to the admissibility of testimony and evidence.

D. The Chair may limit such testimony when, in his or her discretion, he or she finds the testimony is repetitious, cumulative, or irrelevant.

E. Each witness subpoenaed by the Committee shall be reimbursed for those reasonable expenses approved by the Committee.

F. Each witness shall be furnished a printed copy of the Rules of Procedure and the pertinent provisions of the Rules of the House applicable to the rights of witnesses.

G. Within ten calendar days before the scheduled formal hearing, each party shall notify the Committee and all other parties to the complaint, in writing, of the witnesses that are to appear at the formal hearing. Within five calendar days before the scheduled formal hearing, each party shall notify the Committee and all other parties to the complaint, in writing, of any proposed rebuttal witnesses that are to appear on his or her behalf. The Chair may exercise discretion in allowing any party's good faith request for additional witnesses that are proposed after the expiration of these time limits, or in denying any witness request made by a party if such request is not made in good faith.

RULE 12. Findings, Conclusions and Recommendations

A. At the completion of the primary hearing or formal hearings, the Committee, by a majority vote of its members, shall, within forty-five (45) days, adopt a report stating its findings and conclusions on the complaint. The report shall be filed with the Chief Clerk of the House, with a copy delivered to the office of the Speaker, office of the Majority Floor Leader, and office of the Minority Floor Leader, and shall be printed in the House Journal. In the event the Committee finds that the complaint is not well-founded, the report shall so state, and shall include a copy of a Letter of Reproval if the Committee authorized such sanction. In the event the Committee finds that the complaint is well-founded, the report shall state the Committee's recommendation in a resolution appended thereto.

B. The resolution shall state the Committee's findings and conclusions on each allegation in the complaint with the recommendation that the House take one of the following actions:

- (1) Letter of reproval;
- (2) Reprimand;
- (3) Censure; or
- (4) Expulsion.

C. The chair or counsel for the Committee shall redact from its findings, conclusions, and recommendations, the name or names and any identifying information of any person or persons alleged to be a victim of sexual harassment or sexual misconduct by a member. An alleged victim may consent to the release of his or her name or other identifying information by providing a written request to the chair of the Committee.

D. The Committee's recommendation may also require payment of restitution and costs incurred in the investigation, or impose any other sanction that the Committee deems just and proper under the circumstances, but the amount of restitution and costs shall not exceed the costs incurred by the House related to the complaint. Any assessment of fines or restitution and costs shall be paid in full by the member no later than thirty days after the adoption of a recommendation by the House of Representatives. If the member fails to pay in full by the expiration of the thirty-day time period, then the Chief Clerk may deduct from the member's salary an appropriate monthly sum to repay the full amount due by the conclusion of the member's current term of office.

RULE 13. Matters Not Covered in These Rules of Procedure

The Rules of Procedure of the United States House of Representatives Committee on Ethics [~~of the 118th Congress~~] shall be taken as guidelines in deciding questions, issues, and other matters not otherwise provided for in these Rules of Procedure, except that the Rules of the Missouri House of Representatives governing the party representation on committees shall apply to this Committee.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

EXECUTIVE ORDER 25-14

WHEREAS, Article IX, section 1(a) of the Missouri Constitution states that a “general diffusion of knowledge and intelligence” is essential to the rights and liberties of the people; and

WHEREAS, Article IX, section 1(a) of the Missouri Constitution provides that the General Assembly shall establish and maintain free public schools; and

WHEREAS, access to quality education for our youth is paramount to the success of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the current funding mechanisms for public and charter schools in Missouri require reevaluation to ensure they are sustainable, equitable, and effective in supporting optimal educational outcomes; and

WHEREAS, maximizing educational outcomes through the most efficient use of funding is essential to ensuring every student in Missouri has access to quality education, thereby setting Missouri children and youth up for success both now and in the future; and

WHEREAS, it is essential to modernize the K-12 education foundation formula to reflect contemporary educational needs, economic realities, and demographic shifts; and

WHEREAS, a comprehensive review by a diverse group of stakeholders is necessary to achieve a sustainable, equitable, and fair funding model; and

WHEREAS, transparency and accountability in the allocation of educational funds are essential to maintain public trust and ensure tax dollars are effectively used to enhance student learning.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, MIKE KEHOE, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and Laws of the State of Missouri, do hereby establish the Missouri School Funding Modernization Task Force as follows:

I. Composition:

The Task Force shall consist of the following members:

- a. Two senators from the Missouri Senate, appointed by the President Pro Tem of the Senate;
- b. Two representatives from the Missouri House of Representatives, appointed by the Speaker of the House;
- c. A member of the State Board of Education, appointed by the State Board of Education;
- d. A superintendent from a large urban school district in Missouri, appointed by the Governor;
- e. A superintendent from a small rural school district in Missouri, appointed by the Governor;
- f. A teacher from a school in Missouri, appointed by the Governor;
- g. A representative of charter schools in Missouri, appointed by the Governor;
- h. A representative from a non-profit organization that works on expanding school choice in Missouri, appointed by the Governor;
- i. A representative of the business community, appointed by the Governor;
- j. A representative of the agriculture industry, appointed by the Governor; and
- k. Other members as appointed by the Governor.

II. Support:

Staff from the Governor's Office and the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education shall provide necessary support, including but not limited to, research, data analysis, and administrative assistance. The Commissioner of the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education may participate on the Task Force as a non-voting member.

The Task Force may use an informal staff-level working group composed of staff from the organizations represented on the Task Force to assist in fulfilling the objectives of the Task Force.

III. Objectives:

The Task Force shall develop recommended changes to modernize the state funding structure for K-12 education.

a. Recommended changes to the funding formula shall ensure:

1. Equality of opportunity for all students, regardless of geographic location, socioeconomic status, or other factors that cause disparate opportunities;
2. Sustainability, based on realistic state and local revenue forecasts, including bounds for realistic changes in funding on an annual basis;
3. Incentives are based on performance of schools and educational outcomes; and
4. Adequate funding to sustain school operations and address reasonable educational costs.

The primary funding model recommendation developed by the Task Force should produce funding amounts for K-12 public education in the first year of implementation at a level consistent with what is provided for in the State Fiscal Year 2025 budget for distributions to the free public schools, notwithstanding any additional increases required separately by previously enacted legislation. Such recommendation should also minimize, as much as possible, significant negative impacts to individual school districts.

IV. Reporting:

The Task Force shall submit a final report to the Governor by December 1, 2026, detailing recommendations for potential state funding models for K-12 public and charter schools. The report should include up to three alternative recommendations or components of the recommended model, as well as a summary of feedback garnered through the work of the Task Force from stakeholders.

V. Compensation:

Members of the Task Force shall serve without compensation but may be reimbursed for necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties, subject to availability of funds.

VI. Duration:

The Task Force shall dissolve upon submission of its final report unless extended by subsequent executive action.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of Missouri, in the City of Jefferson, on this 28th day of January, 2025.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

FOURTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 30, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicky, Chaplain.

For you were called to freedom, brethren; only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love be servants of one another. (Galatians 5:13)

Almighty and everlasting God, Creator of all, in our hearts we come before You in all reverence and humility, confessing our need to Your forgiving grace and our desire to Your directing guidance. Help us to lift our spirits to You in prayer and praise and give us grace to dedicate our lives anew to You and to our citizens this wintery morning.

During these dark winter days that test our attitude, may the awareness of Your presence give us steady faith and steadfast love enabling us to work for the good of all Missouri.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the day, to serve without compensation: Jonathan Jeffrey Hoelscher.

The Journal of the thirteenth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

FOREWORD

This is the second report of the Missouri statutorily authorized Substance Abuse Prevention and Treatment Task Force. The goal of this report is to continue to provide an overview of the efforts of the state of Missouri to address the tragedy of substance use, both from a financial and programmatic perspective, and to summarize our findings and recommendations. The basic format of the first report will be followed, with updated data.

In the five evidentiary hearings this summer and fall, the task force heard hours of expert testimony from seven state departments and multiple organizations that implement multiple programs to combat substance misuse. Details of programs were compiled and used to generate charts, tables, and the budget overview. Hearing testimony is summarized and formed the basis for recommended next steps. The appendix contains over 170 pages of programmatic and budgetary information provided by the state departments, as well as organizations receiving state funding.

As before, this report of the Substance Abuse Prevention and Treatment Task Force has relied heavily on the House of Representatives Research staff, and particularly Colin Zentmeyer, who provided excellent summaries of witness testimony, as well as analysis provided by the Missouri MOST Policy Initiative and would have been impossible without the significant cooperation of the state departments and participation of task force members.

Special thanks to task force member Del Taylor (District 84) who actively participated in all hearings, designed this report's templates, guided MOST Fellow efforts and contributed to the content and final editing of this document.

MOST Fellows Drs. Rieka Yu, Isabel Warner, Maryluz Hoyos, Chinenye Izuegbunam and Chris Wielga contributed hours organizing department data into a useful document.

The participating state departments have been offered the opportunity for review prior to issuing the final report, and most provided helpful corrections.

This report is provided for the benefit of the people of Missouri, with direct intended audience of the Office of the Governor, and the General Assembly, to support the best use of limited state resources in combatting this life destroying plague.

John Black, Task Force Chair, 102nd General Assembly, State of Missouri.

The task force shall be composed of six members from the house of representatives, six members from the senate, and four members appointed by the governor. The senate members of the task force shall be appointed by the president pro tempore of the senate and the house members by the speaker of the house of representatives. There shall be at least two members from the minority party of the senate and at least two members from the minority party of the house of representatives. The members appointed by the governor shall include one member from the health care industry, one member who is a first responder or law enforcement officer, one member who is a member of the judiciary or a prosecuting attorney, and one member representing a substance abuse prevention advocacy group.

2. The task force shall select a chairperson and a vice-chairperson, one of whom shall be a member of the senate and one a member of the house of representatives. A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum. The task force shall meet at least once during each legislative session and at all other times as the chairperson may designate.

3. The task force shall:

- (1) Conduct hearings on current and estimated future drug and substance use and abuse within the state;

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

$8.5 billion dollars. $3.5 billion dollars. The human costs of substance use disorders to individuals and families are incalculable, undefinable in monetary terms. There are estimated financial costs to the State of Missouri reported. The Department of Mental Health estimates the annual societal costs of substance use/misuse to Missouri range from $8.5 billion to $12 billion, for illicit substances, prescription drugs, alcohol, and tobacco. The American Cancer Society estimates the use of tobacco direct health care costs in Missouri at $3.5 billion, including over $690 million in annual Medicaid costs. The total of those costs, not including the $7 Billion lost in annual productivity due to smoking additionally estimated by the Cancer Society, therefore exceeds $12 billion. By comparison, the 2024 fiscal year individual income tax paid by Missourians totaled $9.8 billion. In other words, the cost to Missourians due to the use of addictive substances exceeds the total amount of individual income taxes paid to the state. By further comparison, of the $96,000,000 of tobacco settlement funds estimated to be received in FY 2025 by Missouri, $350,000 is budgeted to be added on to the Department of Social Services’ tobacco addiction prevention and cessation, or .36% of the tobacco settlement funds spent on prevention. And compared to the $8,500,000,000 in costs due to substance use/misuse, approximately $125,000,000 is spent on prevention (that figure is inflated due to inclusion of treatment costs), or 1.4% of the societal costs to Missouri.

After a period of increase between 2013 and 2022, rates of drug overdose deaths involving synthetic opioids other than methadone, which includes fentanyl, fentanyl analogs, and tramadol, decreased between 2022 and 2023. The total number of all drug overdose deaths in 2021 was 106,699, and in 2023, 105,007 drug overdose deaths occurred, resulting in an age-adjusted rate of 31.3 deaths per 100,000 standard population.¹ By comparison, 58,220 American soldiers were killed in the Vietnam War.² Overdose is the leading cause of death for adults 18-44 in MO, and of the 1,948 deaths from overdose in 2023, 73% were contributed to opioids. In 2022, death rate was 9.1% higher than US rate of overdose deaths. Data from 2019-2021 about maternal mortality indicates about 28% of pregnancy related deaths have substance use disorder as a contributing factor. In 2022, 6275 nonfatal emergency room visits from drug overdoses were non-opioid, which was 60% of all drug overdose emergency room visits. 37% of which were self-harm. Why is this important? The burden of overdose impacts families, communities, and health care systems. (2) As a result of factors hard to quantify but undoubtedly including additional programs and distribution of Naloxone (trade name Narcan) overdose deaths are decreasing (11% in 2023). Only sustained effort, including funding, will continue this positive trend. (2) (14)

Per the National Survey on Drug Use and Health (NSDUH) prevalence estimates, approximately 943,000 Missourians aged 12 and over struggled with a substance use disorder in the past year. This amounts to nearly one sixth of the Missouri population, and approximately 20% of the adult population. Of those estimated to have a substance use disorder, 536,000 Missourians struggled with alcohol use disorder.

Deaths in Missouri from substance use include approximately 10,000 smoking-related; more than 1500 opioid-involved; over 700 methamphetamine-involved; and 910 alcohol-involved in 2022. (Table 1 and Figure 1 page 16).

The Task Force continues to attempt to analyze spending to address substance use, an effort not found elsewhere, and likely to be somewhat inaccurate as result of the difficulty of the accumulating budget information, but beneficial to address the relative costs of the problem and the response. Two different perspectives are offered, the first on a substance-by-substance analysis, and the second by program (prevention, versus treatment, including recovery). Per substance, Missouri spends the most on programs addressing all substances ($244 million in FY 25 funding) (Table 2, Figure 2, pages 18, 17).

By a program analysis, the amount spent in Missouri in FY 2024 on substance use disorder is estimated at approximately $308 million, with the appropriation for FY 2025 to be approximately $431 million, (Table 4, page 24). This compares to the state budgets of $51.8 billion and $50.5 billion for FY24 and FY25, respectively, or the percentage of expenditure being 0.59% and 0.85%, respectively, of the total spent during each fiscal year. (All figures include both federal and state funds.) The question remains whether these percentages of the state budget spent on substance use is an adequate expenditure.

Per the Department of Health and Senior Services, programs addressing tobacco use, the leading cause of death, in FY 2025 are budgeted at $4.8 million, of the approximately $431 million dollar total. Cigarette smoking is the leading cause of preventable disease, disability, and death in the US. Department testimony:

- Smoking kills more people than alcohol, AIDS, car crashes, illegal drugs, murders, and suicides combined;
- 11,000 Missourians die each year from smoking related illnesses;
- 1,150 Missouri adults die each year from exposure to secondhand smoke
- Missouri spends $3.5 billion annually to treat smoking-related diseases and $7.1 billion on lost productivity
- Missouri ranks 7 in the country for the number of adults who smoke
- Missouri has the lowest tobacco tax in the country, ranked 51st, at $0.17 per pack of cigarettes (national average is $1.83 per pack, next lowest is Georgia at $0.36 per pack).
- Missouri's Medicaid has the best access to cessation services in the country, with access to all 7 evidence-based medications.

In its follow-up testimony, the DHSS identified Smoke Free Air Laws in 28 states that do not allow smoking in public places, correlating to preventing tobacco use initiation and use, reduced secondhand smoke exposure, and prevalence of tobacco use and up to a 70% reduction in hospital heart attack admissions. Tobacco free school district policies have similar results. (2)

One issue is how much is spent on prevention versus treatment. Table 4, on page 24, attempts to address that question by identifying that approximately 65% of the funding is spent on treatment.

Missouri continues to provide a comprehensive approach with the funding available. Table 5, on page 29, breaks down the spending between the state departments, with the Department of Mental Health (DMH) receiving approximately 70% of the funding. DMH is the state authority for coordinating a statewide response to substance use disorders. The Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) receives approximately 12% of the FY 2025 budget, a significant increase due in part to the recreational marijuana tax designated to that department, with a significant portion passed on to DMH. The Department of Social Services (DSS) funding identified is largely due to the MO Health (Medicaid) pharmacy program. The total identified is misleading as much of the DMH and DHSS funding is a pass-through from Medicaid. The Department of Corrections (DOC) is to receive about 6% of the substance use funding in FY 25.

Figure 3, on page 20, charts the number of programs per department, with DMH at 31 and DHSS at 21. The largest source of funding for substance use disorders is ultimately MO HealthNet (Medicaid) as a result of the percentage of participants that are Medicaid-eligible.

Encouraging are the new programs for FY 2025 itemized in Table 3, Pages 21-22, as Missouri continues to focus on needed and effective programs. The departments are encouraged to utilize and tabulate for themselves and the legislature the significant amount of data required to be reported to the federal government, which could be utilized in determining program effectiveness.

There are other encouraging signs. The first is the increase in budgeted funding in FY 2025. The task force recognizes FY 2026 may be a challenging year fiscally, and its first recommendation is that funding be at least maintained and that identified effective programs receive additional support. A few of the positive programs and initiatives are identified as follows:

MO HealthNet continues to support an open access policy, progressive in its efforts to treat substance use. One example is its support of the Federally Qualified Health Center Network program, new in FY 2024, which emphasizes effective time to treatment and comprehensive services. In fiscal year 2024, Network patients have expanded from 1031 in quarter two, to 2494 in quarter four. (4)(9)

988. The call, chat, or text program to allow persons to get immediate direction to treatment continues to expand and is identified by the DMH as ‘vital’, receiving over 95,000 phone calls, 15,000 texts and 5800 chats in FY 2024. (1).

Behavioral Health Crisis Centers, another new program and referral to treatment programs, served over 41,000 people in fiscal year 2024. (1).

Engaging Patients in Care Coordination (EPPIC) provides a 24/7 referral and linkage to service for people who use drugs who present at a hospital for overdose or substance use crisis to establish immediate connections from the hospital to community level care, with 390 average referrals per month. (1) (11)

Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinics (CCBHC) and Comprehensive Substance and Treatment Rehabilitation (CSTAR) programs continue to increase prescribers and move to comprehensive, effective time to treatment programs, treating more than 218,000 people and 26,000 in the last reporting year, with 11,000 and 3600 persons in substance use disorder (SUD) treatment, respectively. (1)

Recovery Support Providers, including Recovery Support Services and Recovery Community Centers, are identified by DMH as a “big bang for the buck”. Together, they provide recovery services, sober housing, employment assistance, education support, and transportation, with statistics including an 84% abstinence from alcohol and drugs, 97% in stable housing, 73% employed or in school and 98% with no arrests in 30 days; and providing accredited recovery housing, with 2300 beds expanded by 624 new beds in 2023. The program requests $6 million additional funding to provide more services and another $3 million to open new centers in underserved areas. (1)(13)

Department of Corrections, reports a drop in recidivism rates since 2008 from 44% to 30%, supported by its newly implemented Individualize treatment programmatic efforts, and including individualize treatment programs with emphasis on reentry services including Medically Assisted Treatment. (5)

Office of State Courts Administrator, with the Treatment Courts Coordinating Commission and treatment under what is commonly known as Drug Treatment Courts, supporting specified legislation for Mental Health courts, and additional funding focusing on Medication Assisted Treatment for opioid and alcohol addiction. (7)

Collaboration continues to be emphasized around the state. For example, in Southwest Missouri, coordination between the CCBHC Burrell and the Webster County Public Health agency, establishing a community partnership, saw a backlog 80 students waitlisted for behavioral health services, frequently associated with substance use, eliminated in one month. (17)

Challenges. The Department of Mental Health, Department of Corrections, the University of Missouri – St. Louis Addiction Science Team and the Department of Health and Senior Services agree the most urgent and difficult to solve problems are transportation and housing. This is one reason for the strong support by DMH of Recovery Support Providers, and their accredited recovery housing program. Other identified challenges include:

Medicaid, the most common source of payment, does not provide funding for prevention or recovery, only treatment. Prevention and recovery funding is thus limited to federal grants and general revenue, and more recently, opioid settlement and adult use (recreational) marijuana tax. (1)

DMH, in addition to transportation and housing, identifies jail services, a need for additional crisis centers, and a “crushing” workforce shortage as significant challenges, as well as the continuing need for community and youth liaisons, and certified peer specialists. (1) Improving timing of care is illustrated by DHSS testimony that of the 815 suspected overdose cases identified in August 2024, 498 occurred outside normal business hours.

Prevention training is hampered by the fact that death investigations are decentralized the Missouri, as a result coroners and medical examiners did not report to a single entity for oversight and death investigations such as drug overdose reporting and pregnancy associated mortality review are not connected. (2)

Communicable disease transmission, often associated with drug use, is increasing. Syphilis cases in Missouri increased by 230% from 2016 to 2022. Viral hepatitis and syphilis are increasing in rural Missouri, compounded by injection methamphetamine use. Congenital syphilis has increased from two cases in 2017 to 94. Increase funding for doxycycline is requested by DHSS. (2)

Health Professional shortages, specifically including mental health training for physicians results in an estimated one in seven people diagnosed with substance use disorder receiving treatment. Missouri has a 900 health professionals' shortage, including 350 medical residents. Missouri exports nearly 1/3 of its medical students to residency programs in other states. (2)

Transportation for persons who need treatment could be supported by expansion of a pilot program to allow emergency personnel to be reimbursed for transportation to an alternative destination, and in home consultations. The pilot program showed a net savings per intervention of over $500 per intervention. (14).

Limitations on syringe services programs, identified by DHSS and the University of Missouri – St. Louis Addiction Science Team, who reported that concerns of increasing substance use because of such programs being enacted are not supported by evidence in many other states. The CDC states that syringe services programs are proven and effective community-based prevention programs that can provide a range of services, including access to treatment, housing, and transportation. (1) (2) (14)

Standardization of tax credits for the Neighborhood Assistance Program in the Youth Opportunity Program to equal those supporting pregnancy care centers would support the activities of organizations such as Catholic Charities St. Louis, which programs serve over 1000 persons per year, many of those with mental health and SUD issues. (18)

Lack of transparency in sentencing challenges courts and corrections in establishing drug treatment and release, Missouri having one of the most complicated sentencing laws in the country. (5)

RECOMMENDATIONS

Table 9: Recommendations

Part 1: Recommendations for Fiscal Year 2026 and Following:

- 1) Review whether the current level of funding for substance use prevention and treatment is adequate to continue to build treatment capacity across the state; DMH reports that demand far exceeds capacity, so the question remains where targeted investments would offer the most return;
- 2) At a minimum, even in difficult financial times, continue the current level of funding;
- 3) State departments address and implement and/or make recommendations to the legislature for methods for improved transportation and housing
- 4) Provide additional funding for the programs identified as particularly effective:
 - a. 988
 - b. Behavioral health crisis centers
 - c. Recovery support service providers;
 - d. Programs offering comprehensive and reduced time to treatment, including EPICC and FQHCs and CCBHCs;
 - e. Judicial treatment courts, including mental health and veterans' courts;
 - f. Department of Corrections individualized treatment and reentry
 - g. Community and Youth Services liaisons; and
 - h. Improve Medicaid coding to better track expenditures and services
 - i. State public defenders
- 5) Continue to evaluate spend, emphasizing prevention;
- 6) Continue to utilize cannabis tax and opioid settlement funds for promising programs like mentoring, school-based supports, youth crisis centers, etc.
- 7) Increase prevention funding for tobacco and alcohol addiction prevention, and for tobacco, increase the use of the tobacco settlement funding.
- 8) Review transportation resources, including continuation/expansion of a pilot program to allow emergency responders to receive funding to alternative destinations and in-home consults.
- 9) Pursue transparency in sentencing.
- 10) Address the additional concerns listed in this summary.

Part 2: The following 2025 Recommendations for Subjects for Future Task Force Investigation are continued:

- 1) Determine measures and metrics for effectiveness, to include SUD incarceration and over-dose rates and returns on investments in other states;
- 2) Address subjects, which may have been previously controversial among the General Assembly, that have demonstrated effectiveness in other states, including:
 - a. Raising the tobacco tax;
 - b. Ensuring compliance with federal and state tobacco laws;
 - c. Optimizing the use of tobacco settlement funds; and
 - d. Implementing needle exchange programs;
- 3) Examine the need for and methods of providing wraparound services, including housing, expansion of rental assistance and community re-entry from incarceration/federal Medicaid re-establishment/exclusion waiver, and application of the sequential intercept model;
- 4) Continue to encourage departments to engage in evidence-based practices, with continued reporting and recommendations to the General Assembly, such as evidence-based prevention education and evolving/cutting edge evidence-based treatment methodologies linking mental health and substance use;
- 5) Examine the long-term impacts of recreational cannabis use in Missouri; and
- 6) Review and consider the Policy Research included in this report regarding the Public Health Outcomes of Cannabis Legislation, Tobacco Taxes in Other States, and Syringe Service Programs, provided by the non—partisan MOST Policy Research at the request of the task force chair. The Report Details and Summaries of Witness Testimony, as well as the department summaries and supplemental information in the appendices are recommended.

The pages of materials included as Exhibits in this report, offered by the departments and organizations testifying before the Task Force, provide a wealth of detailed information. It would be difficult if not impossible to find a more comprehensive compendium regarding the subject, at least in Missouri, and those materials are therefore highly recommended, and can be found online to the Journal of Missouri House of Representatives on the date of publication of this report in the Journal.

*Derived from a formula that assigns a certain percentage of various causes of death to tobacco smoking. Smoking also attributes to heart disease, cancer, and chronic lower respiratory disease, all of which are the three highest leading causes of death in Missouri. Secondhand smoke is also a significant cause.

 A broad definition that includes: alcohol induced pseudo-Cushing's syndrome; mental and behavioral disorders due to use of alcohol; degeneration of nervous system due to alcohol; alcoholic polyneuropathy; alcoholic myopathy; alcoholic cardiomyopathy; alcoholic gastritis; alcoholic liver disease; alcohol induced pancreatitis (chronic and acute); fetal induced alcohol syndrome (dysmorphic); excess alcohol blood levels; accidental poisoning by and exposure to alcohol (intentional, accidental, or undetermined intent); fetal alcohol syndrome.

Drug types are not mutually exclusive, meaning a death record may have more than one drug listed, and would therefore be counted in both categories.

Funding

To assess these deaths and related substance use disorders (SUDs), the state of Missouri has appropriated funds to programs aimed at treatment, recovery, and prevention, as well as to support the associated administrative costs to run these programs. Per substance, Missouri spends the most on programs addressing all substances ($244 million). (Table 2, Figure 2).

*For the PDMP program in the Office of Administration, targeted substances are Schedule II, III, and IV Controlled Substances.

There are programs from the Department of Health and Senior Services under the “Opioids,” Opioids and stimulants,” “Opioids and Alcohol” and “Tobacco” categories that share the same appropriation that is not specifically divided among the different programs. The Missouri Department of Mental Health (DMH) is the state authority for coordinating a statewide response to substance use disorders. In addition to DMH, the Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS), Department of Corrections (DOC), Department of Social Services (DSS), Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE), Office of State Courts Administrator (OSCA), and Office of Administration (OA) all have programs supporting the prevention and treatment of substance use disorders in Missouri.

The Task Force again held hearings during the interim session. The Missouri state departments provided the bulk of the testimony. The cooperation of the departments throughout this process has been invaluable and exceptional.

Programs

The majority of programs related to SUDs are housed in DMH (Figure 3). In FY25, DHSS has the largest number of new programs (13) compared to DOC and OA, which have no new programs (Table 3). Overall, there were 25 new programs funded in FY25.

Newly initiated programs in FY25 are separately listed in Table 3; examples include capital improvement projects for substance use treatment facilities and wastewater testing and surveillance. Target substance data for new programs housed in DHSS was not provided.

Prevention vs. Treatment

Programs may have specific focuses with respect to substances targeted. They also have specific focuses on the type of services offered, including whether these focus on prevention, treatment, recovery, and/or harm reduction, or are used for administration costs. In FY25, as with FY24, the greatest amount was appropriated to programs that only focused on treatment (Table 4, Figure 4). This is also where the majority of FY24 funds were spent.

The largest number of programs focused on prevention only, and constituted the second highest spend for FY24. However, this was almost $200 million less than treatment programs.

* There are programs from the Department of Health and Senior Services under the “Prevention Only” and “Prevention and Treatment” categories that share the same appropriation that is not specifically divided among the different programs. Therefore, these appropriations amounts are counted multiple times across this table.

The types of programs vary across departments. DMH houses the greatest number of total programs, and the majority of most program focus types (prevention, treatment, recovery etc.) (Figure 5). DMH includes most programs focused on treatment only, with the second most housed within the DSS. DMH also houses the majority of programs focused on prevention only, with DHSS housing most of the remaining prevention programs.

BUDGET OVERVIEW

Fiscal Year 2025 (FY24) appropriations for substance use disorders were calculated to be approximately $430 million, an increase from FY24 spending of approximately $308 million (Figure 7). This number is based on attempting to track all expenditures and appropriations and is thus approximate. The increase is reflected in new focus programs, increased funding for demonstrated effective programs, ultimately resulting in more people being helped. Some of the funding was one – time, and the ability to find funding to pick – up this appropriation will be critical to maintaining the improvement. (Figure 8).

In FY24, DMH spent 65% of the total funds allocated for SUDs, and administered the majority of programs relating to SUDs (Figure 9). Again, it contained the largest number of programs devoted to SUDs (Figure 10). Similarly, DESE spent $604 on SUDs in FY24, despite being appropriated $1.2 million in FY24 (Table 5).

Some departments are receiving fewer dollars in the FY25 budget than they did in the FY24 budget (Table 5, Figure 10). However, all departments are receiving more monies in the FY25 budget than they spent in FY24 (Figure 11).

Of this additional funding, the majority ($70 million) was allocated to DMH (Table 6).

SUMMARY OF TESTIMONY

I. Hearing on June 24, 2024

Persons Testifying: Valerie Huhn, Angeline Stanislaus, Department of Mental Health; Todd Richardson, Josh Moore, Missouri HealthNet, Department of Social Services

Valerie Huhn, Director of the Department of Mental Health, and Dr. Angeline Stanislaus, Chief Medical Director, focused on the biology of addiction and the three main substances responsible for addiction.

Neurobiology of addiction – any substance can be addictive, if it causes tolerance, withdrawal, craving, and a sense of loss of control.

Genetics, a person's gender, and his or her experience relating to mental disorders, or a family history thereof, can impact whether a person is predisposed to substance use disorder, in combination with environmental factors: a chaotic home filled with abuse, a parent's use and attitude toward substances, peer influences, and community attitudes toward substances may play a role. It also depends on the route of administration of the substance being consumed, the effect of that substance, the initiation of use, as well as cost and availability of a substance. Each of these may change the brain's chemistry and what is being communicated via neurotransmitters.

Some drugs target the pleasure center of the brain, the dopamine pathways. These brain circuits are important for natural rewards such as food, music, and sex. Dopamine increases in response to these natural rewards.

The presentation focused on three main substances causing addiction: alcohol; opioids, particularly fentanyl; and methamphetamine.

Alcohol

Over time, the excess amount of dopamine released when consuming alcohol begins to impact a person's baseline dopamine level as well as reducing the natural production of dopamine, which can lead to symptoms of withdrawal. The timeline of withdrawal begins with symptoms such as anxiety, insomnia, nausea, or abdominal pain within the first eight hours, followed by high blood pressure and increased body temperature in the second stage, occurring one to three days from the person's last drink. The third stage, usually a week after the final drink, may feature symptoms such as hallucinations, fevers, seizures, and agitation.

There are three types of FDA-approved medications for alcohol use disorder:

- 1) Antabuse, which blocks the metabolism of alcohol, thus making the person sick if he or she drinks;
- 2) Naltrexone (common trade name: vivitrol), which blocks the opioid receptors, thus preventing the experience of a buzz and decreasing a person's craving; and
- 3) Acamprostate, which promotes the balance between the neurotransmitters, GABA, and glutamate.

Opioids, including Fentanyl

Fentanyl now comprises the vast majority of drug overdoses in the United States and has done so since 2018, due to its potency being between thirty to fifty times greater than that of heroin and one hundred times more potent than morphine. As fentanyl is a synthetic opioid that is grown in a lab, it is much cheaper to produce than heroin, less cumbersome to transport, and requires less product than other opioids, resulting in its widespread presence in the United States; this is exacerbated by its mixture into or combined usage with other substances, such as heroin, cocaine, or methamphetamine, which can make determining the amount of fentanyl present and whether it is a lethal dosage difficult. Fentanyl produces effects by activating μ -opioid receptors.

The timeline for withdrawal of fentanyl is similar to that of alcohol; the first stage typically begins between six and twelve hours after last using and can present as a range of physical and psychological symptoms including anxiety, depression, increased cravings, fatigue, difficulty concentrating, insomnia, nausea, vomiting, sweating, diarrhea, cramps, and muscle aches or pains. The timeline of withdrawal may depend on the length of fentanyl use and a person's tolerance.

Medication-assisted treatment for fentanyl use, and opioid use disorder more broadly, is conducted using one of three medications:

- 1) Methadone is a full opioid agonist that reduces cravings for opioids and prevents withdrawal symptoms. While this medication may be introduced during the detoxification stage of a person's recovery, it is best used as a long-term approach to treating fentanyl addiction. Typically, this medication is recommended to individuals who have previously been treated for opioid addiction and were unsuccessful in sobriety;
- 2) Buprenorphine (common trade name: Subutex) is a partial opioid agonist, meaning that it binds to and partially activates opioid receptors without producing a high. It can prevent a person from relapsing by reducing the intensity of his or her drug cravings and withdrawal symptoms; and
- 3) Naltrexone is a full opioid antagonist that blocks the opioid receptors, thereby preventing the effects and reducing the craving. (Suboxone is a common trade name for a combination of buprenorphine and naltrexone).

Methamphetamine

Using methamphetamine produces an intense release of dopamine, serotonin, and norepinephrine into the brain's synapses, and is typically used recreationally for its effects as a euphoriant and stimulant, as well as its aphrodisiac qualities. Use of the drug was found to be related to higher incidents of unprotected sexual intercourse in both HIV-positive and partners with unknown status. This, alongside the practice of sharing needles to inject drugs, has contributed to a heightened risk of HIV transmission among gay and bisexual men who use methamphetamine as well as for non-gay users.

Unlike for alcohol and opioids, there is no FDA-approved medication-assisted treatment for methamphetamine use, but non-medication treatments that have demonstrated efficacy include behavioral therapies, peer support and counseling, and what is known as “contingency management,” which rewards people for staying drug-free with vouchers, cash, gift cards, or other small rewards.

Todd Richardson, Director of MO HealthNet Division, DSS, and Josh Moore, Director of Pharmacy for MO HealthNet.

MO HealthNet provides: 300 Medically Assisted medications, services through the Department of Mental Health. Managing 300 different classes of medications. To ensure good access to medication and appropriate controls; Focusing on medications covered for MAT.

Features: Open-access policy, meaning no prior authorization required to be completed by the physician or pharmacy for MAT; No copay; No limitation on how long a patient can be on these treatments, either. Some state Medicaid programs continue that; we don’t think appropriate. Meeting participants where they are is important; if a diabetic took a donut, we wouldn’t deny them insulin. SUD treatments are provided through Comprehensive Substance Treatment and Rehabilitation (CSTAR) programs with state funding provided through the Medicaid program in the Department of Mental Health budget. Services include detoxification hospitals, screening and referral to primary care health homes, diagnostic assessment and counseling/psychotherapy by licensed behavioral health professionals along with care coordination and management directly to MO HealthNet members.

Substance use disorder and opioid use disorder. In FY 2024, 72,666 participants received at least one dosage of substance use treating medications, resulting in total reimbursement of $54.6 million. Some participants have multiple SUDs, some are on Medicaid expansion, or are a part of another eligibility, which could lead to double-counting – this has been de-duplicated by the Department so as to not skew data. All policies are statewide; MO HealthNet Pharmacy doesn’t do managed care, and the Department encourages utilization for treatment options that are available.

Broad access – a network of CCBHCs, FQHCs, and new funding to improve access. Director Richardson testified there is room for improvement, as well as having the sufficient network of providers who are able to treat patients. Some areas, in rural areas especially, it is more difficult to attract providers.

In FY 2024, MO HealthNet paid at least one claim for select OUD treatments for 14,580 patients, which came to a reimbursement of $33.9 million, all pre-pharmaceutical rebate. Generally, 55-65% of what the state spends comes back in rebate (note: testimony and budget figures are sometimes difficult to reconcile as a result). Includes buprenorphine, naltrexone tablets and injectables. Some people have OUD and AUD, and Vivitrol works for both, so it is difficult to determine which they’re using for, or both.

Last year, the division carved buprenorphine injectables out of the inpatient per diem, so hospitals are separately reimbursed for giving a patient an injection before they leave the hospital. This is a result of thinking about pregnant moms who just delivered, who may be dealing with the requirements of OUD treatment, and how that could be quite overwhelming.

Alcohol use disorder. Alcohol use disorder is very undertreated in MO; out of over 1 million participants in MO HealthNet, it’s impossible to fathom only 7,600 having such a disorder, (see by contrast the testimony at the hearings on June 24 and September 16, describing the billions of dollars societal cost to alcohol addiction) and the Division spent $1.4 million last year. To try and address this low uptake, DMH sent out a provider blast in May, highlighting the coverage of these products, the undertreatment, and will be periodically reminding physicians and nurse practitioners, reporting facts of 8200 alcohol related ER visits, 1900 deaths, and other information regarding alcohol use disorder. A lot of people don’t think of AUD as a disorder, and its use is widespread and socially acceptable.

Tobacco use disorder. Tobacco Use Disorder has the highest volume: 58,000 participants received treatment for a total of $8.8 million spent on nicotine replacement (all forms) and reimbursed for pharmacists prescribing nicotine replacement products. Some claims come through from those, as well as NPs and physicians. (Again, compared to the cost in billions reported in other testimony).

Naloxone. Since 2001, MO HealthNet has provided Naloxone rescue agent in appropriate circumstances. In FY 2024, the cost was over $2 million for approximately 23,000 participants.

DisposRX. Only Medicaid program in the nation that covers DisposRX packets to allow safe disposal of medication at home. 2024 fiscal year and 5500 participants, at a cost of approximately $139,000.

No pharmacy benefit manager. MO HealthNet does not utilize a PBM – there are vendors that help support claims being paid and request reviews, and there are multiple meetings per week. Prices paid to pharmacies are set on national benchmarks, and that data is available publicly and online.

II. Hearing on July 25, 2024

Persons Testifying: Nora Bock, Valerie Huhn, Department of Mental Health; Trever Foley, Annie Harmon, Department of Corrections

Human and Economic Costs. The Department Mental Health reports that 943,000 Missourians suffered from substance use disorder in the past year, 531,000 from another drug use disorder, and 536,000 Missourians with alcohol use disorder. The Missouri economic cost of alcohol and drug use disorders is estimated at approximately $4.5 billion for alcohol, and $4 billion for drug use disorder, a total of approximately $8.5 billion.

Drug czar. One of the questions sent from the Task Force was about a “Drug Czar,” and whether that could be something that helps the state. Operating DMH like this, there are a lot of questions we have around that. If a position is added, it should be meaningful, and not a barrier to progress. We’re trying to understand what problems the Task Force are trying to solve with a Czar. This person would coordinate efforts between departments, but that requires meaning as well and would likely need some sort of statutory change. There is a drug czar at the national level, which has evolved over the last 20 years. Further research would be needed. Indiana and Arkansas have them, but theirs is predominantly law-enforcement related.

Access. The supply of access does not meet the demand. A workforce shortage contributes. Access is critical to sustain improvement. It is important to diversify access points in recovery - What that means is that there are multiple touch points along the continuum, more avenues for prevention and public education messaging, plugging into the treatment system, or referral from DOC. Important to have as many opportunities as possible for those seeking recovery to maintain access to nonmedical but critical resources. Additionally, it is important to increase the number of programs and increase the statewide distribution, or saturation, of Naloxone.

Measuring success. Measuring success – DMH has monitoring mechanisms, is the regulatory authority from state and federal funds, and we do funding reviews. We also have fidelity teams, which, to an evidence-based practice, is being followed as closely to the model as possible. One measure of success is the decrease in 2024 in drug overdose deaths across the state. The distribution of Naloxone is undoubtedly a factor and will be required to continue this success. (The report of Dr. Rachel Winograd, task force member, on October 29, provides more detailed information). Our central office conducts those surveys, samplings of records and we assess the programs’ fidelity. We can say if “X” provider has improved over the last year relating to fidelity. National benchmarks, departmental participation in federal surveys.

The substance use budget is in three buckets: prevention, treatment, and recovery. It is important to know that prevention and recovery support services are not billable to Medicaid and rely solely on state GR, federal block grants, and federal discretionary grants (note: and recently, opioid settlement and recreational marijuana tax).

Prevention. Medicaid, the most common source of payment, does not cover prevention, or recovery, only treatment. For the block grant, the Department is required to set aside 20% of that for prevention, and SAMHSA is overseeing this. They created a new office of recovery services, but Congress has not approved that. So, for a set of organizations having access to $12 million, next year they'll be dropped significantly for a small budget. Prevention stays pretty steady, but that has also been supported through supplementary dollars, and what goes up must come down.

We do try to be a no-wrong-door system, so the more types of these programs, the greater the likelihood that we will find people, or people will find us. How do we make our services known? One of the easiest ways is to get in touch with DMH. We've made a variety of options available to call, text, email, hit the webpages.

988. Long-term support is vital to this program that is making a difference. We can talk a bit more about 988, as it isn't just for people experiencing suicidal thoughts, but it can provide more information on the types of resources needed.

You can call, chat, and text, and during FY24 we got over 95,000 phone calls, 15,000+ texts, and there were over 5,800 chats. We were talking about the success of our programs; nationally, MO is doing extremely well in in-state answer rate and time to answer. We feel good about our efforts in this space. We also have a way of tabulating impressions, which is how often an ad or material is seen. Billboards, things on websites: There were over 133 million impressions, and up to 27 million since May 2024. In terms of spreading the message, we're feeling good about that. Also available, DMH page phone line 1 800 575 – 7480 will connect with a real person to provide treatment programs and resources.

Crisis Diversion. Behavioral health crisis centers are relatively new and are providing the better understood necessity of rapid time to treatment as opposed to delay in providing services which frequently prevents treatment, at locations where people spend less than 24 hours. They can be brought in voluntarily or by law enforcement, 19 currently in place, 5 more coming soon. We served over 41,000 people in FY24 at these centers. Medication for OUD can often be initiated as well, with positive opportunities for someone in crisis to immediately begin receiving services. There are many localities who desperately need one, want one, but geographically speaking there are some serious challenges to getting to certain places of the state. Some were brought up through community investment. We do recommend an expansion of the locations for which these efforts have been initiated to implement additional behavioral health crisis centers.

Liaisons. We have talked for over a decade about liaisons. We have more than 80 Community Behavioral Health Liaisons throughout the state, who are effective connectors between DOC and the courts, and it is a diversion opportunity. If police or sheriffs know someone, they could be assisted in safely connecting persons to services. There are also 40 youth liaisons. In terms of referrals, in FY24 there were over 20,000 referrals made to adult services, and almost 6,000 referrals to youth-based liaisons. This is how we get people connected to the treatment system at large. They work in CCBHC and some CSTAR programs.

EPICC. EPICC specifically focused on the opioid crisis, focusing on overdoses. The model is that a peer with lived experience reaches out to someone after overdosing, and so we have them in multiple locations, 24/7 on call, and hospitals utilize them for anyone who comes in who, in their assessment, has SUD. The peer model is extremely effective as a first venture into the treatment world, because if you overdosed, you likely weren't headed to treatment that day. But it's a brand-new opportunity. (A similarly funded "Network" program is funded through the Department of Social Services is proving valuable in time to treatment – see testimony from September 26).

Mobile Crisis Response. Mobile Crisis Response is something our state has long done but was reinvigorated with 988. We had an existing system, transitioning to the 988 system so we have coverage, but in terms of requests, there were nearly 19,000 referrals. Let's say you call 988 and you cannot resolve your situation over the phone. If someone thinks an in-person connection is needed, or getting them access to resources is needed, or a face-to-face intervention is needed, they can send the Response unit. It can happen in hospitals, a park, or other public location. If they are dispatched to a home, they usually take someone with them, but this means a team is going out to the individual.

Crisis Intervention Team is a program we do with law enforcement. We want to equip LEOs to better understand mental health conditions, SUDs, what they might see, and how to effectively deescalate. Those officers are often dispatched on these calls, then handed off to a CCBHC. Almost 16,000 officers total have been trained, not sure how many are still in the workforce. Over 1,400 people trained last year.

CSTAR, CCBHCs. There are also a variety of SUD treatment providers, served by Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinics (CCBHCs) and Comprehensive Substance and Treatment Rehabilitation (CSTAR). That's where you can see a doctor, counselor, receive historical trauma services; it's a comprehensive and team-based approach. Most CCBHCs do have open access, meaning you can just walk in and see someone. Logistically not possible everywhere, but they've worked hard to be as accessible as they can. Many CSTAR programs utilize a low-barrier intervention called medication-first approach. The gold standard of care is to get OUD patients on medication first, meaning they don't have to wait weeks to get a prescription from a doctor.

All of our programs do some level of advertising. Fairs, social media, community events. Programs are good at having a local presence and being visible to their communities. A lot of school-based services as well, which allows for access after observing a child at school. Take them through whatever door they come through and try to offer services.

The CCBHC model treated over 218,000 people in 2023 and has enabled an increase in securing prescribers and getting trained on evidence-based practice. Increased use of medications by 285%. That 11,000 is primarily people with OUD, since that is what the medication approved by the FDA treats. Those receiving medication for their addiction is a tremendous help.

In Missouri, we have specialized CSTAR programs, for women and children, adolescents, opioid treatment, and general population., including 1700 adolescents. 4400 women, over 3600 in opioid treatment, and 26,000 in general population. (Rounded numbers). Medicaid only reimburses from CSTARs for treatment. At the highest level what we would provide is residential treatment with no date range for recovery.

Recovery Support Providers. Recovery support providers and the related recovery community centers provide a big bang for the buck. The Task Force got a lot of great information about recovery support providers last year, but we have organized in that there are 5 access sites, and the hub. So those in need of housing, transportation, care coordination, get vouchers from this hub and can go to providers. These providers can offer treatment if they have appropriate credentials, but this is a peer model, and this is where wraparound services come in. Transportation, for example, is a huge barrier. This is a gap-filler, and these providers do a good job of filling gaps, because not any one program can meet all needs. Over 2500 accredited recovery housing beds are provided in 120 men's homes and 100 women's homes.

Recovery Housing. These are also providers of temporary housing. Specifically, to recovery housing, we have over 2500 beds for recovery housing in the state, accredited by a national organization; there are 120 men's homes and 100 women's homes. HUD provides grants for rental and utility services for approximately 2000 households in the state. There's been a 66% increase in net applications for Social Security disability benefits, with over 80% of people applying reporting homeless housing status.

Peer Respite Crisis Stabilization initiative. In 2023, a peer respite crisis stabilization low barrier housing pilot program was relaunched – in one year, approximately 1400 individuals were served and over 3000 connected to services. Approximately 69% received discharge housing, with the majority from recovery support providers. Funding for the program does not meet demand.

Recovery Community Centers. Recovery community centers are new, too, and right now there are 12 across the state. Since 2018, more than 136,000 people have been served. Though not treatment centers, this is where folks can go and get mutual support, sober activities, receive peer support, employment preparation. They're also a major referral source, and a huge source for Naloxone. They distributed more than 14,000 overdose reversal kits just last year. And in FY23, 31,000 people accessed services here.

Prevention. Prevention as an access point: 14% of the overall budget for substance use services. This system is organized with 10 regional centers. What is important about this is that they are then connected to over 150 registered coalitions, which can be tiny, but are boots on the ground doing prevention work. They'll speak at courthouses or churches about drug use. They work with local coalitions for technical assistance, teaching evidence-based approaches to prevention, and connect people to the larger system. Through all of these activities, connections can be made and strengthened. Last year, over 372,000 individuals served, and also a college program, Partners in Prevention, serving over 200,000 college students last year. We do know that our most recent data shows that MO students are having more trouble accessing substances and are reporting the dangers of substance use. However, the number of daily drinking students is increasing, marijuana use is steady, and a quarter of those who do use marijuana do so daily.

Challenges. Number one – transportation; Number two – housing services; Number three – jail services; Number four – crisis services. Contributing to all, crushing workforce shortages; Pick-up of one-time funding; complexity and time – It’s hard to break down in 5-6 things the inherent challenges in treating those with SUD. You may have heard of SIM Mapping, happening in every county in the state since 2021, and it’s a tool to identify points in the justice system where different interventions could happen, as well as to identify gaps in a given community where people fall through, getting them into the cycle of criminal prosecution. Participants rank their biggest challenges or identified priorities; the very largest is transportation, followed by housing services, then jail services, and then crisis services. Systemically, a challenge to people with mental illness or SUD, or both, transportation is a significant problem in accessing treatment. Housing is an incredible barrier. KC was the highest in the country of people unsheltered in the country who experience long-term mental illness. It cannot be overstated that there is a huge lack of affordable housing in MO, whether that’s for low-income people or those with behavioral health challenges. There is a shrinking workforce, too, and while we’ve been successful in attracting a workforce due to the CCBHC model, we have a shortage of bodies coming down the pike.

Another challenge is that individuals have complex needs. We’re not just dealing with an addiction to alcohol, for example. This is the safety net population; social problems, housing problems, legal problems, economic issues, none of which are easy to treat due to the complexity or combination of their situations.

We’re hearing national reports of more young people in distress, exposed to more violence than prior generations, and the youth challenges are significant. There is also a challenge of one-time funding, but with a caveat: The department and programs will forever be grateful for any funds that help achieve their goals and provide services. There is not a steady stream of revenue for programs that need to be sustained year over year. Operating budgets need to be maintained or expanded. There are challenges to be able to expand the system, open it further.

Department of Corrections. Trevor Foley, Acting Director, and Annie Harmon, Director of Offender Rehabilitative Services.

Individualized Treatment and Recidivism. Missouri’s programmatic changes to provide individualized substance abuse treatment have contributed to a drop in recidivism rates since 2008 from 44% to 30%. About 40% of all entrants are referred to substance services based on screeners, 15% of which entries indicated risk of OUD. Meth remains the most popular choice, but opioid use is rising. Just over 25% of the prison population requires psychotropic medication, and nearly 74% of these are estimated to have a co-occurring SUD. Outcomes in correctional settings tend to be very longitudinal, and it takes a while to provide good data; usually have to go to a release date from incarceration and then return to the community before being able to evaluate performances.

Range of Services. DOC offers a range of services. Moving to an effort of looking at individualized case plans. Number of criminogenic factors driving criminal activity, with SUD being one of those. Comprehensive wraparound care, based on an individualized assessment of a person’s needs, allows us to target which elements of treatment shall be prioritized.

The biggest evaluation tool that we use to evaluate success is our recidivism rate, which has always been a real problem in comparing data across states. The Council of State Governments released a comprehensive reincarceration and recidivism study to compare rates across the country, and Missouri saw the fifth-largest drop to a 30% rate as of the most recent data. Much of that reduction in the rate has occurred because of the rewriting of the Criminal Code, the justice reinvestment initiative, and those generated cost-avoidances have allowed for the reallocation of funds toward services. With fewer people incarcerated, our annual requests for the costs of doing business, have freed up resources that can be reinvested in other ways.

Expanded Services. DOC has focused on expanding substance use treatment programs, ensuring those programs are evidence-based, individualized, and able to receive services in a timely manner. It has implemented an instrument that screens for substance use at diagnostics centers as soon as people become incarcerated. The Department, with treatment providers, has gone to a vendor-based model, resulting in all of treatment being provided consistently by the provider Gateway. Their model focuses on individual needs, the use of peer support, continuing education, family and community resources, and aftercare following the completion of treatment. As soon as they're assigned, they do an individual assessment to ensure they are getting the needs of the offender met. Gateway also has a robust reentry team, meeting with offenders transitioning back into the community to ensure their treatment plans can be continued. Priorities are to ensure the timeliness of services and continuation of care. Historically, when an offender became incarcerated, they'd need to be court-ordered for treatment. With community providers and Gateway, if a resident has a need to get services, they can be referred to treatment as well. So, they can meet with a clinical team and do tests there, then get treatment ordered. This gives more people the opportunity to get their needs met by services. This was a programmatic change, not a statutory one.

Problem: complicated criminal sentencing. There is, to some extent, a resource issue. With fewer issues, if you're not incarcerating people, a lot of criticism from law enforcement comes from a lack of understanding of criminal sentencing. Missouri has some of the most complicated criminal sentencing laws in the country, and there is a misperception about the nature of a sentence and the length of time spent in prison. The outcome not being what's expected drives much of that concern. They don't understand how a criminal sentence translates to a portion of that sentence served on probation. Maybe we need "transparency in sentencing" rather than "truth in sentencing".

Reentry Services. A lot of offenders do transition out, so that's why DOC wants to ensure access to resources in communities as well. There are institutional treatment professionals at each of the facilities who will meet with offenders, have counseling sessions, group sessions, and meetings for referrals to treatment. The goal is to ensure the offenders with SUD or OUD are seen by a clinician, provided MAT, and are given access to those one-on-one treatment services. This has helped take that turn with SUD issues inside of the facilities. Offenders on 6 months or less, have a pre-release focus, but that's been expanded at the beginning of this month. Where there is a need, they can get prescribed MAT and then referred to the health provider or the institutional treatment provider for counseling.

With Gateway, if someone is provided MAT, they have that reentry team to connect them to resources and focus on their treatment plan. We also have regional behavioral health care specialists, working with probation and parole officers and community providers on behavioral health, substance use, and other kinds of needed programs.

The goal with reentry services is to remove as many barriers during incarceration and schedule as much support as needed prior to reentry into the community, participating in a nationwide initiative ensuring access to reentry services, good on collaboration with state and local agencies, and community partners. It is about partnership, and we as a department rely on state agencies to provide services from the Department of Higher Education and Workforce Development; their staff helps with work training, a platform called Career Edge for exploration, new assessments to see their skillsets, and that's the partnership we provide. DSS also helps with TANF and Medicaid applications before they are released so they're ready to transition. Not only are they getting enrolled in Medicaid, but also have a birth certificate, non-drivers' licenses ID cards, SSN cards. Everyone being released in the next five years will need a REAL ID. With all of this being said, substance use is a major part, because if there isn't a treatment plan, they won't be successful in their transition. So much relies on each other and is integral, going back to that collaborative effort in partnership.

Most of the national conversation, like Missouri, is focusing on individual care. There are a lot of programs and resources, more going to this than the corrections world has ever seen.

Biggest Problems. Transportation and housing remain the biggest challenges. Ideas the director has been hearing include DOC building, supplying, and operating housing (only TN has rolled it out). It's more than just housing, it's supportive housing, a supportive environment with source availability on site. The services we focus on inside of the facility is getting the offenders ready for employment upon release. We need vocational planning, employers willing to hire offenders with the right skillsets, and want to release people based on where employment can be achieved. But that's where these struggles come from, because they rely upon these for their success.

III. Hearing from August 28, 2024

Persons Testifying: Paula Nickelson, Ben Terrell, Heidi Miller, Valerie Howard, Sarah Ehrhard Reid, Department of Health and Senior Services; Annie Legonsky, Mary Fox, Missouri State Public Defender system; Eric D. Jennings, Missouri Supreme Court; Richard Morrissey, Office of States Courts Administrator

Director Paula Nickelson, Legislative Liaison Ben Terrell, Department of Health and Senior Services:

Unacceptable statistics describe the high cost of substance use Missourians and Missouri: 14,088 people have died from overdose since 2016, ranked #32 amongst all states for overdose death rates in 2022. Overdose is the leading cause of death for adults 18-44 in MO, and of the 1,948 deaths from overdose in 2023, 73% were contributed to opioids. In 2022, death rate was 9.1% higher than US rate of overdose deaths. Data from 2019-2021 about maternal mortality indicates about 28% of pregnancy related deaths have substance use disorder as a contributing factor. In 2022, 6275 nonfatal emergency room visits from drug overdoses were non-opioid, which was 60% of all drug overdose emergency room visits., 37% of which were self-harm. Why is this important? The burden of overdose impacts families, communities, and health care systems. All genders, age groups, and races are impacted. People are using drugs to help underlying issues with the rise of infectious diseases such as HIV and STIs.

Misunderstandings impact program effectiveness. Programs are often plagued by misunderstanding relating to increased drug use and crime rates. Syringe services programs are safe, effective, and do not lead to rising crime or drug use rates. They also provide various services including access to free sterile syringes, screening for infectious diseases, opioid overdose prevention education, and provide naloxone, as well as linkages to physical and mental healthcare. Reduce the spread of disease and overdose, providing care to people who might not typically be engaged in health care. Also assist to protect first responders and the public by providing safe disposal sites.

The Missouri State Standing Order for Naloxone was updated June 3, 2024, were standing order for an opioid antagonist, with appropriate protocols.

Cannabis use. The Task Force also recommended more investigation into cannabis use and its effect on public health. There is being developed public listening sessions to gather input from stakeholders, then will issue draft rules for public feedback. Gov. Parson's executive order 2410 relating to unregulated psychoactive cannabis products required DHSS to embargo and condemn any food containing unregulated psychoactive cannabis products. We're posting FAQs and a complaint portal is underway for reporting these problems. The Missouri Constitution prevents the General Assembly from regulating the amount of THC in marijuana products.

Timing of Care. In its follow-up testimony, the department identified a lack of access to services after hours. Of the 815 suspected overdose cases identified in August 2024, 498 occurred outside normal business hours. After-hours response is often conducted by first responders, and difficult and time-consuming tasks impact emergency interventions. Connections to emergency care need to be updated. Missouri does not have a statewide platform to provide an integrated approach between mobile apps for behavioral health care. The Kansas City health department is piloting such a program.

Transportation. In its Missouri Overdose Strategic Plan, DHSS received comments addressing better management of housing and transportation services. In its follow-up testimony, the department said it was aware of only two effectively provided transportation services – one of which is in west central Missouri and one in the St. Louis area. Additionally, the department was aware that Washington County had implemented a mobile integrated care model in partnership with an EMS agency and a federally qualified health center. Telehealth can be used to combat transportation issues including for substance use disorder treatment.

Valerie Howard, Chief of Bureau of Community Health and Wellness, and Sarah Ehrhard-Reid, Chief of the Office of Women's Health.

Prevention and Data Collection. Prevention trainer hampered by the fact that death investigations are decentralized in Missouri. Coroners and medical examiners do not report to a single entity for oversight. As result, programs responsible death investigations such as Intentional Drug Overdose Reporting System, and Pregnancy Associated Mortality Review Program must connect individually to obtain records. The results are burdens to the individual coroners and medical examiners and can result in incomplete data.

CDC funding and Prevention. For overdose prevention and response, there are few funding sources, including from CDC. The purpose of CDC funding is to expand overdose surveillance and prevention efforts, tracking overdoses, emerging drug threats, and associated risk factors and enhance bio-surveillance and data linkage, as well as promoting evidence-based strategies aligned with rapid shifts in overdose trends and using culturally relevant interventions and ensure equitable delivery of prevention services.

Surveillance Activities:

- Infrastructure: improving overall capacity to surveil
- Morbidity: collect and disseminate timely data from ERs and hospitals
- Mortality: collect and disseminate timely data on unintentional and undetermined intent overdose deaths
- Bio-surveillance: conduct toxicology tests on samples for nonfatal overdoses

Infrastructure Activities:

- There is a significant amount of info and data on the website, based on region, fatal vs. nonfatal, neonatal considerations, naloxone distribution, and fact sheets for each one of these and county-level fact sheets as well, sharing data on overdoses.

Morbidity Activities:

- Patient Abstract System conducts surveillance for nonfatal overdoses using ER and inpatient data, then uses data to provide resources to areas and groups most in need.

Mortality Activities:

- Track fatal overdoses using the vital statistics death files, and work with county coroners and medical examiners to get toxicology reports (voluntary and incentivized).

Prevention Activities:

- PDMP: contracts with the MO Hospital Association to support clinician education and ER based linkage to substance use treatment and care, as well as supporting statewide PDMP efforts.
- Harm Reduction: contracts with LPHAs for local-level activities, offer Harm Reduction 101 training and technical assistance to anyone who is interested, education and awareness campaigns, and harm reduction navigation contract to help those most disproportionately impacted by overdose.
- Public Safety partnerships: overdose fatality review is a locally based, multidisciplinary process for understanding the risk factors and circumstances leading to fatal overdoses and identifying prevention opportunities.
- Community-based linkages to care: transportation initiative in collaboration with DMH.

MO Coordinating Overdose Response Partnership and Support (MO-CORPS):

- Work with first responders and public health agencies to reduce overdose deaths through the coordination of overdose response partnerships
- Evidence-informed training for first responders
- Prioritize the 20 highest need counties
- Linkages to care through community behavioral health liaisons and EPICC referrals

Vulnerability Assessments indicate:

- More vulnerable to opioid overdoses in 2022: Madison, New Madrid, Pemiscot, Scott, and Stoddard counties
- More vulnerable to bloodborne infections in 2022: Callaway, Greene, Laclede, Randolph, and Stone counties.
- Overlap: Benton, Buchanan, Butler, Crawford, Dent, Dunklin, Howell, Iron, Mississippi, Phelps, Ripley, St. Francois, St. Louis City, Taney, Texas, Washington, Wayne, and Wright counties.

- Significant increase in the SE part of the state, with 24 of 28 of the most vulnerable counties being in the southern part of the state. Resulting from social determinants of health where people live, work, and play. Jobs, access to services, education, transportation, loss of rural hospitals and health care facilities.

DESE

Provides support programs to prevent youth substance use through drug abuse resistance education materials and programming for school drug awareness, including cannabis initiatives for youth.

Missouri Supreme Court

Support programs focused on medication-assisted treatment for those with SUD relating to alcohol and opioid addiction through Treatment Courts Coordinating Commission agreements with drug courts, DWI courts, veteran's courts, mental health courts, and other treatment courts.

Tobacco Control and Prevention

- Cigarette smoking is the leading cause of preventable disease, disability, and death in the US
- Smoking kills more people than alcohol, AIDS, car crashes, illegal drugs, murders, and suicides combined
- 11,000 Missourians die each year from smoking related illnesses
- 1,150 Missouri adults die each year from exposure to secondhand smoke
- Missouri spends $3.5 billion annually to treat smoking-related diseases and $7.1 billion on lost productivity
- Missouri ranks 7 in the country for the number of adults who smoke
- Missouri has the lowest tobacco tax in the country, ranked 51st, at $0.17 per pack of cigarettes (national average is $1.83 per pack, next lowest is Georgia at $0.36 per pack).
- Missouri's Medicaid has the best access to cessation services in the country, with access to all 7 evidence-based medications.

Best Practices Relating to Tobacco use: In its follow-up testimony, the department identified Smoke Free Air Laws in 28 states that do not allow smoking in public places, correlating to preventing tobacco use initiation and use, reduced secondhand smoke exposure, and prevalence of tobacco use and up to a 70% reduction in hospital heart attack admissions. Tobacco free school district policies have similar results.

Next to Rise Youth leadership program:

- 7 schools participating
- 140 students trained in tobacco and vaping prevention, public speaking, networking, and advocacy skills

Community Conversations:

- 110 youth and adults participated in listening sessions held in 6 sites throughout the state where they discussed teen vaping and strategies to end the epidemic

Behind the Haze – "Choose Not Worse"

- 59,787,551 impressions delivered

Behind the Haze "Off"

- 49,591,356 impressions delivered

222 K-12 schools and 2 colleges enhanced their policies to be more comprehensive by always prohibiting the use of all tobacco products, by everyone, everywhere on campus.

Cessation promotion includes 10,441 calls to the quit services hotline, Baby and Me Tobacco Free participation, and 7 behavioral health facilities participated in the Missouri Tobacco Health Systems Change Behavioral Health Community of Practice.

- Tarkio passed a comprehensive smoke-free ordinance
- Salem passed a comprehensive smoke-free ordinance for all city-owned facilities and property, including parks
- 3 cities are working to pass a smoke-free ordinance

WOMEN’S HEALTH

Perinatal Quality Collaborative (PQC)

- 2nd cohort of the Maternal-Infant Dyad Affected by SUD and implementing Eat, Sleep, Console for infants born with NAS
- Consists of leaders across the state committed to improving maternal health outcomes
- First cohort included 22 hospitals participating in this effort, representing over half of Missouri births

Comprehensive Care for Women

- Goal is to increase the capacity of hospitals and other providers to offer care to moms with SUD
- DHSS will contract with University Health Truman Center and Mercy Hospital System in St. Louis. These will offer in-person and telehealth care to moms across the state using their network of hospitals and providers
- Care will include wraparound support to help moms with both their pregnancies, substance use disorder, social health needs, and other health conditions
- SUD is one of the leading causes of pregnancy-related death in Missouri

Related: Adverse Childhood Events (ACEs) such as experiencing violence abuse or neglect, or witnessing violence in the home, growing up in a homeless substance use, instability due to parental separation and incarceration, and adequate food, unstable housing and discrimination are linked to change in brain development and chronic health problems mental illness and substance abuse in adulthood.

Baby and Me Tobacco Free (BMTF)

- Served 133 individuals in SFY24. 93% of babies born were at normal gestation, which is better than the state average for all births at 89%. Preterm birth is associated with increased healthcare costs
- The women’s health program uses telehealth to support moms across the state. Moms from 50 different counties received services.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

Disease intervention specialists (DIS)

Substance use, directly or indirectly, leads to increased transmission of HIV, STIs, and viral hepatitis.

DIS have been trained in harm reduction techniques and can leave behind naloxone kits, educational materials, risk-reduction supplies, and at-home HIV test kits.

Recent increases in syphilis and congenital syphilis, when a mom passes the infection to her baby during pregnancy or at birth, have been related to substance and injectable drug use. In its follow-up testimony, the department reported the number of early syphilis cases reported in Missouri increased by 345% from 2016 to 2023. Congenital syphilis increased from 2 in 2015 to 94 in 2023. A recently developed prevention strategy, Doxycycline post exposure prophylaxis, has been shown to reduce infections significantly. The group experiencing the largest increase in syphilis infection is white, heterosexual Missourians in rural areas this date. A contributing factor is injection drug use, particularly methamphetamine, with the related risk of passing the infection to babies.

For FY25, the legislature provided opioid settlement funding for three additional DIS positions, which will prioritize pregnant women diagnosed with syphilis or HIV to reduce the risk of transmission to the infant. These will be in St. Louis, Springfield, and the Kansas City area.

Office of State Courts Administrator. Eric Jennings, government relations counsel for the state supreme court indicated support for the Mental health treatment court legislation, the chair's sponsorship and the House passage thereof.

Richard Morrissey, Deputy State Courts Administrator. Discussing treatment court program appropriations.

A person volunteers to participate in the program and is provided with treatment resources and supervised through drug testing as well as directly, with statewide standards to follow to operate. In follow-up testimony, Mr. Morrissey indicated that OSCA staff is the process of recommending allocation strategy for funding to the Treatment Courts Coordinating Commission for funding treatment programs focused on medication assisted treatment for Missourians with SUV related alcohol and opioid addiction. These funds are requested to be awarded to treatment court programs in fiscal year 25. The Missouri Treatment Court program judicial circuit contact list is included in the exhibits to this report.

Missouri State Public Defender. Mary Fox and Annie Legonsky.

In representing about 80,000 cases per year, many come with SUD or mental illness, and all come with poverty issues. In 2022, Ms. Legonsky, who was working as an attorney and in treatment court, developed a program trying to connect clients to services by working with their attorneys. There is no state funding that is specifically for this program; we take in the funding we have for legal representation and have applied for grants to assist in this program. AmeriCorps program has been a huge help. Trying to bring this to every office in the state, which has 33 different trial offices; the ability to be connected with an advocate with the goal for these people not to become clients again. Too often, people come back. Once we meet them, if there is something they need, we can connect them. Plan to request 45 mitigation specialists to go into all offices, about $3 million per year, and they to connect clients with service in community, ensure transportation, and help with other needs.

After doing an evaluation of what has been done so far, an outside organization found that of the seven offices evaluated, there has been about $15 million saved in costs to the state, extrapolated to over $60 million statewide. It cannot be overemphasized the greatness of the community safety element, here, too.

IV. Hearing from September 26, 2024

Persons testifying: Dustin Hampton, Heidi Miller, Pat Simmons, Department of Health and Senior Services; Perry Gorrell, Department of Elementary and Secondary Education; Shawn Billings, EPPIC; Emily Kalmer, American Cancer Society; Brendon Steenbergen, Shelley Taylor, Marsha Hawkins-Hourd, Missouri Coalition of Recovery Support Providers; Anthony Mingo, Washington County Ambulance District; Ashley McDonnell, Dawnelyn Schneider, Central Ozarks Medical Center; Cynthia McDannold, Missouri Primary Care Association; Jill Taylor, Deanthony Henderson, Family Care Health Centers; Angela Kearns, Elizabeth Eye, Great Mines Health Centers

Department of Health and Senior Services.

Substance Use in Missouri. Drug overdose is a leading cause of death among Missouri adults aged 18 to 44. In 2023 there were 1948 overdose deaths, down from 2180 in 2022. The Missouri Patient Abstract System monitors non—fatal overdoses. In 2022 there were 10,783 nonfatal visits, more than half non-opioid related. In the fiscal year 2023, there were over 6000 EMS Naloxone uses. Southern and particular Southeast Missouri were found to be most vulnerable for opioid overdose and related blood-borne infections.

Prevention activities include contracting with the Missouri Hospital Association to support clinical education and harm reduction training. Between 2022 and 2024, approximately 8000 persons were trained for Naloxone distribution, and over 7500 Naloxone kits were provided to first responders and left behind, and over 39,000 with local Public Health agencies. In 2022 two thirds of all drug overdose deaths involved synthetic opioids (fentanyl). Fentanyl test strips have been distributed for harm reduction.

Substance Use Disorder Grant Program. In fiscal year 2024, four new recovery community centers, community and youth behavioral health liaisons, peer respite services and evidence-based youth substance use and alcohol abuse prevention have been implemented in conjunction with the Department of Mental Health; education materials have been provided in programming for cannabis awareness with the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education; to the Supreme Court, medication assisted treatment to the treatment courts, veterans courts have been supported.

The cannabis prevention and education campaign will be launched by the end of the state fiscal year. Cannabis use among college students is up in 2024 to 32%, with edibles constituting 25%. Among middle and high school students, from 2010 to 2022, the percentage of students in grades 9-12 have ranged from approximately 10% to 20%.

Tobacco. Cigarette smoking is the leading cause of preventable disease and disability in the United States, and kills more people than alcohol, AIDS, car crashes, illegal drugs, murders and suicides combined. 11,000 Missourians die each year from smoking-related illnesses. Missouri spends $3.5 billion annually to treat smoking-related diseases with $7.1 billion lost on productivity, Missouri ranks number seven in the country for the number of adults who smoke. Smoking cigarettes is down with high school students, but e-cigarettes are up to 21.3%. Missouri's tobacco tax is ranked last among the states, at $.17 per pack, compared to the US average of $1.93. Prevention education strategies have been implemented with limited funding.

Drug use and related diseases. As we have seen substance use increase, we've also seen rising rates of viral hepatitis and syphilis, affecting different populations. Traditionally we would see this among gay men in urban areas, but now it's increasing in rural Missouri among straight white individuals, the compounding factor being injection methamphetamine use. It isn't just meth, most of the meth includes fentanyl, which leads to an overdose. DIS, which is across the state, investigates new cases of HIV or syphilis, ensuring people who are newly diagnosed are linked to care, or linked to HIV primary care, getting those to an undetectable level. People don't transmit to other people at that point. Providing test kits to determine status and get them into care.

Congenital syphilis has become a big concern nationwide and across the state; in 2017 we had 2 cases of congenital syphilis, and there was a conversation about missing the opportunity to treat it. Now we have 94 cases, across urban and rural areas, across all demographics, impacting the entire state. Some of the big compounding factors include substance use and lack of housing instability. There is a statewide syphilis advisory group and congenital syphilis review board to review missed opportunities to intervene. Mom needs to get treatment started 30 days before delivery in order to become 100% preventable.

Treatment regimens exist for babies born to moms with HIV don't contract the virus, so we want to continue getting those moms into treatment, doing so by working with partners across the state, local health agencies, FQHCs, nurses providing treatment in the field, and maintaining regular contact with moms to find her on a weekly basis to meet with the nurse to get treatment.

Approximately 32% of people injecting drugs become positive with Hep C within 1 year, and 53% contract it within 5 years. Our programs have provided rapid point-of-care antibody testing, and there is little federal funding for this, but CDC has provided some funding to allow for confirmatory testing through the state public health lab for the first time. It requires a second test to determine infection, and in this last session, we received a little over $288,000 from the Opioid Settlement Fund to help supplement. This will fund about 11,000 kits working with ERs, LPHAs, and FQHCs to provide that testing. Working with Mizzou ER to implement opt-out testing, where everyone should be tested at least once, and this is a standard test provided to everyone unless someone says no. These are good ways to find people who didn't know they were at risk, as it can be silent for many years.

Controversy over programs. Some of the things that have been controversial to this body, like syringe services or harm reductions, are very effective and studied ways to prevent hepatitis and HIV. As people access services, they're more likely to get health care and SUD treatment, as they have welcoming places to come in, they're more willing to try to stop using.

One recommendation we did submit is funding for doxycycline, going back to STDs. It's recognized as a regimen for doxy-pep, preventing chlamydia, gonorrhea, and other infections. We work with 180 sites to provide STI testing and treatment, LPHAs and FQHCs, and other places that could provide clean needles in the future.

We are working with DSS and MO HealthNet to get people treated for Hep C to prevent future transmission, with patient navigation to newly diagnosed people, our goal is to drastically reduce the number of cases across the state.

Graduate Medical Education Program, Pat Simmons

- Two considerations:
 - Current shortages in health workforce
 - Availability of workforce to provide needed services to treat SUD.
- Missouri has 900 health professional shortage areas (HPSAs), 295 of these being mental health, so there is a need to add at least 600 primary care physicians and over 100 psychiatrists. Missouri exports nearly 1/3 of our medical students to residency programs in other states. We need over 350 residency slots to get our students to stay in the state. Physicians are likelier to stay in the state in which they trained, and over half of students who complete their residency here ultimately stay to practice.
- Addressing the consideration on treatment services, about 1 in 7 people diagnosed with an SUD got treatment. The main driver is a reluctance to treat, which is influenced by a lack of training in medical school and residencies.
- In 2023, the Missouri legislature established a grant program to support expanding existing residency programs. In the first year, the department awarded 5 grants, supporting 9 new slots for the duration of the resident's training period, with $2.2 million. Additional funding will be required to continue the Graduate Medical Education program. Over the next 10 years, this program will support over 90 new residency positions.
- GME programs receiving grants and contract dollars have a new training requirement, including for addiction training, established in response to the high prevalence of SUD.
- Also working on additional partners, key stakeholders in GME partner groups, and other state departments.
- New programs support new accredited residency programs in primary care or general surgery, with 8 weeks training in addiction and 8 weeks of training in a rural area. This helps sustainable expansion of rural facilities.
- We need over 1000 physicians, with states needing to take it into their own hands. Wisconsin generates over 140 new graduates per year with in-state retention and rural retention. Over 2000 lost physicians are expected. Some states have not invested in GME, we're starting with 9 per year. We are scrambling to make a difference, an evidence-based way to increase the workforce.
- We also need to work on retention, encouraging it, by loan forgiveness, which is key to the cost of medical education. We are adjacent to eight other states, and our two largest metropolitan areas easily hemorrhage to other states. Kansas has a very robust loan forgiveness program, for example. Our own loan forgiveness program is just not enough at this point. J1 visa waivers are restricted to 30 per year, which is a brain drain for us. We are training international medical graduates, who are home-grown trained in MO, then we send them back. We need more J1 visa waivers, which is a federal issue.
- In connecting communicable disease and SUD, the key example is congenital syphilis. If a woman is addicted to substances and pregnant, she is less likely to get prenatal care. Also, about Hep C, many people can have it and not know it. It is life-threatening, but it takes a while to get sick and die from it. The rapid testing can lead to being cured in 8 weeks, and it enables those folks not to transmit it.

Missouri Primary Care Association.

Missouri Primary Care Association (MPCA) is the member organization for Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHC) in Missouri. Beginning in fiscal year 2024, the SUD Network Grant, Funding program has seen patients grow from 1031 in Q2, to 2494 in Q4. The goals are to increase the number of individuals connected to substance use treatment, build community partnerships to provide access for community resources to support prevention, treatment recovery, and establish referrals and feedback loops between FQHCs and other partner providers. The Network program provides collaboration with hospital systems to facilitate patient transmissions from hospital care to outpatient services by embedding FQHC staff at hospitals. The partnership with nonprofit CCBHCs provides transition housing, using peer specialists and Community Health 30 workers to engage in employment, transportation and develop life skills. Most recent fiscal year funding allows expansion of the network program from 5 to 8 health centers. In total, total common in 2023 there were 200 FQHC clinic sites, with over 2 million patient visits, and over 9000 patients receiving medications for opioid use disorder. Over 50% of FQHC patients are HealthNet members, and 16% were uninsured.

One network site, for example, Central Ozarks Medical Center, distributed over 7000 Narcan doses, over 2000 fentanyl test strips and held over 1300 school-based behavioral health visits. Medication Assistant Treatment appointments in 2023 were nearly 2000, and treatment court services in the form of group therapy and individual therapy, peer support and MAT were provided, and mentor peer support coaches were provided in coordination with EPICC. A significant effort is wraparound services that support housing, rent assistance as well as recovery treatment. Similarly, Great Mines Health Center was involved with the 24th Judicial Circuit Treatment Court serving to date 166 participants with MAT, behavioral health, other healthcare and wraparound services and cognitive behavioral therapy. Treatment court graduation rates are 33% at the family treatment court program and 80% with the adult/DDR/veteran court treatment programs.

With regard to the critical need of transportation, Washington County's ambulance district's Mobile Integrated Healthcare network in partnership with the ambulance district and the FQHC is the first of its kind. The mobile integrated healthcare network provides medical and non-medical services, including transportation, access health insurance coverage, insecurity, telehealth appointments, nonemergency transportation and public health.

DESE

- Maternal substance abuse training:
 - Parent education programs, overseen by Office of Childhood.
 - Federal grant received through DMH, in year 4 and approaching the end of the grant.
 - FY24, expended $195,000. This year's budget has a new decision item to allow us to spend about $560,000 to get the remaining funds spent in fiscal year 2005, attendance and impact measures will be used to measure efficacy.
- Recovery high schools, currently 24, Secondary schools designed for students recovering from SUD and co-occurring disorders, these share the following goals:
 - Educate and support students.
 - Meet state requirements for diplomas.
 - All students are working on a recovery program for SUD.
 - $500,000 appropriated but could only be spent in Clay County. We had no one within Clay County who accepted the application. These are for wraparound services, most of which comes from DMH. We are to oversee the operation of the school, and DMH is about the other supportive services.
 - New geographic locations in 29 counties to be eligible going forward.
 - DMH using opioid settlement funding is what will help with sustainability, but it isn't guaranteed.
 - Recovery high schools have shown 20% higher graduation rates, 17% lower dropout rates and twice the likelihood of complete abstinence. Any metro area high school with SUD recovery can apply and students 18 years and older may self-refer.
- Health investment fund:
 - New to us this year, partnership and MOU with DHSS, education resistant materials, intentions being to support programs across the state and working on an MOU with a nonprofit that oversees all the training across the state. The cohort that does it is made up of 30 people and costs about $70,000. We want to expand resources for that entity.

EPICC (Engaging Patients in Care Coordination)

- Community health needs assessments are done to derive benefit for nonprofit hospitals every few years. Sample was 75 hospitals, and the big concern is behavioral health, by far.
- Mission: provide 24/7 referral and linkage to services for people who use drugs who present to a hospital for an overdose or other substance use crisis to establish immediate connections from the hospital to community-level care coordination. Peers have been there, done that, and have that knowledge. The model is framed on evidence-based model known as SBIRT (Screening, Brief Intervention, and Referral to Treatment)
 - Screening;
 - Overdose education/naloxone distribution;
 - FDA approved medications for SUD;
 - Warm handoff with recovery support; and

- Connection to treatment for SUD.
- EPICC has 38 hospital partners around the state, and 27 community partners, divided among its six regions. There are 390 average monthly (4602 referrals in fiscal year 2024) referrals between EPICC and its partners, service by its approximate 35 Certified Peer Specialist. Additional funding in fiscal year 25 allowed the hiring of five additional Peer Specialists. He
- Programming goals

 - Integrating harm reduction practices into programming, such as providing individuals overdose education, opioid overdose reversal medications;
 - Connecting people to recovery community centers and other recovery supports to establish pro-social outlets; and
 - Linking individuals to evidence-based substance use treatments.
- What's working well
 - Easy process for referral;
 - Peer recovery coaches with lived experience;
 - Timely response at all hours;
 - Warm handoff;
 - Individualized support and case management; and
 - Connections with service providers in the community.
- Importance of opioid overdose reversal medications and medications to treat alcohol and opioid use disorders
- The "Care Cascade" for patients with OUD and serious injection-related infections
 - Objectives
 - To define the care cascade for patients in a tertiary hospital system and compare outcomes of those who did and did not participate in an OUD treatment referral program.
 - Results
 - During the study period, 334 people who inject opioids were admitted. 14 admitted patients died and were excluded. The all-cause readmission rate was lower among patients referred to the EPICC program (23.7%) compared to those not referred to EPICC (41%).
 - Conclusion. An OUD care cascade evaluation demonstrated that referral to peer recovery services with outpatient OUD treatment was associated with a reduced 90-day readmission rate.
- Looking Ahead in 2025
 - June-July 2024
 - Provide technical assistance and ongoing support to the newly established EPICC program in the SE region.
 - July-September 2024
 - Support EPICC enhancements in the central, SW, and western regions, i.e. assisting with the onboarding of five additional certified peer specialists.
 - October 2024-March 2025
 - EPICC staff will be offered specialized maternal health training via the Missouri Credentialing Board, i.e. Pregnant and Parenting Families.
 - Spring/Summer 2025
 - Convene third annual statewide EPICC convening.
 - Q3 2025
- Support statewide EPICC evaluation, with timelines contingent on securing and sustaining necessary positions to conduct program evaluation.

American Cancer Society

- Tobacco is the number one cause of preventable death in the US.
- Economic impact:
 - $3.25 billion in direct health care cost including nearly $700 million in Medicaid costs;
 - Smoking costs $7.1 billion in productivity costs annually; and

- On average, Missourians pay $1203 per household in state and federal taxes from smoking-caused government expenditures, whether they smoke or not.
- In FY 2023, Missouri budgeted 2.9 million dollars for tobacco cessation and prevention, increased by $350,000 in FY 2025. By contrast, tobacco marketing in Missouri is 344 million per year.
- Effective policies
 - Significantly increasing tobacco excise taxes on all products. As of July 1, 2024, the average state tax is $1.96, Missouri's is $0.17.
 - Should be more than $1 increase. Impact use, initiation by youth, and lead to quittance.
 - The tobacco industry has all sorts of strategies to mitigate some minimal taxation increase.

 - 84% abstinent from alcohol and illegal drugs.
 - 97% in stable housing.
 - 73% employed or in school.
 - 98% with no new arrests in 30 days.
- Research by John Kelly, Harvard Medical School:
 - Ongoing recovery support services reduces time to reach quality of life from 15 to 5 years.
- Return on investment:
 - $1 spent on recovery services saves $7 in healthcare, criminal justice, and productivity costs.
 - Individuals in recovery contribute to the economy (jobs, taxes, family and child support).
- Final Key Points:
 - RSS and RCCs are not luxuries, but necessities;
 - Additional funding is critical for addressing the addiction epidemic;
 - The combined effort of state, nonprofit, faith-based leaders, community programs, peer-led support groups, and civic facilities is crucial; and
 - Investing in recovery services saves lives, strengthens communities, and makes MO a model for long-term recovery support.

V. Hearing from October 29, 2024

Persons testifying: Melissa Kroll, Washington University; Rachel Winograd, Greg Boal, Jameala Jones, University of Missouri-St. Louis; Clay Goddard, Amanda Mays, Brightli SW Region/Burrell Behavioral Health; Scott Allen, Ashley Dedmon, Lora Smith, Webster County Health Unit; Sue Haverman, Catholic Charities St. Louis

Treatment in Place and Alternative Destination for EMS Melissa Kroll, M.D., Washington University

Innovating EMS systems to better fit into healthcare systems. I was leading these discussions for the National Association of EMS Physicians, experimenting with federal pilots. I want to bring that back here to MO; I think this is something benefitting us here. To understand this better, we need a better understanding of what EMS looks like.

EMS only gets reimbursed if they transport. That system is a good one, but not the majority of EMS calls; up to 65% of emergency department calls didn't need to be seen in an ER at all. Also get called for things like anxiety, high blood pressure, alcohol abuse, things that require access but don't need to be treated in an ER.

Paramedics and EMTs go through hours, sometimes months, of training before going on an ambulance. They give reports and communicate with health systems, so we want to provide better ways for those systems. We want to offer more options and more locations for transport. It doesn't take an ER doc to schedule a dentist appointment. We can have paramedics identify what's happening, and they do the necessary service. There was a federal pilot program on this in 2020, allowing for reimbursement for the transport to an alternative destination. It also allowed EMS to be reimbursed for in-home consultations. That patient could be assessed by someone at home, get scripts sent to their pharmacy, all without leaving. Over 100 agencies applied, and it was found to be safe in all of them.

The other thing is that patients enjoy additional options, 90% of patients reported having really liked it, and would recommend this type of system for themselves, families, and friends. Also, quite a bit of savings; going to the ER adds cost, and by making things more efficient, we can boost savings. A cost evaluation of the program found savings when allowed to use systems more flexibly, after the EMS was paid, after the physician was paid, and after the urgent care visit was paid after all were reimbursed.

This has been adopted in many states, adopting reimbursement models. TX, CA, GA, KY, MN, etc. We have a limited form of this pilot in MO, and we can do alternative destination and treatment in place for psychiatric and behavioral health calls. This has made a world of difference, but doubly so from a patient's perspective. We have a better option. Crews spend time talking to the patient, connected them directly to a counselor through a behavioral health line, all while keeping the patient in home.

Another population we forget about is those who refuse to go to the ER, with about 35% of all nationwide calls ending in refusal. A lot of patients refuse even with real health problems. More healthcare gets to those who need it without them getting into a critical state, where the only option left is to get to the ER.

My request is this: We know the EMS system works in certain scenarios, but it could work better. At some point, this pilot program is going to end. My request is that when that time comes, we reconsider making this more permanent. My second request is expanding this to allow it to happen to all patients.

2021 – 2022 Booz-Allen study: federal pilot project and treatment in place and alternative destination demonstrated a net savings per intervention of between $14 and $570.

Benefits: it keeps patients in their homes; it keeps EMS within their communities and available for the next emergencies: patients have more options; appreciate those options; more efficient use of scarce EMS resources saves money.

University of Missouri St. Louis Addiction Science Team Dr. Rachel Winograd (Director of Addiction Science), Greg Bowl, and Jamella Jones.

We're going to talk a lot about the opioid overdose crisis. That's the nature of our work, the biggest priority, and opioids drive over 75% of drug-involved deaths. There are many laudable programs here across the state, we want to stay high-level, and hitting the high points on drug use, addiction, what makes it worse and better.

Our team would not exist without the support and partnership from state agencies, particularly DMH and DHSS. Through genuine collaboration and funding, our team has grown to address many of the problems. We're not here to represent the views of DMH or DHSS. I've learned a lot being a part of this committee; I know you all wear many hats as legislators, so you have a lot of power to change how we treat people who use drugs in our state.

I want to start by giving a brief lay of the land regarding the overdose crisis in this country. I'll keep this relatively short, but most of us are familiar with the crisis beginning in the 90s, initially driven by prescriptions. We've transitioned from a pill-dominated crisis, from heroin, to fentanyl. It's a potent synthetic opioid, it is not evil, and we should not panic, but illicitly made fentanyl has taken over our drug supply.

Trends move east to west, and Missouri tends to follow the East coast and Appalachia regarding drug trends. We're seeing those decreases in drug related deaths fall in a geographic pattern, such that decreases move east to west, but you can take that national example, and it works here. St. Louis will always get hit with something first. We did see a decrease of over 10% nationally in 2023, and looking at preliminary 2024 data, that decrease is continuing.

Missouri tends to fall around national average patterns; we had an 11% decrease, and in 2024, we have some good news: we are seeing a 28% decrease in the first half of this calendar year. Anyone who says they know exactly why they're seeing the decrease doesn't know; it's multi-causal, and in public health, we talk associations not cause.

St. Louis has been the epicenter of our state's overdose crisis for a long time, and Black men, when talking demographics, are hardest hit. There is evidence of decrease, but rates of death among Black men are 3x higher than those of the general population. Some populations, regions, demographic groups need more support if we want everyone to get out of it.

Exercise by Dr. Winograd – she asked everyone to write down their drug of choice and then write out positive effects of that drug of choice. She explained that caffeine, gambling, alcohol, and high-sugar and fat foods can all be considered drugs. She then asked to cross off the drug of choice, then relabel the list as “My Needs.”

People have said patience, creativity, relaxation, social engagement, pain relief.

When you look at a list like this, we use drugs to meet our needs. Humans are rational. We don't continue doing things if they do nothing for us. We all have reasons for engaging in this behavior. So often, we try to get people to stop using drugs or to reduce their use, but we don't acknowledge that we're asking them to take away a form of getting their needs met. We want them to go without their needs being met without replacing it with something. I bring this up to ground us in the reality that people use drugs for reasons, and most often it isn't just to "get high." Please keep this in mind, if we're taking something away, we need to be ready, willing, and able to replace it with something to help people get those needs met.

Really important not to minimize the horrors of opioid withdrawal. People end up using just to feel normal, because the base state is in this feeling of dope sickness or withdrawal. People have said they've been shocked at what they've seen themselves do in a state of withdrawal.

These medications help keep people in the "white zone". Because people can take them once per day and doesn't allow people to spend their whole day chasing their next dose, it allows people to go and live their lives. Heroin use was 3-4 injections per day, fentanyl is around 12.

Medication for OUD is lifesaving. Hospital initiation of MAT should be abundant in every hospital. Long-term care in primary care settings is possible.

What tangible tools and strategies do we have to save and improve lives of people who use drugs, and all of those impact by addiction?

- To save lives and reduce harms
 - Community-based naloxone distribution:
 - Aiming for saturation;
 - Prioritizing distribution to people who use drugs and are likeliest to be at scenes of overdose;
 - Diversifying access options; and
 - Teaching compassionate responses.
 - Opioid-agonist medications for OUD:
 - Increasing availability of methadone and buprenorphine;
 - Prioritizing rapid and sustained access; and
 - Diversifying access options.
 - Syringe access programs:
 - Providing physical space and interpersonal support;
 - Reducing transmission of HepC and HIV; and
 - Increasing likelihood of people entering substance use treatment.
- To improve lives and well-being:
 - Housing, transportation, and other basic necessities:
 - Increasing availability of securing housing to enhance stability;
 - Increasing access to transportation to engage in treatment and employment; and
 - Providing reliable access to other life necessities.
 - Peer support and community connection:
 - Offering peer and community recovery support services help prevent return to drug use;
 - Increasing the percentage of people who are in sustained and stable remission, reducing the number of people at risk of overdose; and
 - Providing peer-to-peer role modeling and hope to sustain positive changes.

Medication First Approach

- People with OUD receive medical treatment as quickly as possible, prior to lengthy assessments or treatment planning sessions;
- Maintenance pharmacotherapy is delivered without arbitrary tapering or time limits;
- Individualized psychosocial services are offered but not required as a condition of pharmacotherapy; and
- Do not discontinue medical treatment unless it is clearly worsening the patient's condition.

Individuals enrolled in MedFirst were more likely to:

- Receive medication;
- Get medication sooner;

- Receive fewer psychosocial services;
- Be engaged in treatment at 1, 3, 6, and 9 months; and
- Cost the state 21% less per month, on average

Naloxone saturation is a concept we can make into reality: we want it to be already at the scene if someone overdoses. Yes, call 911, but we don't have the luxury of time to wait for EMS. Usually, other drug users are the ones who are there at the scene of an overdose. We want people most likely to witness an overdose, which tend to be active drug users, to be the ones carrying it. Despite fears and claims otherwise, giving out naloxone does not increase drug use; it increases the likelihood that someone will survive a lethal dose of opioids.

Greg Bowl

What we do for first responders is provide statewide technical assistance, naloxone for administration, and more importantly, leave behind Narcan bags in order to provide additional levels of care, and make it less likely for someone to overdose lethally in the future. What we have found is that it's not just good for the people in the community struggling with substance use, it's also incredibly beneficial for our first responders as well. By giving them this extra tool, they have lightened their burden substantially. We have three main effects:

- Trying to increase first responders' ability to save lives by giving them naloxone and instilling the confidence that naloxone is safe to administer;
- Reducing the workload on first responders by giving them less to do; and
- Wanting first responders to deal with less stress, burnout, and risk when they do have to respond to such calls.

EMS doesn't get reimbursed for this type of thing. So opioid settlement fund dollars are helping to fund these EMS agencies, and EMS agencies want to have the medication paid for, and then maybe some funding for staffing. The only reimbursement would be if they transported that person somewhere else. We should figure out the technical aspects of the funding. Every EMS agency could do this now is kind of how it's been put. If that's the case, we should ramp it up. A big reason we haven't gone that route is because we had expected the money to run out in September. And that was Dr. Kroll's request, to not have it be a pilot anymore, and make it the law so that people could do alternative transportation and care at home. The end state should be that any EMS agency can do this.

The culmination of our qualitative research study is represented in the physical flier's figure, and at the end of the day, what we developed was the Four S model:

- Safety
- Security
- Stability
- Survival

A lack means of any of these means we're living in crisis mode every day. When people live in this type of environment day-to-day, their drug addiction is likely the least of their concerns. These drivers, summarized by these Four S, allow us a ticket out. If we can address these needs, then people can start focusing on their priorities.

Missouri Peer Respite Crisis Stabilization Initiative.

Homes across MO were built specifically to fill the gaps. They're not recovery housing, for which people need to be sober and in treatment – these are for people who are in crisis, low barrier, community-led, have food, beds, and let people stay there to get themselves together before connecting them to whatever resources are required. Over 2/3 of participants in these centers move on to a more secure form of housing at the end of their stay.

People found money to keep this going, and it's a promising model that addresses the overdose crisis as well as people needing their basic needs to be met.

Along with this concept of basic needs, I would be remiss not to mention prevention. I am not an expert in prevention science, but I want to get you to think broadly about youth use.

When talking about the most effective way to reduce long-term SUD, it's investing in environments and communities. Free breakfast, lunches, and after school care. Summer care, childcare. Stable places to live without moving from home to home. It's a rich environment, where children who have these protective factors are much less likely to initiate substance use. Improve child development, support families, and enhance experiences.

WHAT SHOULD WE DO?

- Reach and maintain true naloxone saturation:
 - Ensure funding stays level or is increased;
 - Encourage agencies and organizations to build naloxone into their budgets, long-term; and
 - Prioritize distribution to settings and programs most likely to interact with people actively using drugs.
- Allow syringe access programs to operate legally across the state:
 - Can be access “hubs” for several medical and behavioral health resources (naloxone, treatment referrals, social services).
- Make buprenorphine and methadone easier to get than fentanyl:
 - Support any and all efforts to increase provision of these treatment medications across settings; and
 - Promote medical treatment for OUD within and outside of traditional substance use treatment facilities.
- Ensure people have their basic needs met – particularly housing and transportation:
 - Focus on Four S: safety, security, stability, survival for all Missourians;
 - Increase availability and access to housing across the spectrum (peer-run crisis stabilization, recovery housing, transitional housing, low-income housing, etc.); and
 - Fund and otherwise support transportation access (public transportation, vehicles for organizations, vouchers, etc.).
- Invest in peer and community-based support to promote sustained remission and positive social networks:
 - Remove any and all barriers to service delivery and coaching support from peer support specialists and community health workers across care settings.

Ensure people in these roles are employed, and paid equitably, across care settings, with opportunities for career growth and advancement.

Brightli SW Region. (Includes Burrell Behavioral Health), Clay Goddard.

Burrell's Recovery services have provided services to over 7,000 clients this FY. Our recent successes include identifying gaps in care as well.

Transition to ASAM (American Society of Addiction Medicine) model: To treat clients with SUD, recovery service providers offer a continuum of services based on individual client needs and strengths. Need to convert from the CSTAR program levels of care to ASAM levels of care. They were ready to go live in April of this year, three months before the deadline, reflecting evidence-based solutions. Early results are promising, as more clients are participating in treatment. This level of care is embedded in the residential model and requires certain placement criteria to be met by clients. The old-school setting of detox only led to about 5% seeking treatment in other service lines, but through withdrawal management, up to 60% seek additional treatment.

Withdrawal management could serve as a bridge between people with SUD and residential treatment programs, with data seeming to support this as well. Also continuing to streamline processes of getting clients to treatment services and working in partnership with people in rapid access units. Intent is to transition clients from withdrawal management to full participation in residential services as quickly as is capable.

In Springfield, there are more resources available for people in need, by making this conversion to ASAM to a total of 24 beds, increasing accessibility to lifesaving treatment care. Over the past FY, clients were provided with over 6000 services, including wraparound for those in recovery; group education, peer support, inpatient care, co-occurring services, and individualized therapy.

Providing MAT to clients, which has gained more attention, is a path to combating OUD and other SUDs. When medication curbs cravings, the teams can address underlying issues relating to substance use (connecting to food or housing, working through trauma). This comprehensive approach promotes long-term recovery, developing healthier coping skills to self-medicate. MAT can also successfully address alcoholism.

864 referrals, 48% for stimulants, primarily meth in SWMO, 30% were for alcohol, 7% were incomplete data, 15% for opioids. The team tries to get overdose victims location, and within an hour of learning of the report, get them out on the street and act with urgency.

ICTS: Improving Community Treatment Services – this includes working with repeat offenders, resource-rich programs, and helping clients transition out of vicious cycles and outside of barriers they may face. Though successful program participation is a requirement of getting those services, emphasis is placed on housing, employment, and aftercare, based on accountability, taking into consideration public safety and the delivery of recovery outcomes for participants; teaming together with parole and probation partners to help many of these clients reach successful outcomes, frequent random drug tests, addressing behavioral issues head on, and treating people like people.

Lack of access to stable housing: need outpaces the availability and variety of housing available. There is no family-friendly housing, for example, that would allow a client to have his or her children living with them, and no housing for clients designated as LGBTQIA+.

One program that has shown program is the CARES Grant, funded through SAMHSA, that assisted women with SUD to get housing and employment, with a goal of helping 250 women, referred to as a “massive undertaking.” Property managers are also reluctant to lease to people using drugs, or who are in recovery. Wanting to reduce episodes of incarcerations, CCBHCs across 7 counties in SW Missouri, and 10 counties in central MO, all saw a significant increase to 716 in FY 24; crediting a statewide effort to host collaborative workshops and local leadership, mapping how adults with mental health issues and SUD move through the legal system. Intercepts include mobile crisis outreach teams, training to help law enforcement, screenings at jails, identifying those who need care earlier, specialized treatment courts, and a warm handoff from jail to community services to ensure people are adequately connected to what they need.

Mapping workshops identified more outreach to more community partners, and what resources are available to tap into when the need arises, part of an overall effort to work upstream with partners.

Webster County Public Health Unit, Scott Allen, Ashley Deadman, and Laura Smith. Webster County health administrators.

Many students use over the counter medications to get high. 30% see no harm in using e-cigarettes or alcohol, and a close amount see no issue with daily use of marijuana.

We know all too well that folks with SUD have cooccurring mental health conditions.

Prevention is prevention is prevention, so an overarching goal should be to raise a generation of younger people that makes better choices with what they do with their lives and their bodies. It’s hard, since it’s different for every community. Developmental assets, we know that if youth have ties to their community, a trusted adult outside of the home, they’re less likely to participate in riskier behaviors.

Webster County has developed a community partnership, which brings together the county’s health, behavioral health and social service providers. Three years ago, the county had a backlog of over 80 students waitlisted for behavioral health services. Working with Burrell, the list was eliminated in one month. A 2022 study of the national Institute on Drug Abuse showed that a $602 investment in youth prevention activities yielded an estimated $7754 in savings by the time the participants reach age 23.

Our job in prevention is to work even further upstream, in our County starting in preschools, following the Institute of Medicine's continuum of care: promotion, prevention, treatment and recovery from my perspective. Little state general revenue funds take their way into prevention efforts. We're looking forward to working with the task force to address this. In Webster County we have pursued outside grant opportunities, receiving a grant from the Department of Mental health of federal pass-through funds to address prescription medication opioid misuse, as well as receiving a Drug Free Communities grant from the CDC.

Ashley Dedman is a project director on a five-year grant for which Webster County was awarded $125,000 per year and may apply for an additional five-year renewal. There are two program goals: community building and to reduce youth substance use. We were required to identify two priority substances, and we selected medication safety and marijuana, due to the recent passage of the adult-use marijuana laws. There are 22 community coalitions with the grant. We are required to match the federal dollars 100% in years one through six and 150% by year ten. Webster County also has a Missouri Foundation of Health Diversion to Care research grant. Laura Smith is the project director. The grant allows research into how substance abuse and behavioral health are handled to determine what barriers exist, as well as opportunities for improvement. Such opportunities can be establishing more resources, making them stronger, and bringing awareness and training. The grant has four goals, including examining the behavioral health crisis and identifying diversion approaches. Webster County participated in the SIMM sequential intercept project and identified four priorities: justice/mental health collaborative and crisis intervention, prevention, skill building and navigation. The grant is building awareness of needs. We're partnering with our state representative to provide outreach and treatment information, and promoting 988, and gathering input to create and design for prevention. Continuum of care can be best served working collaboratively, avoiding the prevention and treatment silos. We're working in Webster County to eliminate silos and seek innovative ways to fund this critically important work.

Catholic Charities St. Louis, Workforce Development Director Sue Haverman

What I see is that people think we can work miracles. We frequently see people with mental health issues. I've gone to the extent of actually begging for a mental health specialist, which was obtained, and who is shared with another group (St. Patrick's Center). Queen of Peace serves 1000 people per year and refers people back and forth. A lot of times, women get referred to Queen of Peace for drug counseling, assistance, and support. They are referred after getting off drugs.

We see about 120-160 people per year, and 50% are justice-involved. Of those, another 20-30% have either mental health issues or SUD. We provide them with housing, one of the first things we do, and sometimes the case managers send them to mental health, or substance abuse, or where they need to go.

There are a variety of housing programs, intake, and it depends on what the person needs, where they get referred. For instance, if you are in need of housing right away, there is a short-term transition program, if you're a veteran, you could get to one of the 5 veterans' programs, if it's long-term you'd likely go to the HERO program, and the long-term transitional programs that are more for people who have chronic, co-occurring, issues with mental health and/or substance use.

Would ask for recommendation to make equitable the amount of tax credits that would be available as for pregnancy care centers (no limit on the amount of credits); need to know if there is a cap on the Neighborhood Assistance Program (NAP) and Youth Opportunity Program (YOP) grants.

POLICY RESEARCH

What are the public health outcomes of cannabis legalization?

Research studies on the long-term outcomes of legalizing cannabis on public health are not consistent and therefore inconclusive. Research is generally divided into work focused on medicinal cannabis legalization (MCL) and recreational cannabis legalization (RCL).

	Effect of MCL	Effect of RCL
Youth cannabis use	- Some studies suggest increases consumption³ - Other studies find no impact⁴	Remains unclear; requires more time for further research and comprehensive analysis⁵
Alcohol and cigarette use	- Associated with a rise in adult binge drinking^{4, 6} - No impact on youth alcohol consumption^{4, 6, 7} - Reduction in teen cigarette use⁸	- Linked to a decline in college students' binge drinking⁹ - No effect on college students' cigarette use¹⁰
Opioid use	- Reduced opioid prescriptions^{11, 12} - Unclear impact on opioid related mortality^{13, 14, 15, 16}	- Reduced opioid prescriptions^{11, 12} - No impact on opioid related mortality^{16, 17}
Other substance use	- Decline in heroin-related treatment admission, as a result of cannabis substitution¹⁸ - Decline in prescriptions for mental health, pain, and neurological	- Reduction in sleep-aid sales²⁰ - Little evidence of impact on harder drug use, treatment admissions, or crime rates²¹

How does cannabis legalization affect the economy?

The legal cannabis industry provided 440,445 full time jobs in U.S. by early 2024, with more than $28.8 billion in annual revenue.²⁹ These jobs are distributed in multiple sectors, ranging from cultivation (31%) to testing labs (<1%) (Figure 14). Cannabis sale is taxed at rates ranging from 10% in MI to 37% in WA.³⁰ MO's first year of recreational cannabis (RC) sales in 2023 boosted monthly revenues to over $110 million, compared to $38 million the previous year; which is driven by out-of-state consumers with stricter laws and higher taxes compared to MO's 6%.^{29, 31} While RC sales in Missouri tripled, medical cannabis (MC) sales declined.³¹ The state also recorded a 110% increase in cannabis related jobs, with employment increasing from 10,735 jobs in 2023 to 20,468 by March 2024.²⁹ Overall, more post-implementation data is needed to fully assess the public health and economic impact of recreational cannabis legalization, particularly in Missouri.

What are the tobacco product taxes in other states?

Cigarettes are the most consumed tobacco product in the United States.³² In addition to the federal tax of $1.01 per pack, each state has an excise tax on cigarettes, and some local governments levy a tax as well.

Missouri has the lowest cigarette excise tax in the nation, at 17 cents per pack (Figure 15).³³

Taxes on other tobacco products vary. Not every tobacco product is subject to an excise tax in each state. For example, FL and PA have no excise tax on cigars. Most states have a tax on e-cigarettes but 17 (including MO) do not.³⁴

How is tobacco tax revenue used?

Missouri cigarette tax revenue is split between the State School Money Fund, the Health Initiatives Fund, and the Fair Share Fund.³⁵ Both the State School Money Fund and the Fair Share Fund go to education.³⁶ Approximately three quarters of the revenue from the cigarette tax goes to these two funds, with the remaining quarter going to the Health Initiatives Fund, part of which funds substance abuse programs.³⁷

How do other states use revenue from taxes on tobacco products?

States use their cigarette tax revenue for a variety of purposes.³⁸ KS and AR use cigarette tax revenue as general revenue (GR). NE and KY allocate most but not all of their cigarette tax revenue to GR. NE directs a portion of cigarette tax revenue to several funds including capital projects and public safety communication.³⁹ IA directs its revenue to the Health Care Trust Fund. TN largely directs cigarette tax revenue to education. OK and IL direct their cigarette tax revenue to funds predominantly related to health and education.

Taxes on non-cigarette tobacco products are often allocated similarly to cigarette taxes. TN, AR, NE, and KS allocate these taxes to general revenue. MO, IL and IA allocate non-cigarette tobacco tax revenue to health-related funds, while TN allocates it to education.³⁸

Metrics of success.

Tobacco taxes have dual goals of raising revenue and discouraging the use of tobacco products. Missouri raised $95 million in tobacco taxes in FY 2023.⁴⁰ Studies find that tobacco taxes discourage smoking.⁴¹ Estimates of this impact vary, with studies since 2000 finding that a 10% price increase would reduce smoking by 1 to 3%. Taxes may reduce smoking more for youth and young adults.⁴² Because smoking declines with income, these taxes place a relatively greater burden on low-income individuals.⁴¹ Taxes on one type of product may also impact consumption of other tobacco products. Taxes on e-cigarettes were found to reduce e-cigarette use and increase traditional cigarette use.⁴³

Needle Exchange Programs

Needle exchange programs or syringe service programs (SSPs) offer free sterile syringes and safely collect and dispose of used ones to help prevent the spread of infections among people who use injection drugs. Comprehensive SSPs also offer services like counseling, infection testing, referral to substance abuse treatment, and other health services.^{44, 45}

What are the effects of SSPs?

SSPs not only reduce infection transmissions, but also have other reported benefits. SSPs are associated with a reduction in HIV cases.^{46, 47, 48} After implementation, HIV transmission decreases by 10% in new HIV diagnoses.⁴⁹ Hepatitis C infections are also reduced by 50% when syringe access is combined with medications for opioid dependence.⁵⁰ Syringe sharing among injection drug users drops by 5-10% within six months, without increasing drug injection frequency.⁵¹ Risk of infection to the public is also decreased as SSPs lower improper syringe disposal.^{52, 53, 54, 55, 56} Participation in SSPs facilitates entry into substance use disorder treatment.^{57, 58, 59} Many SSPs reduce drug overdoses by training individuals and distributing overdose prevention kits.^{60, 61, 62, 63}

State policies governing SSPs.

As of 2021, SSPs were legal in 32 states and illegal in 11 states, including MO.⁶⁴ SSPs are also locally permitted, or authorized by local jurisdictions in 8 states (Figure 16). Federal funds from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services may support SSPs but cannot be used to purchase syringes.⁶⁵ The CDC recommends a low-threshold access to services, such as maximizing number of locations and hours, keeping participants' confidentiality, no requirements to engage in additional services, and providing syringes based on expressed need.⁶⁶ Identification and registration requirements may inhibit use of services, and one-to-one exchange, or allowing participants only the same number of syringes returned, increases sharing of used syringes and discourages distribution of cleaned ones to others in need.^{66, 67, 68}

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

EIGHTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 21, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Thou shalt rejoice in every good thing which the Lord thy God hath given unto thee. (Deuteronomy 26:11)

Almighty God, our help in ages past, again we come to You with gratitude for the remains of this day. We pray that You will help these representatives of our people to face the challenge of these times with courage, to accept their responsibilities with confidence, and to solve their ever-present problems with creative wisdom and humility.

May they learn that the secret of finding life and happiness is not to do what you like to do but to learn to like what you have to do. In this spirit we pray and, in this spirit, may we do our work this day.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

NINTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 22, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

And they that know Thy name will put their trust in Thee: for Thou, Lord, has not forsaken them that seek Thee.
(Psalm 9:10)

O God in whose presence our spirits find strength, our minds are given fresh insights, and our hearts feel the warmth of Your love, at the gateway of this winter, and we pause in silence before You. Incline our souls to see wisdom, truth and mercy at Your hands. Reveal to us the way we should go, the decisions we should make, the plans we should follow, and may all our work be based upon intelligent conviction and dynamic faith.

God bless our new leaders of our Show Me State. Give them wisdom that they may use their power for the wellbeing of all Missouri citizens.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the eighth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

TENTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 23, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Travis Wilson.

Dear Jesus,

We come before Your throne this morning with grateful hearts. We thank You for Your protection and guidance thus far in this new year.

We ask for Your blessing upon these proceedings. May Your goodness and mercy cover us and may Your spirit and holy anointing be upon us. Illuminate the path before us with Your word. Help us to honor You by doing the people's work as unto You, Lord.

Let us not be distracted by division. Let us encourage one another using the fruits of the spirit, such as love, patience, kindness, and gentleness. Remind us, Lord, that ultimately we are not people from one political party or another but we are all God's children, and the government is resting on Your shoulders.

Also, Lord, I pray Your mighty hand would be upon each elected official, from the school board member to the Governor and all in between. Furthermore, I pray for the newly sworn in administration and Congress in our nation's capitol. Give each person holding elected office the wisdom that is so desperately needed in these challenging times.

Lastly, Lord, I pray for those experiencing hardship today: those in California that are still recovering from devastating fires, those who have lost their homes, lost loved ones, and simply lost hope. Help the hurting to remember You are in control and that as Romans 8:28 says, "All things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are called according to his purpose."

Again, we thank You, Lord, and ask You to please bless Missouri and the United States of America.

We ask it all in Jesus's name and the House says . . . AMEN!

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the ninth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF MIKE KEHOE 58TH GOVERNOR OF MISSOURI

President Pro-Tem O’Laughin, Speaker Patterson, members of the General Assembly, state and federal elected officials, former Governors, judges, Cabinet officials, friends, family, and fellow Missourians...

We started this morning honoring a group of brave men and women who represent the best of those who serve and protect our communities. Thank you to our Salute to Heroes honorees for joining us today.

I would like to take a moment now to thank Governor Parson for his service to our state. His humble and steady leadership benefitted Missourians. Claudia and I wish he and the First Lady well in this next chapter.

I stand before you today, mindful of the honorable history of this occasion, humbled by the trust Missourians have placed in me, and determined to meet the challenges ahead.

I will always remember and honor the solemn oath I just took.

Growing up, no one would have looked at me and said, one day, that kid is going to be sworn in by Senator Roy Blunt as the 58th Governor of Missouri.

I will never forget where I came from—the sixth child of Lorraine Kehoe, a single mom, who often struggled to raise her family in North St. Louis City.

My mom wasn't what some would call "highly educated," but she worked hard. She was a very, very wise, and a caring, and loving person. She was God-fearing. Today, I proudly have her rosary with me and used her Bible to take the oath. I learned a lot about life, faith, and relationships from her.

Every time we kids complained about something we didn't have, she had a simple answer: pray harder, work harder. Mom was right. If you work hard and you love the Lord, you can get anywhere you want to go in this state and this country.

That's been the guiding principle of my life. Whenever we saw something that needed to be done, we didn't complain. We prayed hard, and we worked hard.

That's what led me to get started in business. It's why I ran for State Senate. It's why I answered Governor Parson's call to serve as Lt. Governor. It's why I ran for Governor.

So, this day, this moment in time—it is a win for single mothers, like Lorraine Kehoe. My journey has been the experience of a lifetime, and I couldn't have done it without the grace of God, my family, my brother and sisters who are here today, and the support of many mentors and friends.

My wife, Claudia, has been an incredible partner and been by my side every step of the way. And she will be an amazing First Lady of Missouri!

Our kids, Carol, Michael, Maggie, and Claire and our son-in-law Scott were always there to support Claudia and me. I'm so proud of all of them.

This is truly an emotional and humbling experience for our entire family.

In the years ahead, we're going to need your continued prayers and support, because there is a lot of work to be done.

And because sadly, the world around us has grown more divided and more cynical. For too many people, hard work has been replaced by handouts. The power of prayer is mocked. The contest of ideas is no longer a matter of right versus wrong, but of good versus evil. Political opponents cast each other as traitors and criminals.

I reject this. I believe we can work together without sacrificing our core beliefs.

One of my life's mentors was a man named Dave Sinclair. He instilled in me that building relationships, standing for your values, relying on your faith, and finding a path to make something work is a good thing. My story is living proof that a mentor in a young person's life can have a life-long impact.

Mr. Sinclair reinforced the values my mother taught me, and that was exactly what I needed and, quite frankly, other young kids who come from struggling backgrounds need the same thing today. They need hope.

My life—growing up in the inner city, moving to a small town, building businesses, and operating a ranch—these experiences have taught me one thing: Missourians are more alike than we are different. All of us want to feel safe in our homes and in our neighborhoods. We want our kids to get a quality education. We want to work hard to support our families.

Achieving these things—that's how we secure Missouri's future.

Securing Missouri's future begins with public safety. Too many Missourians don't feel safe—and too many Missourians aren't safe. When people are afraid for their lives and for their families, they cannot be productive, and they will not prosper. Later today, as my first official act on Day One as governor, I will take our first steps in securing a safer Missouri.

But that's not all. In the coming weeks, months, and years, my administration will be relentless in our pursuit to make Missouri a place where it's easier to be a cop than a criminal.

And when Missourians are safe, they can be the best versions of themselves. Our efforts will support the brave men and women in uniform who risk their lives for us every day—officers like Eva Millar-Galván, who did a wonderful job singing our National Anthem this morning.

Securing Missouri's future means strengthening public education and expanding school choice so that every single student has the opportunity to get a world class education. Whether it's a four-year college or career technical education, schools that teach kids how to think—not what to think—are the key to long-term self-reliance.

Securing Missouri's future means creating stable jobs that provide both a source of income and a sense of purpose. My administration will focus on reducing taxes and cutting regulations, so families keep more of their own money, and so job creators want to come here, expand here, and hire more hard-working Missourians.

Finally, Securing Missouri's future means securing our agriculture economy. Just behind me, and about 350 feet up on top of this beautiful Capitol, is our state's tribute to the hard-working agriculture families and their efforts – some multi-generational, some first-generation like Claudia and me. For our state to continue to feed and clothe the world, we must get government out of their lives and let our farmers and ranchers do what they do best: work hard and continue to produce results.

Make no mistake about it: accomplishing these goals will not be easy. We will face entrenched special interests, a fear of change, and a culture that says we should keep doing things the way we've always done them.

But Missourians didn't send us here to do what's comfortable.

They expect results. They deserve results. With my administration, they will get results.

This is my promise to you: I will talk to anyone, work with anyone, and root for anyone who has a good idea to make our state safer, stronger, and better.

And when we succeed—together—Missouri and our citizens will serve as a model of responsible, conservative, and innovative leadership.

Over the past two centuries, countless Missourians have plowed the soil, worked in factories, raised families, gone to church, and contributed to their communities.

Our grit, our resourcefulness, our work-ethic has produced remarkable citizens—people America has counted on to lead soldiers into battle, and to lead our nation into peace; people who have entertained us, informed us, and captured our imaginations; people who have led social movements, explored the heavens, and built successful businesses.

Missourians are people who work hard, who work together, and who never give up. Missouri is a land of opportunity. We are centrally located, bracketed by rivers, crossed by major highways. We have been blessed with fertile farmland, abundant minerals, and industrious people. When we take these natural advantages—and we pair them with conservative policies and limited government—we will unleash freedom and secure our future.

It will take each of us, working together, to secure an even safer, stronger, and more prosperous Missouri!

May God bless you. May God bless the United States of America. And may God continue to bless the great State of Missouri!

The Benediction was given by Reverend John Miles, Senior Pastor of the Morning Star Missionary Baptist Church, Kansas City, Missouri.

The Joint Session was dissolved by President Pro Tem O’Laughlin.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

FIFTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 14, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Restore unto me the joy of Thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit. (Psalm 51:12)

Eternal God and Everlasting, our refuge and strength in every hour of need, we come to You in this moment of prayer opening our hearts to Your love, our minds to Your truth, and our spirits to Your redeeming grace. Help us to accept our privileges with gratitude, to face our difficulties with courage, and to carry our responsibilities with fidelity.

Deliver us from annoyances and antagonisms which corrode the souls and pull us down. Help us so to live with the lift for all. Bind us together in one great effort to keep democracy and freedom and faith alive and growing in our day.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 103rd General Assembly

SIXTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 15, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Let not mercy and truth forsake Thee; bind them about Thy neck; write them upon the table of Thine heart.
(Proverbs 3:3)

O God, our Guide, the source of all that is good in life, once again we come to You seeking greater strength, needing more rest, desiring a deeper peace. We have sought satisfaction in the minor details of daily life that do not matter much and have left undone the major duties that matter most. Forgive us and strengthen us by Your spirit that the business of this day may be done with Your cause in our hearts.

Awaken within us the spirit of friendliness and kindness. Keep us from allowing disagreements to make us disagreeable and from permitting difference in us to make difference between us. Kindle in our hearts and in the hearts of all people the spirit of good will. Let tolerance and understanding and compassion rule our spirits and possess our souls.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

Journal of the House

ONE HUNDRED THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the
STATE OF MISSOURI

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 8, 2025

The House was called to order at twelve o'clock noon by the Honorable John R. Ashcroft, Secretary of State.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, V.G., St. Peter Catholic Church, Jefferson City, Missouri.

Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ. (Galatians 6:2)

Eternal God, our Creator, before the work of a new year and session begins, we will be still in Your presence and receive the invocation of Your spirit. May the words of our mouths and the meditations of our hearts be acceptable in Your sight. Cleansed by Your forgiving love, made stronger by Your spirit, and becoming wise with Your wisdom, we would face the unfinished tasks committed to our care this day.

These are times which call for greater courage, higher wisdom, broader sympathy, and deeper faith. May they increasingly become ours as we wait upon You. In all our decisions and in all our doing may we keep our hearts confident, our spirits courageous, our minds clear, and our hands clean. Together may we move forward to a greater day for our Missouri citizens.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Missouri State Highway Patrol Troop F Color Guard presented the Colors.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

"The Star-Spangled Banner" was performed by Caitlyn Thompson.

Secretary Ashcroft addressed the House.

ADDRESS BY TEMPORARY SPEAKER ANN KELLEY

Ladies and gentlemen, esteemed colleagues, and honored guests,

Today, I stand before you with immense gratitude and humility as I accept the role of temporary speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives during this 103rd General Assembly. It is a privilege to serve in this esteemed body, where our collective commitment to the people of Missouri drives our every decision and action.

As we embark on this legislative session, I am reminded of the responsibility that each one of us carries. Our constituents have entrusted us with their hopes, dreams, and concerns, and it is our duty to listen, to engage, and to act. In this chamber, we represent diverse voices and perspectives, and it is this diversity that will strengthen our state.

I would like to extend my gratitude to my fellow representatives for your unwavering support and confidence in my ability to lead during this critical time. Together, we will foster an environment of collaboration and respect, where every member has the opportunity to contribute to the important work ahead.

Let us approach our tasks with open minds and hearts, embracing the challenges we face as opportunities for growth and improvement. The issues before us—education, healthcare, infrastructure, and public safety—are not just policy matters; they are about the lives of our constituents and the future of our communities.

As we deliberate, let us remember that civility and bipartisanship are the cornerstones of effective governance. We may not always agree, but we can always strive to understand one another. It is through respectful dialogue that we will find common ground and build lasting solutions.

I encourage each of you to bring your passion and dedication to the floor, to advocate for those who cannot advocate for themselves, and to ensure that every voice is heard in our discussions. Together, we can and will make a difference.

In closing, I thank you for this opportunity to serve as your temporary speaker. I look forward to working alongside each of you as we navigate this session together, united in our purpose to serve the people of Missouri.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER JONATHAN PATTERSON

Mr. Secretary, Madam Speaker, distinguished guests, Members of the House of Representatives,

Our constitution instructs us to meet at this date and at this hour, but it is our constituents, our neighbors, our fellow Missourians, who call us here today to once again renew our democracy.

And so we begin the work of the 103rd general assembly. It is my great honor to welcome all of you here today to this great hall, a place that some have called the front porch of our democracy.

I wish to thank my colleagues for this high honor of being named your speaker. I am truly humbled by your trust in me and I will work every day to be worthy of that trust.

Every Speaker of the House is unique from the one before. For example, I am the first Speaker from Jackson County in 157 years. I am the first medical doctor to serve as Speaker in 140 years. And I am the first Asian American Speaker in Missouri history. But here, in this body, our uniqueness is forgotten. On this floor, we lose our names. Here, I am the gentleman from Jackson. This is not a place for egos. We leave egos to those on the other side of the rotunda.

Losing our names is a timeless reminder that our names are unimportant. It is the people we represent that matter most and the areas we represent that supersede us. Long after we are gone and but a picture on a wall, the gentleman or lady from Jackson will still rise on this floor.

Being elected state representative is a truly special honor. And none of us in here did this alone. We are here today because of the love and support of our families. While we are getting the attention and accolades, they are often the ones behind the scenes doing the thankless work while we are here in Jefferson City. Like all of you, I am deeply indebted to my family, who are here today. My wife, Jennifer, and our kids, Leah and Andrew, and I ask that you make them feel welcome. Guys, it's been a crazy 6 years and I couldn't have done it without you and I wouldn't want to be here without you.

I'm also joined here today by my 5 siblings, Greg, Lori, Lindsey, Jenny, Jeff, and all of their spouses, and I ask that they stand and I ask the members to welcome them. Between the 6 of us kids, I'm proud to say there are 19 children, all of them the grandkids of my parents, Joe and Elaine of Blue Springs, and I ask that we all make them feel welcome.

My parents are the embodiment of the promise of Missouri and they are a good reminder of what we need to be doing here for the next 4 months.

Both of my parents were born and raised in the state just to the west, and they went to school there. But it was Missouri where they chose to make their life together. After my dad's time in the air force, they moved to Blue Springs, where he had a good job with a great Missouri company, Hallmark Cards. In a Missouri town they found safe neighborhoods, good public schools for their kids, and a community of people who shared their values.

They chose to make their kids their priority. With the hundreds of soccer, basketball, and volleyball games, choir and piano lessons and recitals, there really wasn't much time for anything else. But their family is what they valued most. And in the end, they were able to realize their dream of sending all of their kids to college. One to Westminster college, three to William Jewell, and two to a little place called Mizzou.

My friends, if you have any questions about what we should be doing here in Jefferson City, I submit to you that there is no greater pursuit for us than making sure that every family in Missouri has the opportunities that Missouri had for Joe and Elaine. That families want to move to Missouri and live out their dreams here, just as my parents did.

So let us commit today to each other that we here in the House are here to serve Missouri families and that we will put Missouri Families first.

For Missouri families, there can be no greater gift than the gift of life. That means, while we respect the will of the voters, we must clarify the provisions of Amendment 3 and make Missouri the most pro-life state it can be.

The last general assembly left unfinished business on the table. Legislation that would have mandated the state apply for the benefits of foster children with deceased parents should have been passed but fell victim to our inaction and politics. We must prioritize the most vulnerable among us, especially our foster children. Therefore, I will refer that same legislation to the committee next week and I ask that it be first bill sent to the senate for their consideration.

Mental health continues to be a problem afflicting our youth. It is an issue that is seemingly getting worse and worse every year. The general assembly has recently invested in pediatric mental health with a 25 million dollar investment in the Illuminate Initiative at Children's Mercy Hospital in Kansas City. We must continue to invest in treatment for pediatric mental health and I ask that the House budget committee once again make appropriations for mental health treatment for our kids.

Today, too many Missouri families are being torn apart by violence and crime. Nothing is more harmful to the growth of our state than criminals who roam our streets with little fear of punishment. Therefore, we must pass legislation that addresses the critical issue of public safety. I hope legislation that seeks to recruit and retain police officers to our cities will be supported by members on both sides of the aisle.

Finally, Missouri's families continue to be burdened with trying to find childcare spots that are too hard to find and too expensive. This is something I personally heard time and time again from constituents as I visited with them this past summer. The lack of affordable and accessible childcare causes billions of dollars of losses and around $5,500 per working parent each year. I ask that the House once again take up and pass legislation that will provide incentives to businesses and childcare facilities to increase the number of childcare slots available to Missouri parents.

When the history of the 103rd general assembly is written, what will they say about us? Will we be remembered for our accomplishments and all that we did to make Missouri better? Or will we be remembered as a group who was too preoccupied with politics and Facebook videos to do any serious work.

As your speaker, I ask you to join me today and commit to working together to make life safer, better, and more affordable for Missouri families. When we have our differences, let us argue with respect. And when we find common goals let us pursue them with the energy and passion fitting the people we serve. Let's get to work for Missouri families.

My congratulations to you all and your families on your elections. It is truly a special honor to play a part in the story of our state as state representative.

May God bless you. May God bless the work we will do together. And may God continue to shine his light on the show me state.

NOMINATIONS FOR SPEAKER PRO TEM

Representative Farnan nominated Representative Chad Perkins as Speaker Pro Tem of the House.

Representative Seitz seconded the nomination.

Representative Riley moved that nominations cease and Representative Perkins be elected by acclamation.

Which motion was adopted.

The following committee was appointed to escort Representative Perkins to the dais: Representatives Hardwick, Reuter, Byrnes, Owen, Van Schoiack, Terry, and Proudie.

Representative Perkins subscribed to the oath of office, which was administered by the Honorable Jim Beck, Judge of the 45th Judicial Circuit Court of Missouri.

Speaker Pro Tem Perkins assumed the Chair.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER PRO TEM CHAD PERKINS

First, I want to thank God. I cannot express how deeply He has blessed my life in ways that are beyond my hand or any other human hand.

I want to thank my family, who is here today, as well.

I am grateful to the Gentleman from Nodaway and the Gentleman from Taney for their kind words. To the escort committee, thank you—you honor me with your assistance.

There are three little girls in my family here today, and I want them to know—and for all the young ladies across the great state of Missouri to know—that you don't have to look far to find a hero.

We have dedicated public servants right here in this room, whom young women can look up to and aspire to be like.

The Lady from St. Charles County, District 65—she can tell you exactly where every dime in our budget is spent and works tirelessly to eliminate waste.

The Lady from St. Louis City, District 77—she has devoted herself to providing education and job training for the nearly 20,000 offenders in our Department of Corrections. She understands that education is key to breaking the cycle of poor decision-making.

The Lady from St. Louis County, District 88—she has fought tirelessly against human trafficking. Missouri's women are safer today because of her dedication.

The Lady from Cass County, District 62—small businesses in Missouri have no greater champion.

The Lady from St. Louis County, District 73—since the day she arrived here, she has been a relentless advocate for battered and abused women. Her work to support victims of domestic violence is truly the Lord's work.

Finally, the Lady from St. Charles County, District 63—her righteous struggle to expose the cancer outbreak in St. Charles County has given a voice to many who felt unheard.

These women are heroes, and every young woman can aspire to follow their example.

When I first came to the legislature, I was told that someday I would just be a face in a picture on the wall. But I want to tell every freshman here today that, after years of service, I've learned this: someday your face or name may be forgotten, but the work you do here will endure. Let your work here be your legacy.

This year, I begin my 31st year in country radio. If I have ever shared sage advice with any of you, it likely came from an old country song. Why should today be any different? So, I'll leave you with this:

"Stand up for the flag, and let's all ring the Liberty Bell. Let's make a Ford and Chevy that'll last ten years like they should. Because the best of the free life is still yet to come, and the good times ain't over for good."

Thank you. God bless you. God bless the great state of Missouri, and God bless the United States of America.

Speaker Patterson resumed the Chair.

Pursuant to Section 9.141, RSMo, the United States Bill of Rights was read by Leah and Andrew Patterson.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Parker Ryan Zeller, Fletcher Owen Zeller, Zoe May Zeller, Noah Anthony Turner, Quinn Avery Turner, Sloane Elyse Turner, Mya Elena Turner, Bryn Marie Turner, Lincoln Patrick Turner, Grant William Grammer, Olivia Lynn Grammer, Isaac Easton Patterson, John David Patterson, and Samuel Scott Patterson.

No member shall file a bill, other than an appropriation bill, after March 1, without leave of the House. No committee shall introduce upon report any House Committee Bill after April 1.

~~[(b) No member shall file more than twenty bills during a session without leave of the Speaker. Committee bills and appropriations bills shall not be included in the number of bills a member may file. The provisions of this paragraph shall become effective July 1, 2023.]~~

(2) Manner of Printing. Any bill shall have the matter which is being repealed from current law enclosed in bold-faced brackets and the matter which is being added to the law underscored when typewritten and in bold-faced type when printed. In addition, the Chief Clerk may adjust the formatting of printed bills in the House in order to increase readability. A footnote shall be annexed to the first page of each bill which contains material enclosed in bold-faced brackets to the following effect:

"EXPLANATION - Matter enclosed in bold-faced brackets in the above bill is not enacted and is intended to be omitted from the law. Matter in bold-face type in the above bill is proposed language."

Where a section is completely rewritten, the existing section shall be set forth in small type in bold-faced brackets in a note following the new section but the changes need not be distinguished. Any House bill or substitute thereof which does not comply with this rule shall not be placed upon the calendar.

(3) Numbering of Bills. The Chief Clerk shall number bills in the order of their filing, reserving numbers for appropriations bills.

(4) Withdrawal. Any bill may be withdrawn by the sponsor before the bill has been referred to any regular or special standing committee.

Number of Copies Printed

Rule 40. The Chief Clerk shall print such number of copies of all House Bills and House Joint Resolutions as he or she shall deem appropriate.

Federal Mandate Calendar

Rule 41. (1) When a federal mandate bill is reported from the appropriate committee with recommendation that it "Do Pass" or "Without Recommendation", it shall go upon the calendar of the House.

(2) No bill shall be placed on a Federal Mandate Calendar unless it is federally mandated, immediate in nature, and reduces revenues or savings if not enacted. A federal mandate bill may only contain subject matter concerning the federal mandate. A member wishing for his or her bill to be considered for placement on the Federal Mandate Calendar shall request in writing to the chair of the committee where such bill has been referred. The written request shall state the deadline by which the state must comply with the federal mandate and what will happen if the state fails to take action by such date. A copy for each committee member of the federal statute or regulation mandating such action shall accompany the request. After the committee has voted "Do Pass" on a bill with such a request, it shall take a second recorded vote on whether to recommend that it be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendar. If said bill is reported "Do Pass" by a regular standing committee with a recommendation that same be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendar, the chair of the committee shall submit to the Speaker a copy of the original written request, along with a copy of the federal statute or regulation mandating State action. If the Speaker concurs with the committee that the bill complies with the requirements of this rule, he or she shall advise the Chief Clerk to place same on the Federal Mandate Calendar. If the Speaker does not concur, he or she may place the bill on the Perfection Calendar. Each bill placed upon the Federal Mandate Calendars shall have attached thereto a copy of the federal statute or regulation that mandates the bill, along with a copy of the request to place the bill on the Federal Mandate Calendar and shall be distributed to all members at least twenty-four hours prior to consideration by the entire House.

Revision Bills

Rule 42. Any bill denominated as a revision bill by the appropriate committee shall contain only that subject matter approved by the committee on legislative research, and additional material may not be amended thereto, unless needed as a technical correction.

Motion To Place On Calendar

Rule 43. If any bill is reported from committee with the recommendation that it "Do Not Pass" it shall not go on the calendar of the House unless ordered by a constitutional majority. At the same time the bill is reported to the House, the committee chair shall notify the sponsor or handler of the bill that such report is being made. A motion to have a bill placed upon the calendar shall be made within three legislative days after the bill is reported and when the sponsor of the bill is present or the motion is made by a member upon the sponsor's written request. If no such action is taken within such time, the bill shall lie on the table. If such a motion is sustained, the bill shall be referred to a Committee on Rules for further action thereon.

Timing of Placement on Calendar

Rule 44. No House bill shall be taken up for initial consideration by the House unless it has been upon the calendar for at least one legislative day.

Bills Laid Over Informally

Rule 45. When a bill is reached, in its order, to be perfected and printed, or to be third read and finally passed, it may, upon the request of the Majority Floor Leader or the sponsor or handler thereof if a House Bill, or upon the request of its handler in the House if a Senate Bill, hold its place on the calendar or be laid over informally and thereafter be called up at any time when otherwise in order.

To Appear In Order

Rule 46. All bills laid over informally and not taken up and disposed of the same day shall appear in order upon the calendar for the next legislative day following.

Ten Day Rule

Rule 47. If a bill laid over informally is not taken up for further consideration within ten legislative days after being laid over, it shall lie on the table and be dropped from the calendar of the House without further action of the House.

Consent Calendar

Rule 48. (1) Which Bills May Be Placed on the Consent Calendar. Each regular standing committee, after a favorable vote on a bill, may further determine by a second and affirmative vote of every member present whether such bill is of a noncontroversial nature and qualifies for consent status. Bills that specifically authorize an easement or right-of-way involving state property shall qualify for consent status. A bill shall not be considered for consent status if it:

- (a) Is of a controversial nature;
- (b) Makes a substantial policy change;
- (c) Increases net expenditures of the state;
- (d) Reduces net revenue of the state; or
- (e) Creates or expands a penalty provision.

If it has been determined by the regular standing committee that such bill is of a noncontroversial nature and meets all consent requirements, the regular standing committee shall report the bill to the Committee on Consent and House Procedure as "Do Pass - Consent". The Committee on Consent and House Procedure may decide by a majority affirmative vote of those present whether to place the bill on the appropriate consent calendar.

(2) Procedure on House Bills. If the regular standing committee shall so determine, the appropriate committee report shall include a request that a bill be placed on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection. Any bill so reported shall automatically be referred to the Committee on Consent and House Procedure. Any bill reported by the Committee on Consent and House Procedure with the recommendation that it be placed on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection may be placed on that calendar if the Speaker concurs with the recommendation. If the Speaker does not concur, he or she may place the bill on the Perfection Calendar. After such bill has remained on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection for five legislative days, it shall be ordered perfected and advanced to the House Consent Calendar for Third Reading and Final Passage without further action of the House, unless five members, with at least two from each political party, have filed written objection with the Chief Clerk. If such objections are filed, the bill shall be placed on the House Bills to be Perfected and Printed Calendar. An objection made by five members under this rule cannot be rescinded.

(3) Senate Bills - Consent. When the Senate passes a bill by its procedure for consent bills, such bill shall be considered for treatment as a consent bill by the House committee without further request; provided however, that the same committee procedures, votes, and requirements for House Bills being considered for consent shall be applied to Senate Bills being considered for consent. A Senate Bill may be considered by the committee for consent even if it was not a consent bill in the Senate.

(4) Procedure on Senate Bills. Senate Bills passed out of the appropriate House regular standing committee and the Committee on Consent and House Procedure with the request that the bill be placed on the Senate Bills for Third Reading and Final Passage - Consent Calendar are subject to the five member objection provision of this rule.

(5) Deadline for Placing Senate Consent Bills on the Calendar. No Senate consent bills shall be placed on the consent calendar after April 15.

(6) Amendments. House bills may be considered for consent after they are amended in committee but may not be amended on the floor of the House.

Senate consent bills may be amended in committee but not on the floor of the House unless the Senate Rules allow amendment of House consent bills on the floor of the Senate, in which case Senate consent bills may be amended on the floor of the House. House committee amendments to Senate consent bills shall be deemed adopted on the fifth legislative day.

AMENDMENTS AND SUBSTITUTES

Rule 49. (1) In Writing and Distributed in Advance.

- (a) Proposed amendments shall be reduced to writing.
- (b) Every amendment shall be distributed in advance of the time the bill is initially taken up for consideration. An amendment shall be considered to have been distributed if it has been either transmitted electronically and made available on each member's chamber laptop computer and a copy in paper form placed on the desk of the Majority Floor Leader and Minority Floor Leader or placed on the members' desks in paper form, except for the desk of any member who has waived receipt of amendments. An amendment to a House Substitute shall be considered timely if it is distributed prior to the motion being made to adopt the House Substitute.

(c) The sponsor of an amendment that has been distributed may make technical corrections at the time the amendment is offered or under consideration. Any technical corrections shall be read in full by the clerk. Technical corrections shall be subject to a point of order that they are not truly technical in nature.

(d) The sponsor of an amendment shall not otherwise amend or substitute his or her own amendment.

(e) Every proposed amendment to the amendment and substitute amendment may be offered after the time a bill is initially taken up for consideration but shall be distributed prior to the offeror ~~[being recognized for a motion on such amendment]~~ inquiring or speaking on the bill or underlying amendment.

(f) Amendments shall be prepared by House Research or House Appropriations and filed with the Chief Clerk.

(2) What Amendments and Substitute Amendments are in Order. When a bill, motion, or proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order, and it also shall be in order to offer a further amendment by way of substitute for the original motion to amend, to which one amendment may be offered.

(a) It shall not be in order to offer a substitute amendment to an amendment to an amendment.

(b) When an amendment is offered, a substitute for that amendment is offered, and an amendment to the substitute is offered, it shall not be in order to offer a substitute for the amendment to the substitute.

(c) Any proposed amendment in the third degree shall be out of order.

(d) Any motion to adopt an amendment may be withdrawn by the sponsor before decision thereon.

(e) Once a bill has been amended, it shall be in the possession of the House.

(f) If a proposed amendment has been defeated, the same amendment shall not be proposed again. An amendment identical to one previously decided on the same bill is not in order, except for amendments to appropriations bills.

(3) Committee Substitutes Treated as Original. A House Committee Substitute shall be considered as an original bill for purposes of amendment.

(4) House Substitute. No House Substitute will be in order except those reported from the House Committee on Legislative Review. No House amendment which, in the opinion of the Speaker, is effectually replacing the underlying bill or committee substitute will be in order.

(a) A bill may be sent to the Committee on Legislative Review prior to the adoption of any House Committee Substitute; prior to the bill's perfection, if a House bill; or prior to third reading, if a Senate bill.

(b) A House Substitute shall take the form of an original bill and is subject to floor amendments, except that it shall not be subject to an amendment by a subsequent House Substitute.

(c) Any House Substitute reported from the Committee on Legislative Review shall lie on the calendar at least one legislative day in advance of consideration on the House floor.

(d) A House Substitute reported from the Committee on Legislative Review shall not be offered on the House floor in the form of an amendment.

(5) When Federal Mandate Bills can be Amended. Amendments to House and Senate bills-Federal Mandate are permitted only within the scope of the federal mandate. Perfecting amendments are permitted to make technical amendments.

(6) Appropriations Bills.

(a) No amendment to the appropriations bills of the state budget shall be in order if it increases the total amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills. Any amendment that increases the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills shall be required to be submitted with a separate amendment that makes an equal reduction in general revenue or general revenue equivalent in the same bill or any other of the bills still pending. If the reduction is in another bill, the decreasing amendment shall be taken up first, and the increasing amendment may be taken up only if the decreasing amendment is adopted. When a pair of amendments is submitted, the decreasing amendment shall be required to clearly identify the corresponding increasing amendment.

(b) If a member's decreasing amendment is adopted and the same member's increasing amendment is defeated, the decreasing amendment's adoption is moot.

(c) The offering and adoption of an amendment decreasing the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated without a balancing increase creates no right of another member to offer an increasing amendment in any amount up to the amount of the decrease effected by the decreasing amendment, and no member may be recognized for the purpose of making such an amendment.

(d) For the perfection of the House appropriations bills of the state budget only, it shall be permissible to amend any line item as often as the House pleases, as long as prior adopted amendments to the line item are taken into account.

(e) Notwithstanding any rule to the contrary, neither substitute amendments nor amendments to amendments shall be in order for any appropriations bill other than technical corrections under Rule 49(1).

Committee Substitute Printed

Rule 50. When a committee recommends a substitute for a bill, the original bill will accompany the substitute. The substitute shall be handled on the floor of the House by the committee chair or any member designated by the committee chair. The Chief Clerk shall have an appropriate number of copies of the substitute printed. No committee substitute shall be called from the calendar of the House until the printed copies have been distributed for at least one legislative day. Amendments, if any, may be offered to the substitute before the vote on the motion to adopt the substitute is taken. If the substitute is defeated, the original bill shall be before the House for perfection and shall be considered and shall be handled on the floor by the original sponsor of the bill. Notwithstanding the provisions of this rule, the Speaker may, at any time, change the House handler of any bill or substitute unless the sponsor of the House bill objects.

Order of Amendments

Rule 51. When amendments to any bill, motion, or proposition are pending, they shall be voted on in the following order:

(1) Amendments to the amendment are disposed of before the substitute is taken up. Only one amendment to the amendment is in order at one time; but as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one.

(2) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on, and may be offered, one at a time, and as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the substitute amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one, until the substitute amendment is adopted.

(3) The substitute amendment, as amended, is next voted on. If the substitute amendment is adopted, the underlying amendment to which it was offered shall not be voted upon, but the substitute amendment shall become part of the bill.

(4) The amendment is voted on last. If any substitute has not been agreed to, the vote comes on the amendment as amended.

(5) The House Committee Substitute is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment. If the House Committee Substitute is adopted, there shall be an additional vote for the perfection of the bill, as amended.

(6) If there is no House Committee Substitute, or if the House Committee Substitute is not adopted, the original House Bill is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment.

Amendments Incorporated In Bill

Rule 52. All amendments adopted by the House to a bill originating in the House shall be incorporated in the bill as perfected, and the bill, as thus perfected, shall be printed for the use of the members before its final passage, provided that the bill shall be subject to a titling amendment before the vote on perfection is taken. For purposes of this rule, a titling amendment shall not count against the Rule 87 prohibition on speaking twice on the same question. The perfecting and printing shall be done under the supervision of the Chief Clerk who shall assure that the bill is truly perfected and the printed copies furnished to the members are correct.

BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

Ayes and Noes Taken

Rule 53. When a bill shall have passed the House and been returned from the Senate with amendments, such amendments may be concurred in collectively by a constitutional majority, unless objection be made, in which case the vote shall be taken severally, and no amendment or amendments shall be concurred in by the House except by a constitutional majority and the names of those voting for and against recorded upon the Journal of the House.

Repassage

Rule 54. When all Senate amendments to House Bills have been concurred in by a constitutional majority of the House, the question shall then be put: "Shall the bill as amended be truly agreed to and finally passed?". On this question the ayes and noes shall be called for, and as on first passage, a constitutional majority shall be necessary to the final passage of the bill.

Rule 56. No bill shall be amended after being perfected and printed without a reconsideration of the vote by which it was ordered perfected and printed and if such bill be amended, it shall again be perfected and printed, except that a perfecting amendment to make technical corrections is in order after the bill has been ordered perfected and printed and before it has been read the third time.

Motion for Passage

Rule 57. When the Chief Clerk presents a bill as perfected and printed, it shall go upon the calendar to be agreed to and passed. When the bill is taken up in its order, the question shall then be: "Shall the bill be third read and passed?". It shall require a constitutional majority to sustain the question.

Conference Reports

Rule 60. (1) Signatures on a Conference Report. All conference committees shall be composed of five conferees from each chamber. No conference report shall be submitted to either chamber unless approved by a majority vote of the full committee with not less than three conferees from the House and two conferees from the Senate signing the report.

(2) Review for Correctness. Before a conference report is referred to the Regular Standing Committee on Fiscal Review, it shall be reviewed for the technical correctness of the report and of any amendments, bill, or substitute the report recommends for passage by the House.

(3) Notice Requirements. No conference committee report shall be taken up and considered unless the same has been distributed to the members at least one legislative day prior to consideration.

(4) Exceeding the Differences. Unless authority is granted by the House to exceed the differences, the conferees shall confine themselves to matters that are within the scope of the differences between the House position and the Senate position. When a report is offered for adoption, the point of order that the conferees have exceeded the differences shall be in order. The Speaker may rule on the point of order or may place the question of whether the conferees have exceeded the differences before the House for a vote. A majority of members voting prevails on the question.

RESOLUTIONS

Joint and Concurrent Resolutions

Rule 61. All joint and concurrent resolutions designed to submit to the qualified voters of the state amendments to the Constitution of the State of Missouri, to be voted upon by such voters, shall be read on three separate days, and shall be reported upon by the committee of the House, and shall otherwise be proceeded upon in like manner as a bill.

Rule 63. (1) All petitions, memorials, remonstrances, resolutions, and other papers offered shall stand referred, without reading, consideration, discussion, explanation, or debate, to the Committee on Consent and House Procedure unless timely referred to some other appropriate committee by the Speaker. Resolutions informing the Governor or the Senate that the House has convened, taken some action, or adjourned, resolutions to elect officers of the House, resolutions expressing the appreciation of the House to public officials, resolutions to adopt temporary rules, and concurrent resolutions to convene joint sessions may be adopted by the House upon introduction without referral to committee. Rule 65. When a Senate Bill is reported from the committee to which it was referred with the recommendation that it "Do Pass", or "Without Recommendation", it shall be referred to a Committee on Rules. When a Senate Bill is reported from a Committee on Rules with the recommendation that it "Do Pass", or "Without Recommendation", it shall go upon the House Calendar for the third reading and final passage, provided that no Senate Bill shall be taken up for initial consideration by the House unless it has been upon the Calendar for at least one legislative day.

Senate Bills Reported "Do Not Pass"

Rule 66. If a Senate Bill is reported from the committee to which it was referred with the recommendation that it "Do Not Pass" it shall not go upon the calendar of the House for third reading and final passage, unless so ordered by a constitutional majority of the House. In such case, the motion to place the bill on the calendar shall be made within three legislative days of the report and by a member who has been requested by the Senate sponsor of the bill. If such a motion is sustained, the bill shall be referred to a Committee on Rules for further action thereon.

Rule 71. Every motion shall be reduced to writing if the Speaker or any member demands it.

When a question is under debate, no motion shall be entertained but to adjourn; to take a recess; to lay on the table; for the previous question; to postpone to a certain day; to recommit to committee; to postpone indefinitely; or to consider a veto or withhold override; which several motions shall have precedence in the order herein set forth.

Dilatory

Rule 74. When any motion has been made and lost, no similar motion shall be entertained until some other business is transacted by the House.

Privileged Motions In Order - When

Rule 75. Except as otherwise limited herein, and except when a member is speaking or the roll is being called, the privileged motions set forth in Rule 73 are always in order, and pending the result of such a motion, no member shall leave his or her seat in the House.

Previous Question

Rule 76. Any member may move the previous question. The motion shall be restated by the Speaker in this form: "Shall the question under immediate consideration be now put?". It may be moved like any other question but it shall only prevail when supported by a constitutional majority and until decided shall preclude amendments and debate. If the motion is sustained, the proponent of the matter under consideration shall be allowed one minute in which to make a closing statement before the House votes on the question. A failure to sustain the motion shall not take the matter under consideration from further consideration of the House; but the House shall proceed as if the motion had not been made.

Not Debatable

Rule 77. Motions to adjourn and for the previous question shall be decided without debate; provided however, that a motion to adjourn is subject to a request by five members for a roll call vote. All other privileged motions are debatable.

Division of Questions

Rule 78. Any member may have, as a personal right, a division of the question where the sense will admit of it. The question shall be divided into clearly separate and distinct propositions. The Speaker may take a division of the question under advisement; provided that, he or she rules on the division before any other action on the question. When the question having been divided is a Senate Bill for Third Reading, each part of the bill shall be voted upon separately and a subsequent separate vote shall be taken on the entire bill. When a bill is divided for consideration, the title and enacting clause shall be considered a separate part and shall, unless otherwise amended, be technically changed to reflect any amendments or deletions to the bill. No House Bill shall be subject to a division of the question after its perfection. No Senate Bill shall be subject to a division of the question unless the bill has been amended.

Indefinite Postponement

Rule 82. When a motion that a bill be perfected and printed, or that a bill be agreed to, read a third time, and placed upon its passage fails, or when any other question is decided by the House, any member voting on the prevailing side may move to reconsider the vote, provided that the motion to reconsider is made within three legislative days after the day on which the vote was taken.

Procedure for Motion to Reconsider

Rule 83. A constitutional majority is required to sustain any motion to reconsider. If the motion to reconsider is sustained, the House shall proceed to the original question or motion immediately before proceeding to other questions; whereupon the original question shall be voted upon before any other business of the House is transacted. This shall not preclude further debate or amendment of the proposition, if otherwise appropriate. Any motion to reconsider having failed once shall not be reconsidered again, except to reconsider the vote by which an appropriation bill failed to pass. In the case of an appropriation bill, the motion to reconsider may be considered as many times as the House chooses.

Rule 84. When any member is about to speak in a debate or deliver a matter to the House, he or she shall rise from his or her seat and respectfully address himself or herself to "Mr. Speaker" or "Madam Speaker". himself or herself to the questions under debate and avoid personality and derogatory personal comments. If any member violates the rules of the House, the Speaker, or any member, may call him or her to order. Any member called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain, and the House shall, if appealed to, decide the case.

Appeals

Rule 85. If there is no appeal, the decision of the Speaker is final. If the decision of the Speaker is in favor of the member called to order, he or she may proceed; if otherwise, and the case requires it, he or she shall be liable to the censure of the House.

No member shall walk between two members who are engaged in debate or inquiries in the Hall of the House.

Order of Questions

Rule 91. Except as otherwise set forth in these rules, all questions shall be propounded in the order in which they are moved except privileged questions, which shall be propounded as stated in Rule 73.

CONSTITUTIONAL MAJORITY AND QUORUM

Rule 92. The term "constitutional majority", as used herein, shall mean eighty-two members of the House. A quorum shall be required at any time bills are considered, motions are made, or votes are taken.

Voting

Rule 93. (1) Every member shall be present within the Hall of the House during its sittings, unless excused or necessarily prevented, and shall vote on each question put, unless he or she has a direct personal or pecuniary interest in such question. No member shall be recorded as voting when he or she was not present when the vote was taken. Nothing herein contained shall prohibit a member from voting "Present" on a question, and such vote shall be recorded in the Journal. In the case of equal division, the question shall be lost. In the event that a member's vote or absence is incorrectly recorded in the Journal, he or she shall file with the Chief Clerk an affidavit stating that he or she was in the chamber at the time the vote was taken, that he or she did in fact vote, that the vote or absence was incorrectly recorded, and the correct vote that should have been recorded. In addition to any other penalty provided by rule or law, the filing of a false affidavit shall subject that member to censure by the House.

(2) A member may not authorize any other person to cast his or her vote or record his or her presence. No other person may cast a member's vote or record a member's presence. A vote by a member of a committee with respect to any measure or matter may not be cast by proxy.

Demand for Verification

Rule 95. Any five members may demand a verification of the roll call if such is made at any time prior to the time the voting has ended; which, in the event of electronic voting, shall be when the Speaker orders the voting board closed. A demand for verification and a call for absentees are the only reasons for which a member may interrupt a roll call vote.

Bell to Signal Recorded Vote

Rule 96. At a reasonable time prior to the beginning of calling the ayes and noes on any question, a bell notifying the members of a roll call shall be sounded. HOUSE ELECTION CONTEST

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES STATE OF MISSOURI

STEPHANOS FREEMAN,)
 Petitioner,)
 v.)
 JEREMY DEAN,)
 Respondent.)

VERIFIED PETITION

COMES NOW Petitioner Stephanos Freeman and submits this Verified Petition in the above-captioned matter pursuant to Mo. Rev. Stat. Section 115.565 to the Speaker of the House of the Missouri House of Representatives. For his Verified Petition, Petitioner states as follows:

PARTIES

1. Petitioner was the Republican candidate for House District 132 in the general election that was held on November 5, 2024.
2. Respondent was the Democrat candidate for House District 132 in the general election that was held on November 5, 2024.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

3. This petition seeks an order disqualifying Respondent Jeremy Dean from serving in the Missouri House of Representatives as a representative of District 132 due to his failure to meet the residency requirements set forth in Article III, Section IV of the Missouri Constitution. Revised Statutes Section 115.563 provides that any contested election for the office of state representative shall be heard and determined by the state house of representatives.
4. Pursuant to Mo. Rev. Stat. Section 115.565, the house of representatives has exclusive jurisdiction over election contests based on the unadjudicated qualifications of a candidate for office.
5. This contest has not been previously adjudicated, and therefore the state house of representatives has jurisdiction over the contest.

FACTS RELEVANT TO THE PETITION

6. The Missouri Constitution requires that each representative, “before the day of his election,” be a “resident of the...district which he is chosen to represent for one year.” Mo. Const. Art. III, §4.
7. In order to be qualified for the office of Representative of District 132, Jeremy Dean was required to have resided in District 132 since November 5, 2023.
8. On September 10, 2024, Respondent informed Petitioner that he has not lived in District 132 since November 5, 2023 (which would be for a full year prior to the upcoming election).

9. This conversation on September 10, 2024, was the first time Petitioner learned that Respondent was not qualified for the position due to failure to meet residency requirements set forth in the Missouri Constitution.

10. Upon learning this information on September 10, 2024, Petitioner then discovered that Respondent has utilized many residential addresses within the one-year period preceding the upcoming November 5, 2024 general election.

11. According to publicly available property tax records for calendar year 2023, Respondent paid personal property taxes on his 2016 Nissan a few days late – on January 3, 2024. At that time, he reported his home address as 515 W Whiteside St., Springfield, MO 65807. This address is outside of District 132. See Exhibit A, attached hereto.

12. Based on information and belief, Respondent has used an address on Cresthaven in Springfield, MO, outside of District 132, at various times before the one-year period prior to the upcoming election, and likely was still living there and renting the residence during the one-year period prior to the election.

13. When Respondent filed his Missouri Ethics Commission registration to form his campaign committee on November 1, 2023, he stated that his address is on Market Avenue in Springfield, MO, which is outside of District 132. See Exhibit B, attached hereto.

14. Respondent changed his registration for his campaign committee on December 3, 2024 to an address inside District 132: 914 Central, Springfield, MO. He also changed his personal address to the same Central address as of that same date.

15. The property at 914 Central is located in District 132, but Respondent does not claim to reside there until December 3, 2023, which is less than one year prior to the election. See Exhibit C, attached hereto.

16. Based on information and belief, and according to publicly available property records, the property at 914 Central is owned by Respondent's employer, a tax-exempt non-profit 501(c)(3) organization, the Drew Lewis Foundation, Inc.

17. Drew Lewis Foundation had not been paying property taxes on its house at 914 Central even though it was not being used for non-profit purposes, as Respondent Jeremy Dean claims he started living in it AFTER November 5, 2023.

18. Based on information and belief, the non-profit Drew Lewis Foundation could not have permitted Respondent to live in the house located at 914 Central, and is further prohibited from allowing it to be used or using it for a campaign committee or for any campaign purposes at all.

19. Regardless, based on information and belief, Respondent has at least not lived at 914 Central in the Drew Lewis Foundation's house for a full year prior to the election.

20. In October 2024, after Petitioner raised the issue of the tax-free status of Respondent's Campaign Committee office, Respondent filed an amended statement of committee organization with the Missouri Ethics Commission, changing the address of his campaign committee to a p.o. box. See Exhibit D, attached hereto.

COUNT I

21. Petitioner restates and realleges the allegations contained in paragraphs 1-21.

22. Petitioner challenges the qualifications of Respondent to seek election for House of Representatives for District 132.

23. Petitioner will produce evidence that Respondent failed to meet the residency requirement of the Missouri Constitution and is therefore disqualified from holding office.

24. Petitioner will produce evidence that Respondent failed to pay taxes and is therefore disqualified from holding office.

WHEREFORE, Petitioner prays leave to produce evidence that Respondent did not reside in District 132 for a full year prior to November 5, 2024 and Petitioner further seeks an order from the appropriate court declaring Respondent therefore unqualified for the office of House of Representatives for District 132, and for such other and further relief this court deems just and proper.

GOVERNOR’S PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 27, authorizes the Governor to control the rate at which any appropriation is expended by allotment and, further, authorizes the Governor to reduce the expenditures of the state or any of its agencies below their appropriations whenever the actual revenues are less than the revenue estimates upon which the appropriations were based; and

WHEREAS, in addition to the power to control the rate of expenditure established in Article IV, Section 27, three percent of each appropriation, with the exception of amounts for personal service to pay salaries fixed by law, shall be set aside pursuant to Section 33.290, RSMo, as a reserve fund and not subject to expenditure except with the approval of the Governor; and

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 27.2, provides that the Governor notify the General Assembly “whenever the rate at which any appropriation shall be expended is not equal quarterly allotments, the sum of which shall be equal to the amount of the appropriation”; and

WHEREAS, due to a variety of factors, including the three percent reserve that is legally required by Section 33.290, RSMo, the rate at which most appropriations are expended is not in “equal quarterly allotments, the sum of which shall be equal to the amount of the appropriation”; and

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 27.3, provides that the Governor notify the General Assembly “when the governor reduces one or more items or portions of items of appropriation of money as a result of actual revenues being less than the revenue estimates upon which the appropriations were based.”

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Michael L. Parson, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, pursuant to Article IV, Section 27, do hereby make the following notification to the One Hundred Second General Assembly of the State of the Missouri:

I hereby notify the General Assembly, pursuant to Article IV, Section 27.2 of the Missouri Constitution, that through the first quarter of fiscal year 2025, the rate of expenditure for each of the appropriation lines in the fiscal year 2025 budget attached as Exhibit A is not in equal quarterly allotments, the sum of which shall be equal to the amount of the appropriation.

I further notify the General Assembly, pursuant to Article IV, Section 27.3 of the Missouri Constitution, that I have taken no action to permanently reduce one or more items or portions of items of appropriation of money as a result of actual revenues being less than the revenue estimates upon which the appropriations were based in the fiscal year 2025 budget.

If it has been determined by the regular standing committee that such bill is of a noncontroversial nature and meets all consent requirements, the regular standing committee shall report the bill to the Committee on Consent and [House] Procedure as "Do Pass - Consent". The Committee on Consent and [House] Procedure may decide by a majority affirmative vote of those present whether to place the bill on the appropriate consent calendar.

(2) Procedure on House Bills. If the regular standing committee shall so determine, the appropriate committee report shall include a request that a bill be placed on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection. Any bill so reported shall automatically be referred to the Committee on Consent and [House] Procedure. Any bill reported by the Committee on Consent and [House] Procedure with the recommendation that it be placed on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection may be placed on that calendar if the Speaker concurs with the recommendation. If the Speaker does not concur, he or she may place the bill on the Perfection Calendar. After such bill has remained on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection for five legislative days, it shall be ordered perfected and advanced to the House Consent Calendar for Third Reading and Final Passage without further action of the House, unless five members, with at least two from each political party, have filed written objection with the Chief Clerk. If such objections are filed, the bill shall be placed on the House Bills to be Perfected and Printed Calendar. An objection made by five members under this rule cannot be rescinded.

(3) Senate Bills - Consent. When the Senate passes a bill by its procedure for consent bills, such bill shall be considered for treatment as a consent bill by the House committee without further request; provided however, that the same committee procedures, votes, and requirements for House Bills being considered for consent shall be applied to Senate Bills being considered for consent. A Senate Bill may be considered by the committee for consent even if it was not a consent bill in the Senate.

(4) Procedure on Senate Bills. Senate Bills passed out of the appropriate House regular standing committee and the Committee on Consent and [House] Procedure with the request that the bill be placed on the Senate Bills for Third Reading and Final Passage - Consent Calendar are subject to the five member objection provision of this rule.

(5) Deadline for Placing Senate Consent Bills on the Calendar. No Senate consent bills shall be placed on the consent calendar after April 15.

(6) Amendments. House bills may be considered for consent after they are amended in committee but may not be amended on the floor of the House.

Senate consent bills may be amended in committee but not on the floor of the House unless the Senate Rules allow amendment of House consent bills on the floor of the Senate, in which case Senate consent bills may be amended on the floor of the House. House committee amendments to Senate consent bills shall be deemed adopted on the fifth legislative day.

AMENDMENTS AND SUBSTITUTES

Rule 49. (1) In Writing and Distributed in Advance.

(a) Proposed amendments shall be reduced to writing.

(b) Every amendment shall be distributed in advance of the time the bill is initially taken up for consideration. An amendment shall be considered to have been distributed if it has been either transmitted electronically and made available on each member's chamber laptop computer and a copy in paper form placed on the desk of the Majority Floor Leader and Minority Floor Leader or placed on the members' desks in paper form, except for the desk of any member who has waived receipt of amendments. An amendment to a House Substitute shall be considered timely if it is distributed prior to the motion being made to adopt the House Substitute.

(c) The sponsor of an amendment that has been distributed may make technical corrections at the time the amendment is offered or under consideration. Any technical corrections shall be read in full by the clerk. Technical corrections shall be subject to a point of order that they are not truly technical in nature.

(d) The sponsor of an amendment shall not otherwise amend or substitute his or her own amendment.

(e) Every proposed amendment to the amendment and substitute amendment may be offered after the time a bill is initially taken up for consideration but shall be distributed prior to the offeror ~~[being recognized for a motion on such amendment]~~ inquiring or speaking on the bill or underlying amendment.

(f) Amendments shall be prepared by House Research or House Appropriations and filed with the Chief Clerk.

(2) What Amendments and Substitute Amendments are in Order. When a bill, motion, or proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order, and it also shall be in order to offer a further amendment by way of substitute for the original motion to amend, to which one amendment may be offered.

(a) It shall not be in order to offer a substitute amendment to an amendment to an amendment.

(b) When an amendment is offered, a substitute for that amendment is offered, and an amendment to the substitute is offered, it shall not be in order to offer a substitute for the amendment to the substitute.

(c) Any proposed amendment in the third degree shall be out of order.

- (d) Any motion to adopt an amendment may be withdrawn by the sponsor before decision thereon.
- (e) Once a bill has been amended, it shall be in the possession of the House.
- (f) If a proposed amendment has been defeated, the same amendment shall not be proposed again. An amendment identical to one previously decided on the same bill is not in order, except for amendments to appropriations bills.
- (3) Committee Substitutes Treated as Original. A House Committee Substitute shall be considered as an original bill for purposes of amendment.
- (4) House Substitute. No House Substitute will be in order except those reported from the House Committee on Legislative Review. No House amendment which, in the opinion of the Speaker, is effectually replacing the underlying bill or committee substitute will be in order.
 - (a) A bill may be sent to the Committee on Legislative Review prior to the adoption of any House Committee Substitute; prior to the bill's perfection, if a House bill; or prior to third reading, if a Senate bill.
 - (b) A House Substitute shall take the form of an original bill and is subject to floor amendments, except that it shall not be subject to an amendment by a subsequent House Substitute.

- (6) Appropriations Bills.
 - (a) No amendment to the appropriations bills of the state budget shall be in order if it increases the total amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills. Any amendment that increases the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills shall be required to be submitted with a separate amendment that makes an equal reduction in general revenue or general revenue equivalent in the same bill or any other of the bills still pending. If the reduction is in another bill, the decreasing amendment shall be taken up first, and the increasing amendment may be taken up only if the decreasing amendment is adopted. When a pair of amendments is submitted, the decreasing amendment shall be required to clearly identify the corresponding increasing amendment.
 - (b) If a member's decreasing amendment is adopted and the same member's increasing amendment is defeated, the decreasing amendment's adoption is moot.
 - (c) The offering and adoption of an amendment decreasing the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated without a balancing increase creates no right of another member to offer an increasing amendment in any amount up to the amount of the decrease effected by the decreasing amendment, and no member may be recognized for the purpose of making such an amendment.
 - (d) For the perfection of the House appropriations bills of the state budget only, it shall be permissible to amend any line item as often as the House pleases, as long as prior adopted amendments to the line item are taken into account.
 - (e) Notwithstanding any rule to the contrary, neither substitute amendments nor amendments to amendments shall be in order for any appropriations bill other than technical corrections under Rule 49(1).

The substitute shall be handled on the floor of the House by the committee chair or any member designated by the committee chair. The Chief Clerk shall have an appropriate number of copies of the substitute printed. No committee substitute shall be called from the calendar of the House until the printed copies have been distributed for at least one legislative day. Amendments, if any, may be offered to the substitute before the vote on the motion to adopt the substitute is taken. If the substitute is defeated, the original bill shall be before the House for perfection and shall be considered and shall be handled on the floor by the original sponsor of the bill. Notwithstanding the provisions of this rule, the Speaker may, at any time, change the House handler of any bill or substitute unless the sponsor of the House bill objects.

Order of Amendments

Rule 51. When amendments to any bill, motion, or proposition are pending, they shall be voted on in the following order:

(1) Amendments to the amendment are disposed of before the substitute is taken up. Only one amendment to the amendment is in order at one time; but as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one.

(2) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on, and may be offered, one at a time, and as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the substitute amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one, until the substitute amendment is adopted.

(3) The substitute amendment, as amended, is next voted on. If the substitute amendment is adopted, the underlying amendment to which it was offered shall not be voted upon, but the substitute amendment shall become part of the bill.

(4) The amendment is voted on last. If any substitute has not been agreed to, the vote comes on the amendment as amended.

(5) The House Committee Substitute is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment. If the House Committee Substitute is adopted, there shall be an additional vote for the perfection of the bill, as amended.

(6) If there is no House Committee Substitute, or if the House Committee Substitute is not adopted, the original House Bill is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment.

All amendments adopted by the House to a bill originating in the House shall be incorporated in the bill as perfected, and the bill, as thus perfected, shall be printed for the use of the members before its final passage, provided that the bill shall be subject to a titling amendment before the vote on perfection is taken. For purposes of this rule, a titling amendment shall not count against the Rule 87 prohibition on speaking twice on the same question. The perfecting and printing shall be done under the supervision of the Chief Clerk who shall assure that the bill is truly perfected and the printed copies furnished to the members are correct.

BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

Repassage

Rule 54. When all Senate amendments to House Bills have been concurred in by a constitutional majority of the House, the question shall then be put: "Shall the bill as amended be truly agreed to and finally passed?". On this question the ayes and noes shall be called for, and as on first passage, a constitutional majority shall be necessary to the final passage of the bill.

Motion for Passage

Rule 57. When the Chief Clerk presents a bill as perfected and printed, it shall go upon the calendar to be agreed to and passed. (3) Notice Requirements. No conference committee report shall be taken up and considered unless the same has been distributed to the members at least one legislative day prior to consideration.

(4) Exceeding the Differences. Unless authority is granted by the House to exceed the differences, the conferees shall confine themselves to matters that are within the scope of the differences between the House position and the Senate position. When a report is offered for adoption, the point of order that the conferees have exceeded the differences shall be in order. The Speaker may rule on the point of order or may place the question of whether the conferees have exceeded the differences before the House for a vote. A majority of members voting prevails on the question.

When a Senate Bill is reported from a Committee on Rules with the recommendation that it "Do Pass", or "Without Recommendation", it shall go upon the House Calendar for the third reading and final passage, provided that no Senate Bill shall be taken up for initial consideration by the House unless it has been upon the Calendar for at least one legislative day.

Senate Bills Reported "Do Not Pass"

Rule 66. If a Senate Bill is reported from the committee to which it was referred with the recommendation that it "Do Not Pass" it shall not go upon the calendar of the House for third reading and final passage, unless so ordered by a constitutional majority of the House. In such case, the motion to place the bill on the calendar shall be made within three legislative days of the report and by a member who has been requested by the Senate sponsor of the bill. If such a motion is sustained, the bill shall be referred to a Committee on Rules for further action thereon.

Previous Question

Rule 76. Any member may move the previous question. The motion shall be restated by the Speaker in this form: "Shall the question under immediate consideration be now put?". It may be moved like any other question but it shall only prevail when supported by a constitutional majority and until decided shall preclude amendments and debate. If the motion is sustained, the proponent of the matter under consideration shall be allowed one minute in which to make a closing statement before the House votes on the question. A failure to sustain the motion shall not take the matter under consideration from further consideration of the House; but the House shall proceed as if the motion had not been made.

Not Debatable

Rule 77. Motions to adjourn and for the previous question shall be decided without debate; provided however, that a motion to adjourn is subject to a request by five members for a roll call vote. All other privileged motions are debatable.

The Speaker may take a division of the question under advisement; provided that, he or she rules on the division before any other action on the question. When the question having been divided is a Senate Bill for Third Reading, each part of the bill shall be voted upon separately and a subsequent separate vote shall be taken on the entire bill. Procedure for Motion to Reconsider

Rule 83. A constitutional majority is required to sustain any motion to reconsider. If the motion to reconsider is sustained, the House shall proceed to the original question or motion immediately before proceeding to other questions; whereupon the original question shall be voted upon before any other business of the House is transacted. This shall not preclude further debate or amendment of the proposition, if otherwise appropriate. Any motion to reconsider having failed once shall not be reconsidered again, except to reconsider the vote by which an appropriation bill failed to pass. In the case of an appropriation bill, the motion to reconsider may be considered as many times as the House chooses.

Nothing herein contained shall prohibit a member from voting "Present" on a question, and such vote shall be recorded in the Journal. In the case of equal division, the question shall be lost. In the event that a member's vote or absence is incorrectly recorded in the Journal, he or she shall file with the Chief Clerk an affidavit stating that he or she was in the chamber at the time the vote was taken, that he or she did in fact vote, that the vote or absence was incorrectly recorded, and the correct vote that should have been recorded. Any five members may demand a verification of the roll call if such is made at any time prior to the time the voting has ended; which, in the event of electronic voting, shall be when the Speaker orders the voting board closed. A demand for verification and a call for absentees are the only reasons for which a member may interrupt a roll call vote.

There shall be a taking of the vote by electronic roll call system on the motion of any one member which is seconded by four other members immediately standing. A vote by electronic roll call shall be limited to thirty minutes, except in the cases of quorum calls. MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the General Assembly is scheduled to adjourn pursuant to Article III, Section 20(a) of the Missouri Constitution on May 30, 2025; and

WHEREAS, several severe storm systems impacted the State of Missouri over the last several months, resulting in damages associated with tornadoes, straight line winds, large hail, fires, heavy rains, flooding, flash flooding, and riverine flooding, resulting in loss of life as well as significant damage to homes, businesses, and public infrastructure; and

WHEREAS, a State of Emergency was declared on March 14, 2025, pursuant to Executive Order 25-19; and

WHEREAS, Executive Order 25-19 was subsequently extended by Executive Order 25-22 and Executive Order 25-23; and

WHEREAS, requests for presidential disaster declarations have been filed by the Governor for three storms that have occurred since March 2025, with another request currently underway for the St. Louis region; and

WHEREAS, Missouri is in serious jeopardy of losing the Kansas City Chiefs and Kansas City Royals, two teams that are intricately woven into the fabric of the Show-Me State's sporting and entertainment heritage, to the state of Kansas; and

WHEREAS, the presence of professional sports teams, modern stadiums, and major sporting events significantly contribute to the cultural identity and pride of the State of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the Kansas City Chiefs and Royals are Missouri's teams that drive billions of dollars in economic activity through tourism, job creation, and small businesses, including hotels, restaurants, and retail; and

WHEREAS, it is estimated that the Kansas City Chiefs contribute $575 million annually in economic value and over 4,500 jobs in Jackson County alone, bringing $30 million in annual tax revenue to the State of Missouri, and a new Royals ballpark is expected to support 8,400 jobs and $1.2 billion in economic output; and

WHEREAS, major league stadiums and related infrastructure serve as vital hubs for community engagement, fostering social cohesion and providing venues for diverse entertainment and civic activities; and

WHEREAS, the retention of major sports teams and events in Missouri supports state and local tax revenue streams that fund essential public services, such as education, infrastructure, and public safety, and these revenue streams are only expected to increase with new investment; and

WHEREAS, the departure of our professional sports teams to Kansas could result in significant setbacks to Missouri's competitive standing as a sought-after destination for tourism, business investment, and job creation, which in turn could diminish our growing reputation as a great place to live, work, start a business, and raise a family; and

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 9 of the Missouri Constitution authorizes the Governor on extraordinary occasions, to convene the General Assembly by proclamation, specifying each matter requiring action.

NOW, THEREFORE, on the extraordinary occasion that exists in the State of Missouri:

First Extraordinary Session, 103rd General Assembly

SECOND DAY, TUESDAY, JUNE 10, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Representative Vernetti in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Burt Whaley.

Let us call upon the Lord, Oh, Holy Father gracious in mercy and abounding in Love for us. Holy is Your name. The Alpha and Omega. You see from each of our beginnings to our endings. You see our sorrows and our joys. You see all that we say and do, and You look into each one of our hearts.

Search us Oh God and cleanse us of our inequities so that we may come to You and be forgiven of our many sins. Make us right with You dear Father so we will not be led captive by the enemy. Guide us and direct us in each task we do. Pull out every cured thing that be. We love You Oh Lord and we submit to Your authority.

And this I pray, that our love more abounds, still more and more in real knowledge and all discernment. I thank You for the safe arrival of all who are in this chamber. We pray our fellow representatives who are traveling today and tomorrow morning are safe and Your hedge of protection surrounds them. In the name of Jesus, we pray.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

COMMUNICATIONS

RE: Conflict of Interest Disclosure - SB 3 (Property Tax Amendment)

To Whom It May Concern,

As the elected State Representative for District 111, I am submitting this letter to formally disclose a potential conflict of interest concerning Senate Bill 3 (SB-3), which includes a proposed amendment related to property and real estate tax adjustments.

In addition to my responsibilities as a legislator, I also serve - by election of the same constituency - the Board of Directors for the Big River Ambulance District. This dual role presents a unique conflict in relation to SB-3, as the bill has direct implications for both the financial interests of the ambulance district and the tax burden on my constituents.

My intention in disclosing this conflict is to maintain open transparency, uphold the trust of those who elected me, and ensure that my actions are guided by both ethical standards and the best interests of the public I serve.

I will continue to engage in open dialogue with both constituents and colleagues to ensure that any decision I make reflects thoughtful consideration, informed judgment, and the balanced responsibilities I hold in both roles.

Respectfully,

/s/ Cecelie Williams
State Representative
District 111

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Extraordinary Session, 103rd General Assembly

THIRD DAY, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Brian Seitz.

Father, we thank You for Your great goodness towards us in allowing us to represent the people of Missouri.

We come boldly before Your throne of grace seeking guidance as we navigate the issues of the day. Help us to realize, though while important in the here and now, what we do today means virtually nothing in the span of eternity.

Recognizing that, we ask for the wisdom of Solomon as we decide how to spend the people's money. Help us to see what is honorable and beneficial to the citizens of the state and put aside the twin sins of pride and selfishness.

Let us look to the good of others today and every day as we serve.

In Jesus's name we pray, Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited by Ellyana Faith Wilson.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Extraordinary Session, 103rd General Assembly

FIFTH DAY, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 2025

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Patterson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Brian Seitz.

Father, we come to You in humbleness of heart asking that You make Yourself known through our actions.

Help us to keep in mind, by the power of Your Holy Spirit, that only what we do for You will matter in eternity and that the concerns of today will eventually pass.

Give us the grace to understand one another, as we seek to represent the people of our various districts. Help us to put aside anger, bitterness and wrath, and give way to kindness, gentleness, forgiveness and peace.

We ask these things in the name of Christ Jesus, our Lord. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

CONSTITUTIONAL OBJECTIONS

The following Representatives offered objections to HB 1, which were appended to the bill.

September 11, 2025

Joe Engler
Chief Clerk
Missouri House of Representatives
Missouri State Capitol
Jefferson City, MO 65101

Dear Mr. Engler:

Pursuant to Article III, Section 30 of the Missouri Constitution¹, I do hereby object to the signing of House Bill No. 1 in the 103rd General Assembly, 2nd Extraordinary Session (hereafter “the Bill”).

I object to the signing for two general reasons, each standing alone is sufficient to prohibit the signing and implementation of the Bill.

- a. The Missouri Constitution Prohibits “Mid-Cycle” Redistricting U.S. Congressional Seats
 - i. Pursuant to Article III Section 45 of the Missouri Constitution the power to redistrict US Congressional Seats is limited to the period directly following the United States census.

While acknowledging the plenary nature of legislative power, such power does not extend to instances where the Constitution prescribes limitations. “Constitutional provisions are subject to the same rules of construction as other laws, except that constitutional provisions are given a broader construction due to their more permanent character.” Pestka v. State, 493 S.W.3d 405, 408–09 (Mo. banc 2016). “A constitutional provisions should never be construed to work confusion and mischief unless no other reasonable construction is possible.” Id. at 409 quoting Am. Fed’n of Teachers v. Ledbetter, 387 S.W.2d 360, 363–64 (Mo. banc 2012).

Article III Section 45 governs “Congressional apportionment” and provides in whole:

When the number of representatives to which the state is entitled in the House of the Congress of the United States under the census of 1950 and each census thereafter is certified by the governor, the general assembly shall by law divide the state into districts corresponding with the number of representatives to which it is entitled, which districts shall be composed of contiguous territory as compact and as nearly equal in population as may be.

Art. III, Sec. 45.

The Governor certified the outcome of the 2020 census and the general assembly divided the state into districts in May, 2022. No subsequent census has been conducted nor its outcome, in terms of number of Congressional representatives for Missouri, certified by the governor.

Pestka v. State is instructive. 493 S.W.3d 405. That case concerned the legislative process for overturning gubernatorial vetos. Prior to 1970, the legislature had the power to reconsider bills at its convenience, but in 1970 the Constitution was amended to provide that:

If the governor returns any bill with his objections after the adjournment of the general assembly... in odd-numbered year, the bill shall be placed at the top of the calendar of the house to which it is returned for considerations when the general assembly reconvenes the following year. If the governor returns any bill with his objection after the adjournment sine die of the general assembly on the ninetieth calendar day after its convening in even-numbers year, the general assembly shall automatically reconvene on the first Wednesday following the first Monday in September of such even-numbered year for a period not to exceed ten calendar days for the sole purpose of considering bills returned by the governor.

Art. III, sec. 32 (1970).

Although the amended Section 32 did not explicitly prohibit the legislature from reconsidering bills at other times, the Missouri Supreme Court found that “the amendment stripped the legislature of its power to reconsider bills at its convenience.” Pestka, 493 S.W.3d at 410. The Court went on to consider subsequent amendments which provided that if the governor vetoed a bill near (or after) the end of the prior legislative session, the general assembly must convene in September “for the sole purpose of considering bills returned by the governor.” Id. at 410–11. The case turned on whether the governor returning a bill late enough to trigger a veto session entitled the legislature to also consider other bills vetoed by the governor that were not late enough themselves to trigger a veto session. The Court held that even without language expressly prohibiting the reconsideration of other bills the legislature was confined to only addressing late-vetoed bills during veto session. Id. at 412. In other words, the Constitution proscribed bills that could be considered in a veto session and therefore prohibited consideration of other all bills in such session.

The Supreme Court’s prior finding that apportionment must be done only under Article III Sec. 45 (Pearson v. Koster, 359 S.W.3d 35, 38 (Mo. banc 2012)) is consistent with the title of that section as well. The section concerns “Congressional apportionment” and provides that the power rests with the general assembly only after certification of the number of representatives apportioned to Missouri is made following a census. See, State v. Rousseau, 34 S.W.3d 254 n6 (W.D.Mo. 2000) (titles can be an “aid to statutory interpretation... when construing the meaning of the provisions herein”).

So, the Supreme Court, the leading voice for the judiciary, the Governor, the leading voice for the executive, and a plain reading of Article III Section 45 all have reached the conclusion that Congressional reapportionment can only be done “when the number of representatives to which the state is entitled... is certified by the governor.” That was done in 2022 and, therefore, cannot be re-done until a new census causes a new certification of House seats, presumptively after the 2030 census.²

The Supreme Court in Pestka rejected the use of “Air Bud” rules for Constitutional interpretation.³ Sec. 45 proscribes the conditions for U.S. Congressional apportionment, meaning that it prohibits Congressional apportionment outside of the period immediately after the census outcome is certified.

ii. Article III, Section 10 does not apply to U.S. Congressional Redistricting.

The Supreme Court has already held that Art. III, Sec. 45 “sets out only three requirements for the redistricting of seats in Missouri for the United States House of Representatives.” Pearson v. Koster, 359 S.W.3d 35, 38 (Mo. banc 2012). The Governor recognized this in his Proclamation calling the legislature into extraordinary session, when he said: “WHEREAS, Article III, Section 45 of the Missouri Constitution authorizes the general Assembly to divide the state into districts for the United States House of Representatives.” (italics added). Thus, the two branches of government to speak on the issue agree that the legislature’s authority to redistrict necessarily runs through Art. III, Sec. 45, not Art. III, Sec. 10.

In debate, the Gentleman from District 100 argued that Sec. 10 covers not only state legislative districts but also U.S. Congressional districts because it uses the term “representative districts” and “apportionment”. The 1945 Constitution originally apportioned State Representative districts by county:

Apportionment of Representatives.—Until apportionment of the representatives can be made in accordance with this article, the house of representatives shall consist of one hundred fifty-four members apportioned among the several counties as follows: The County of Buchanan shall have three; the County of Greene shall have three; the County of Jackson shall have eleven; the County of Jasper shall have three; the County of St. Louis shall have eighteen, the County of St. Louis shall have seven, and each of the other counties shall have one.

Art. III, § 9 of the original 1945 Constitution.

State representative districts were apportioned, in a process that had been described in the immediately above Section 10, until an Amendment on January 14, 1966. In addition, the neighboring Sections of Article III also use the term “representative” solely in contexts that could only apply to state representatives, not federal representatives, so any plain reading of Section 10’s use of the term should be read in the context of state representatives as well. It is the only plausible reading where Section 9 describes state representative apportionment and Section 10 describes the “Basis of Apportionment”.

If the Representative from District 100 were correct, the outcome would remain the same. If Sections 7–10 of the Missouri Constitution did also refer to federal congressional districts, the authors of Section 45 expressly chose to ² The alternative reading, which the Governor and Supreme Court have rejected, is that Section 45 only limits the legislature in instances of Congressional apportionment following the certification of the outcome of a census, but allows the legislature the power to apportion at all other times. If that were true, it would also follow that the limits placed by Section 45’s (compactness, contiguous territory, equal populations, etc.) are only requirements of reapportionment after a census and not reapportionment at other times, since the text plainly subjects the general assembly to those requirements only in apportionments that follow the census. The legislature would be free to apportion districts unevenly, alphabetically, by height of resident, or however we please. If such a thing as a non-post-census Congressional apportionment existed, there are no rules for it in the Missouri Constitution, an absurd result Cf. Humane Soc’y of U.S. v. State, 405 S.W.3d 532, 537 (Mo. Banc 2013) (finding that constitutional interpretation producing an absurd result is unreasonable).

not include the language “from time to time, as public convenience may require” when it was adopted Section 45 and de-coupled (to the extent it ever was coupled) apportionment and redistricting of state house seats and federal Congressional seats. That the citizens of Missouri chose to exclude such language with respect to Congressional apportionment underscores that even to the extent that the legislature may have once had that right, it no longer does. Indeed, the intent of the modern § 45 appears to be to create strict rules for redistricting that would avoid then-recent chaos that led to Missouri having at-large congressional districts in 1933–35.

Finally, as the Missouri Supreme Court has held, the language in Art. III, Sec. 10 stating that “[s]uch districts may be altered from time to time as public convenience may require” does not allow for mid-census alterations of the districts even for state legislative seats. Preisler v. Doherty, 365 Mo. 460, 472 (Mo. banc 1955) (“Under the 1945 Constitution this provision for altering districts can no longer refer to the power of the Legislature because now it has no power of apportionment of either senators or representatives.”)(emphasis added). Therefore, even if Section 10 applied to both state and federal representative districts, it does not permit redistricting here.

Section 45 is the lone provision permitting the legislature to conduct Congressional apportionment as agreed by Governor Kehoe in his petition and the Supreme Court in Pearson v. Koster and it does not provide the legislature with a second bite at the apple. Having reapportioned congressional seats under the 2020 census, it cannot do so again.

- b. The process by which the Bill passed through this body violates the Missouri Constitution, and the Rules of the 103rd General Assembly.

The process was sufficiently flawed as to render the Bill unconstitutional.

- i. The Governor’s call was unconstitutional

The Governor is permitted to convene the general assembly by proclamation only “on extraordinary occasions.” The Governor presents two explanations, both of which are facially not “extraordinary occasions”. The first is that the existing maps “may be vulnerable to a legal challenge under the Voting Rights Act and the Fourteenth Amendment.” The Governor’s pearl-clutching concern for the Voting Rights Act and the Fourteenth Amendment is particularly unconvincing because: (1) there is no unresolved challenge to the previous maps; (2) there have already been two elections utilizing the existing maps; (3) the proposed new maps are publicly and clearly designed to likely result in a representative of color losing re-election in 2026; and (4) the proposed new maps were created and voted upon by the legislature without the data necessary to evaluate legality under the Voting Rights Act and the Fourteenth Amendment.

The Governor’s second assertion is similarly unconvincing in that he asserts that “our congressional delegation should reflect the values of Missourians”.

State legislative districts are drawn “in a manner that achieves ... partisan fairness” and has resulted in both chambers being comprised of roughly one-third of representatives being elected members of the Democratic party. In recent statewide elections, majorities of Missourians have voted for values such as abortion access and paid-sick leave only to have the Republican party veto Missourians’ values. Missourians have also voted for Democratic candidates approximately two-fifths of the time and Republican candidates approximately three-fifths of the time. Over 99% of the public testimony received from Missourians was in opposition to the Bill.

The Bill is intended to shift the state Congressional representation from one-quarter to one-eighth Democratic. The intent of the session is expressly not to present a congressional delegation that reflects the values of Missourians.⁴

Instead, this special session was called merely to appease the sitting president of the United States, who called this “a very Special Session ... that will give the incredible people of Missouri the tremendous opportunity to elect an additional MAGA Republican⁵ in the 2026 Midterm Election – A HUGE VICTORY for our America First Agenda.”⁶ The Republicans in the legislature agree it was called to appease the President. “The Missouri Freedom Caucus called for a special session on congressional redistricting over a month ago. We have your back @POTUS @WhiteHouse @JDVance!”⁷

There is no “extraordinary occasion”, only a DC power-grab.

- ii. The House began the 2025 2nd Extraordinary Session and conducted business without the Constitutionally required quorum.

The Missouri Constitution is very specific in its requirements for the enactment of bills. These requirements must be strictly followed for a bill to pass the constitutional test of valid passage.⁸

Art. III Sect. 20 states that “A majority of the elected members of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business”. On September 3, the Extraordinary Session commenced and the Bill was First Read. On September 4, the Bill was Second Read and referred to the Special Committee on Redistricting. In addition, on September 4, the General Assembly had a prayer and recited the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. The Journal reflects the lack of quorum on both of those days. On both of those days members on the floor noted the absence of a quorum but were not recognized.⁹

“When a legislative journal shows affirmatively that an essential constitutional requirement has not been met, a law purportedly enacted in accordance with the Constitution may be shown to be invalid.” State v. O’Toole, 673 S.W.2d 25 (Mo banc 1923). Since the Journals reflect a lack of quorum on September 3 and 4, the House could not “do business” on those dates.¹⁰

While those currently sitting in the General Assembly are accustomed to “technical sessions” not requiring quorum, that has not always been the case — and the Constitution has not changed. From the ratification of the 1945 Constitution until 2001 the General Assembly’s practice was, consistent with the Constitutional requirements, to require quorum to begin a session. While the General Assembly subsequently changed its practice, it has been in violation of the Constitution in so doing, particularly here, where the lack of quorum has been noted in the Journal and on the floor.¹¹ It is “improper and dangerous” for the legislature to adopt procedures less rigorous than those required by the Constitution. Power v. McCormack, 395 U.S. 486, 533 (1969) (quoting James Madison speaking at the United States Constitutional Convention).

The only remaining issue is whether the opening of the extraordinary session or the reading of bills constitutes the doing of business. These actions were included in the House Journal in a “legislative day” specifically intended for the purpose of reading the Bill. Moreover, Rule 2 of the House of Representatives 103rd General Assembly clearly identifies that “introduction of petitions” (such as the Governor’s petition), the “Introduction and first reading of House Joint Resolutions”, the “Introduction and first reading of House Bills”, and the “Second reading of House Bills, Joint Resolutions, and Concurrent Resolutions” as part of the “Order of Business”.

⁶ Posting by the President of the United States on the social media site “Truth Social”

⁷ Posting by the Missouri Freedom Caucus (“@MOFreedomCaucus”) on social media platform X (formerly Twitter) on August 21, 2025.

⁸ The bill must also be free of substantive defects, which are discussed separately.

¹¹ See “Speaker’s formula for session draws fire”, St. Louis Post Dispatch, Sept. 6, 2001 (quoting Rep. John Griesheimer (R-Washington) “You can’t have a meeting until you have a quorum, and we are not going to have a quorum...”).

The convening of a session, introduction of the Governor’s petition, first reading of bills and second reading of bills are unquestionably subsumed within “do[ing] business”, as is the Pledge and prayer. Accordingly, the absence of a quorum renders the House’s special session, and the Bill’s progress through the House, unconstitutional.

Best regards,

Joe Engler
Chief Clerk
Missouri House of Representatives
Missouri State Capitol
Jefferson City, MO 65101

Dear Mr. Engler:

Pursuant to Article III, Section 30 of the Missouri Constitution, I object to the signing of House Bill No. 1 in the 103rd General Assembly, 2nd Extraordinary Session as a violation of Article III, Section 20 and Article III, Section 45 of the Missouri Constitution.

Article III, Section 20 of the Missouri Constitution states:

“A majority of the elected members of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business.”

On Wednesday, September 3, 2025, First Day of the Second extraordinary Session of the First Regular Session of the 103rd General Assembly, only 74 members were present of the required 82 members needed to establish a quorum. Administrative and Regular business were conducted in the absence of a quorum. Members of the House of Representatives attempted to point of order on the floor but were not recognized.

On Thursday, September 4, 2025, Second Day of the Second extraordinary Session of the First Regular Session of the 103rd General Assembly, only 81 members were present of the required 82 members needed to establish a quorum. Administrative and Regular business were conducted in the absence of a quorum. Members of the House of Representatives attempted to point of order on the floor but were not recognized.

On Friday, September 5, 2025, Third Day of the Second extraordinary Session of the First Regular Session of the 103rd General Assembly, only 69 members were present of the required 82 members needed to establish a quorum. Administrative and Regular business were conducted in the absence of a quorum. Members of the House of Representatives attempted to point of order on the floor but were not recognized. Furthermore, the Rules-Legislative committee convened at 9 a.m. to discuss this bill, but it was not referred to this committee from the floor until the whole House convened at 10 a.m.

On Sunday, September 7, 2025, Fourth Day of the Second extraordinary Session of the First Regular Session of the 103rd General Assembly, only 76 members were present of the required 82 members needed to establish a quorum. Administrative business was conducted in the absence of a quorum. Members of the House of Representatives attempted to point of order on the floor but were not recognized.

Rule 2 of the Rules of the House of Representatives 103rd general assembly, adopted on January 14, 2025, and which were never suspended, outlines the correct order of business:

Rule 2. (1) Administrative Order of Business. The first of each day, after the House is called to order, shall be employed as follows unless otherwise ordered by the House:

- (a) Introduction of petitions, memorials, remonstrances, and resolutions.
- (b) Introduction and first reading of House Joint Resolutions.

- (c) Introduction and first reading of House Bills.
- (d) First reading of Senate Joint Resolutions and Bills.
- (e) Second reading of House Bills, Joint Resolutions, and Concurrent Resolutions.
- (f) Second reading of Senate Bills, Joint Resolutions, and Concurrent Resolutions.
- (g) Reports of regular standing committees.
- (h) Reports of special standing committees.
- (i) Messages from the Senate.
- (2) Regular Order of Business. At the close of the administrative order of business, the Speaker or any member may call for the regular order of business. The administrative order of business may be dispensed with by unanimous consent of the House at any time. The regular order of business shall be employed as follows unless otherwise ordered by the House:
 - (a) Prayer.
 - (b) Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag.
 - (c) Reading and approval of the Journal of the previous day's session.
 - (d) Bills, reports, and other business on the table.
 - (e) House Joint Resolutions to be perfected and printed.
 - (f) House Bills to be perfected and printed.
 - (g) Third reading of House Joint Resolutions and Concurrent Resolutions.
 - (h) Third reading of House Bills.
 - (i) Messages from the Senate.
 - (j) Third reading of Senate Joint Resolutions and Concurrent Resolutions.
 - (k) Third reading of Senate Bills.
 - (l) Adoption of petitions, memorials, remonstrances, and resolutions.
 - (m) Reports of subcommittees.
 - (n) Such other orders of business as deemed necessary pursuant to law.

These rules were never suspended for the second extraordinary session of the First Regular Session of the 103rd General Assembly. Administrative Business was conducted without unanimous consent of the dispensation of Rule 2. My written objection to the rules violations, and conducting business in absence of a quorum was submitted to the Assistant Clerk on September 9th, 2025.

Article III, Section 45 of the Missouri Constitution states:

“When the number of representatives to which the state is entitled in the House of the Congress of the United States under the census of 1950 and each census thereafter is certified by the governor, the general assembly shall by law divide the state into districts corresponding with the number of representatives to which it is entitled, which districts shall be composed of contiguous territory as compact and as nearly equal in population as may be.”

Missouri’s congressional maps were redrawn most recently in 2022 after months of deliberation and debate. There has not been a census certified by the governor since the 2020 census was conducted.

This extraordinary session, business was conducted in the absence of a quorum. There has not been a census certified since these congressional districts were redrawn 3 short years ago. This violates provisions of The Missouri State Constitution which we took an oath to uphold.

Furthermore, this extraordinary session was called under the pretense of representing Missouri values. While not a constitutional objection, I have a personal objection to that statement. As a life-long Missourian, I know that Missouri does not value cheaters.

For Missouri,

/s/ Wick Thomas
State Representative, District 19

SIGNING OF HOUSE BILL

All other business of the House was suspended while HB 1 was read at length and was signed by the Speaker Pro Tem to the end that the same may become law.

CONSTITUTIONAL OBJECTIONS

Representative Thomas offered objections to HCS HJR 3, which were appended to the bill.

Chief Clerk
Missouri House of Representatives
Missouri State Capitol
Jefferson City, MO 65101

Dear Mr. Engler:

Pursuant to Article III, Section 30 of the Missouri Constitution, I object to the signing of House Committee Substitute for House Joint Resolution No. 3 (HCS HJR 3) in the 103rd General Assembly, 2nd Extraordinary Session as a violation of Article III, Section 20 of the Missouri Constitution.

Article III, Section 20 of the Missouri Constitution states:

On Wednesday, September 3, 2025, First Day of the Second extraordinary Session of the First Regular Session of the 103rd General Assembly, only 74 members were present of the required 82 members needed to establish a quorum. Administrative and Regular business were conducted in the absence of a quorum. Members of the House of Representatives attempted to point of order on the floor but were not recognized.

On Thursday, September 4, 2025, Second Day of the Second extraordinary Session of the First Regular Session of the 103rd General Assembly, only 81 members were present of the required 82 members needed to establish a quorum. Administrative and Regular business were conducted in the absence of a quorum. Members of the House of Representatives attempted to point of order on the floor but were not recognized.

On Friday, September 5, 2025, Third Day of the Second extraordinary Session of the First Regular Session of the 103rd General Assembly, only 69 members were present of the required 82 members needed to establish a quorum. Administrative and Regular business were conducted in the absence of a quorum. Members of the House of Representatives attempted to point of order on the floor but were not recognized.

On Sunday, September 7, 2025, Fourth Day of the Second extraordinary Session of the First Regular Session of the 103rd General Assembly, only 76 members were present of the required 82 members needed to establish a quorum. Administrative business was conducted in the absence of a quorum. Members of the House of Representatives attempted to point of order on the floor but were not recognized.

Rule 2 of the Rules of the House of Representatives 103rd general assembly, adopted on January 14, 2025, and which were never suspended, outlines the correct order of business:

Rule 2. (1) Administrative Order of Business. The first of each day, after the House is called to order, shall be employed as follows unless otherwise ordered by the House:

- (a) Introduction of petitions, memorials, remonstrances, and resolutions.
- (b) Introduction and first reading of House Joint Resolutions.
- (c) Introduction and first reading of House Bills.
- (d) First reading of Senate Joint Resolutions and Bills.
- (e) Second reading of House Bills, Joint Resolutions, and Concurrent Resolutions.
- (f) Second reading of Senate Bills, Joint Resolutions, and Concurrent Resolutions.
- (g) Reports of regular standing committees.
- (h) Reports of special standing committees.
- (i) Messages from the Senate.
- (2) Regular Order of Business. At the close of the administrative order of business, the Speaker or any member may call for the regular order of business. The administrative order of business may be dispensed with by unanimous consent of the House at any time. The regular order of business shall be employed as follows unless otherwise ordered by the House:
 - (a) Prayer.
 - (b) Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag.
 - (c) Reading and approval of the Journal of the previous day's session.
 - (d) Bills, reports, and other business on the table.
 - (e) House Joint Resolutions to be perfected and printed.
 - (f) House Bills to be perfected and printed.
 - (g) Third reading of House Joint Resolutions and Concurrent Resolutions.
 - (h) Third reading of House Bills.
 - (i) Messages from the Senate.
 - (j) Third reading of Senate Joint Resolutions and Concurrent Resolutions.
 - (k) Third reading of Senate Bills.
 - (l) Adoption of petitions, memorials, remonstrances, and resolutions.
 - (m) Reports of subcommittees.
 - (n) Such other orders of business as deemed necessary pursuant to law.

These rules were never suspended for the second extraordinary session of the First Regular Session of the 103rd General Assembly. Administrative Business was conducted without unanimous consent of the dispensation of Rule 2. My written objection to the rules violations, and conducting business in absence of a quorum was submitted to the Assistant Clerk on September 9th, 2025.

This extraordinary session, business was conducted in the absence of a quorum and out of order of the Rules of the House of Representatives. This violates provisions of the Missouri State Constitution which we took an oath to uphold and the Rules of the House which were not dispensed with by unanimous consent.

Initiative petitions are one of Missourian's only opportunities to participate directly in the legislative process. In addition to the constitutional violations, this HJR does not reflect Missouri values.
